AI and Casting Decision

In movie making is all about the MONEY. Therefore, is no surprise that casting directors are now using the likes of AI platforms like Cinelytic.com to make decisions on the success of films based on casting. Cinelytic's TalentScores™, ranks talent by their economic impact across the film industry, including by media type, genre, and key territories.

OMO

Omo Blue is an action-packed, suspenseful film about a fiercely protective woman. Though she cares deeply for her people, past experiences make her more inclined to support men over women. Her rugged demeanor often leads others to mistake her for violent, when she is compassionate and driven by a strong sense of justice. She stands firmly against injustice, advocating for fairness and equality for all. With a gripping storyline, this movie promises to keep audiences captivated.
