The poster is for the ENCORE project. It features a green logo with an hourglass and the word 'Encore' in the top right. The title is in Lithuanian, discussing the strengthening of social resilience by revealing the mechanism of the link between ecological stress and environmentally friendly use. Below the title, the word 'ENCORE' is written in large red letters. The project leader is prof. dr. Rita Žukauskienė, and the executors are dr. Audra Balundė and dr. Aistė Bakaitytė-Bagdonė. Logos for LMT (Lithuanian Science Council) and MRU (Mykolas Romeris University) are at the bottom, along with funding information from the Lithuanian Science Council.

- Unload physically
- Compete
- Get the prize which was also the solution of climate change
- Learn more about / witness the examples of climate change

The game was fun, but it was expensive

Hints – telling the travel story, places – only for hiding

Have you ever tried sleeping compartments in the trains? We've tried them few times travelling from Budapest in Hungary to Bucharest in Romania and from Budapest to Warsaw.

How many people could sleep in such compartment?
Where in the campus same number of people live in one room and the floor has the same number?

Keliaujant traukiniais galima pamatyti gerokai daugiau!
Čia - mūsų kelionės į Burgasą, Bulgarijoje maršrutas!

Kiek užsienio šalių aplankėme turėdami tikslą pasiekti laukinės gamtos stovyklą Burgase?
