

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

For Patients & Referring Physicians

Dr. Leah Marsh, MS

1. How do I refer a patient to Dr. Leah Marsh?

- You may call the office directly or fax a referral with relevant records. We prioritize timely scheduling and coordination with referring providers.

2. What types of patients should be referred to Dr. Marsh?

Dr. Marsh specializes in:

- Complex pelvic masses
- Known or suspected gynecologic cancers
- Abnormal or high-risk biopsies
- Genetic cancer risk or family history of cancer
- Surgical consultation for ovarian, uterine, cervical, or endometrial concerns

3. What is the average wait time for new patients?

- Most patients are seen within 7–10 days, often sooner for urgent referrals. Please indicate urgency when scheduling.

4. Will I be updated about my patient's care?

- Yes. Our team provides prompt clinical updates via the patient portal, and ensures referring physicians stay informed at every step of the patient's care.

5. Does Dr. Marsh participate in tumor boards or multidisciplinary care?

- Yes. She collaborates regularly with a team of specialists and participates in tumor boards to guide evidence-based, personalized care.

6. Are second opinions or surgical consults welcome?

- Absolutely. Dr. Marsh frequently provides second opinions for complex cases and is happy to collaborate on shared care models.

7. Who should I contact for records or clinical coordination?

- Please contact our medical assistant or front office team at either location for patient records, appointment coordination, or specific clinical questions.

1. Is Dr. Marsh still seeing patients?

Yes. Dr. Leah Marsh continues to care for patients at both her Glendale and Beverly Hills locations.

2. Why is LACN changing its name?

The name LACN (Los Angeles Cancer Network) no longer reflects our broader mission or geographic reach. Our new name allows us to grow, expand services, and better represent all the care we provide—including hematology, surgical services, and prevention.

4. Will my treatment plan change under the new name?

No. Your care, your doctor, your treatment plan, and your insurance coverage remain the same.

5. Are my medical records still with Dr. Marsh?

Yes. All records are securely retained and fully accessible. Continuity of care is guaranteed.

6. What insurance plans are accepted?

We continue to accept all major insurance plans. For specifics, contact our office directly.

7. Where does Dr. Marsh see patients?

Glendale Adventist Medical Center

- 1505 Wilson Terrace, Suite 150
Glendale, CA 91206

Beverly Hills Century City Medical Plaza

- 2080 Century Park E, Suite 1005
Los Angeles, CA 90067

8. What are Dr. Marsh's office hours?

To schedule a consultation or confirm Dr. Marsh's hours, call 818.484.8611.

