American Saints with Professor Lisa Lickona

Dive into the lives and spirituality of eight extraordinary men and women:

Isaac Jogues, Kateri

Tekakwitha, Junipero Serra, Elizabeth Ann Seton, Damien of Molokai, Katharine Drexel, Blessed Solanus Casey, and Blessed Stanley Rother. How did these men and women encounter Christ in America? And what can they teach us about seeking Christ in our own time and place?

First Session:

Tuesday, July 22, 2025
6:00 PM - 7:30 PM (PST)

July 06, 2025

Sadao Watanabe (1913-1996) Five Apostles, 1958, Katazome, stencil print on Momigami paper.

This stencil print has a Scripture text attached to it: Matthew 10:16 "Behold, I am sending you like sheep in the midst of wolves; so be as shrewd as serpents and simple as doves."

In Luke's Gospel, they are sent out as "lambs among wolves," followed with the instructions on how they are to go and how they are to proclaim the Good News. They are to call down peace upon the household they enter. If they are open to the peace shared it will remain with them, if not it will return to them. This is as much to say that each of the 72 going out must have peace within themselves as they go, a peace they have through Christ.

In the image, five figures seem to be engaged in conversation in a paradise setting. The setting is the peace they have from their faith in the Good News they have received from Jesus. That peace is an attitude through which they are to deal with the world they are going out to share that same peace with. To announce Good News, to share peace, presumes that you possess it yourself and live from it. These five apostles gain a lived sense of this peace from the community with each other that they maintain and are sustained by.

We, too, are sent by our Baptism to go out and share this peace with the world. We are able to do so because we have found that lived-peace as members of the Body of Christ, sustained and deepened by the Eucharist we participate in and share.

Eucharist is our touch with Paradise. It sustains and directs our journeys through joy and sorrow, success and failure, life and death. Then, Christ works through us.
