8 The Interdependent October 2003

Any young people are very welcome to contribute to the next issue of the Interdependent: articles, photos, drawings, jokes or any other items would be good. If you have anything that you would like to appear, please send it to me at juliangb@ntlworld.com or 109 Holmes Avenue, Hove, East Sussex, BN3 7LF. Emails are preferred to written items, to save me having to type it all in!

Julian

"He who bruises his fingers whils to drumming on a lectern is a true inspiration to music"

Rick

Brewin
2003

Next year's YAG Social is going to be held in Orpington, Kent, during the February half term. Orpington is very near to London, so there will be plenty of things to do, as well as good access from around the country.

Booking forms will be sent out nearer the time to all AIF young people of ages 15+. Please help by returning the form promptly if you want to come (and who wouldn't)!

George (YAG Sec)

Don't forget the YAG website — www.ifyag.org.uk!
Interdep' back issues, news snippets, our massive photo archive and other info is al available at your leisure!
Go online for updates on all the notes on this page.
Also, check out the new Interchurch Families Forum at www.ifyag.org.uk/forum. Ric

Soul Survivor in London, Summer 2004

Soul Survivor supports the efforts made by London's churches to serve and witness to the people of Greater London, by bringing thousands of young people to 12 days of co-ordinated activity established in partnership with local churches, from 26 July 2004 to 6 August 2004.

It will run as two 5 day missions, Week A (26-30 July) and Week B (02-06 August), sandwiching a SOULINTHECITY weekend, 31 July-01 August. Accommodation will be in a number of 'tent cities' within Local Centres. In the mornings delegates will have times for worship, teaching and ministry. In the afternoons and evenings they will go to designated projects, like reclaiming parkland from rubbish, or cleaning graffiti from a shopping parade, within their Local Centre. Evening celebrations will be open to contacts made during the afternoon projects.

George Walsh is trying to organise a group to go to Soul in the City / Soul Survivor 2004. If you are interested, then please contact George, dippydumping@yahoo.co.uk. The events are going to be very popular, so you need to register your interest as soon as possible, so that a group can be booked early.

More information is on the Soul Survivor website at www.soulsurvivor.co.uk George

The Interdependent Issue 24, published by the Association of Interchurch Families (GB) October 2003. Editor: Julian Granger-Bevan, juliangb@ntlworld.com; Co-Editor & Design: Richard James Lander. Articles: Martin Ash, Julian Granger-Bevan, Stephen Granger-Bevan, Rachel Docherty, Luara Finch, George Walsh, Helena Mayles, and John Nugent. Photos: Jen Brewin, Keith Lander, Ric Lander, George Walsh. Thanks to: Keith Lander, Bev Hollins

Copyright © AIF 2003 Reg. charity no. 283811. Association of Interchurch Families, Inter-Church House, 35-41 Lower Marsh, London SE1 7SA. info@interchurchfamilies.org.uk Tel: 020 7523 2152

interdependent October 2003 * Issue 24 Swanwick • Roma • Cardiff • News Www.ifyag.org.uk/interdep Published by the Association of Interchurch Families

Editorial no.24

Hello, and welcome to the first edition of the Interdependent with me as co-editor. A lot has happened in the world of Interchurch youth since the last Interdependent, I am sure everyone else like me enjoyed both the Swanwick and Rome conferences (If you weren't there then you won't have done!) - There are articles to tell you what happened if you can't remember...

Plus there is an article about the Considering Confirmation Weekend, which was run for the 11-17 age range, looking at confirmation without the barriers of a specific denomination. The YAG social 2003, which is halfway point in the year for YAG to remember each other's names, is in as well

Of course the biggest change this year in the 'youth of AIF' has been the loss of Bev as the Youth Officer, who has now moved on. I asked Bev a few questions about being Youth Officer and what she's doing now, so look out for that as well. We hope her career in the ministry is a successful one.

Enjoy reading!

Julian Granger-Bevan juliangb@ntlworld.com

Co-ed number 2 here! Firstly I'd like to say a massive thank you to everyone who contributed to this issue; I think it's one of the best ever! I hope we've done our predecessors Sarah and Peter proud.

Lastly, I'd like to mention that I really enjoyed putting this issue together, I hope less so than you enjoy reading it (if you see what I mean).

Ric Lander ric.lander@btopenworld.com

Beyond YAG: Rev. Bev Hollins

Julian Granger-Bevan

Lasked (the now Reverend) Bev Hollins a few questions about what she did as Youth Officer, and what she is doing now.

-How long have you been YO for?

I started the paid job in October 1997, but I have been involved with the youth group since the Birmingham Conference, where I was the networking co-ordinator.

-Roughly how many young people have you seen pass through your sessions in that time?

(Long err!) Probably about 45-50, because there were the oldest people like the Ellen and Sarah Bards who have now moved on and the younger people like the Rachel Dochertys and the Hannah Woolmers who are just entering the YAG age range.

-Have you met many important people through your job in AIF?

Yes, I was the AIF youth representative on the enabling group of CTE, and a couple of times of CTBI. I got to know the now Cardinal Cormac quite well, when he was still bishop of Arundel and Brighton, as well as meeting George Carey and the Free Church Moderator, and most of the other presidents of AIF.

-What has been your most memorable experience in the YO job?

The Confirmation Weekends (two of them), the YAG Socials especially sleeping on a hard floor in a scout hut in London, and Peter Vernon eating too much pizza. (continued overleaf)

My ecumenical experience of L'Arche Laura Finch

lic as this is where its roots lie.

too worried about where I would be enth person in our house went to a thodox Church. going or where I would be asked to go. We went to the Anglican Church.

It was a great little church with a real family atmosphere and a work. family atmosphere and our group was welcomed as though we were regular members. I was later to find out that one was welcome. We would have community prayer nights and prayers in our homes every evening. I never we weren't and that it was only tradi- cause for the first time I began to retionally the home of one of the ladies spect the Catholic Mass in a way I with a disability. I liked the church, had not before. I had once thought the service and the minister and made the liturgy to be monotonous and just a mental note that I would like to at-read out loud with not much passion. tend that church if I were given the I can't really describe what it turned opportunity. The next Sunday we all into for me but it was something a lot n September 10th 2002 I went to the local Catholic Church. I more meaningful than it had been committed myself for 9 lived with a Catholic Sister and three and I really felt the need to go and of the other people with a disability celebrate the Eucharist. I think bemonths to the l'Arche commu- were Catholic so I found out that this fore going to l'Arche I only felt the nity in Edmonton, Alberta, was the church I would be spending need to worship and receiving com-Canada. Before doing so I most of my Sundays in. This church munion was not quite so important. knew little about the philosophies of l'Arche and about its was different but also very welcoming. It had a large congregation and Church with one of the ladies and I there were many children. I enjoyed really enjoyed going there because it Christian message. I expected the worship here and found that cele- was a much more intimate service much of it to be Roman Catho- brating mass in a different country being a smaller church. I learnt that helped me link with home a bit. Now l'Arche encouraged each person to I felt as if I was back in the same attend their own church and that peo-On my first Sunday in l'Arche I was situation as at home. I liked both ple did. My friend, a German assisinterested to see what would happen. Anglican and Catholic churches and tant even used to go to the German Having been brought up in two dif- for different reasons I wanted to be- church in the city. And another Roferent Christian churches I was not come a member of both! The sev- manian friend would attend the Or-people, such as the night prayers at Methodist and Baptist. Swanwick, where they had a chance to speak by themselves.

Beyond YAG: Rev. Bev Hollins (continued)

-What was the best moment of the sented in the LEP?

YO, any regrets?

loved it. It was a great privilege to although it needs harder work. work with the young people.

job, instead of part-time, which is a including bits on Confirmation. big difference. The church is a Local as well.

The acts of worship led by the young Catholics, Church of England, URC, strange at first, but works in the end.

-Is the LEP better than a 'normal' role of 'Youth Chaplain'? church?

-What will your job involve?

I am part of the ministry of 'Christ Anglican Church calls a Curate), so I the Cornerstone' in Milton Keynes. will be leading worships, preaching On September the 28th, I was or- and doing pastoral jobs. It will also -How can the young people of AIF dained as a deacon. This is a full time include children's and youth work, support you in what you are doing Ecumenical Partnership (LEP), so it -Do you have any big career hopes touch. combines some of the AIF principles (Such as Archbishop of Canter- Bev Hollins September 2003 bury!)?

-Which Denominations are repre- No, I just want to go where God wants me to, so I have no real ambi-There are people who are Roman tions. What God does is sometimes

-What do you do now in the AIF

It was a self-invented role, because I -Are you glad you took the job of Yes, it lives out the vision of AIF, didn't really want to leave YAG. It is and is what Jesus prayed for. It is basically a pastoral role, where I am a No, I'm very glad I took the job, I also a better use of church resources, friend to YAG and I can link YAG to Christian Unity through confirmation. I am available to YAG as a shoulder to lean on, or to help with -What are you doing now job-wise? I am a Team Minister (or what the worship. I can also act as a bridge to now?

By praying for me and keeping in

Considering Confirmation?

Rachel Docherty

The Confirmation Weekend was designed for young people considering confirmation. There were three The weekend ended with a very quiet, small and personal mentors there, Bev Hollins, Martin Reardon and Mgr. Chris Lightbound. The weekend was split up into sessions with a different topic to do with confirmation for the service we hung these on to a branch offering our each. Helena Mayles also joined the group to share with them her own experience of confirmation.

ask questions and then have them answered. The aim of helped me in my journey to making a decision. the weekend was to eventually help the young people try to make a decision about confirmation. Whether they wanted to be confirmed, affirmed or nothing at all. I

"Reformed Baptist Church of God."

"Me too! Are you Reformed Baptist Church of God, reformation of 1879, or Reformed Baptist Church of God, reformation of 1915?"

"Reformed Baptist Church of God, reformation of 1915!"

To which I said, "Die, heretic scum!" and pushed him off!

(thanks to John Nugent)

found it very useful and informative and many of my questions were answered. I now know that confirmation in to one church is not the only option for people who belong to two different churches. There is always the possibility of affirmation and having both your priests give you a blessing.

It was a very relaxed and helpful weekend. Although there were a lot of sessions there was also free time during the day and the day would end with the evening being free to be able to relax with your new found friends!

service. Early on in the day everybody had written prayers on to different shaped and coloured paper leaves. During prayers up to God, while music played in the back-

Although at the moment I still haven't decided whether During the course of the weekend the whole group got to or not I want to be confirmed, I do feel that this weekend

YAG Committee Update

There have been many changes to the YAG Committee, as the "older" generation of YAG have stepped down and the "younger" have stepped into their places.

The new committee members are: Helena Mayles (me!) as Chair, George Walsh as Secretary, Julia Docherty as main Committee Rep and Julian Granger-Bevan and Ric Lander as Interdep' Editors. A big thanks to Mel, Jane, Sarah and Mark for all their hard work. If you have any queries or thoughts regarding YAG please do not hesitate to e-mail me at physco45@hotmail.com,

Love and prayers, Helena xx

Swanwick 2003

Martin Ash reports (continued)

that followed wandered off subject ing strong at table tennis... spectacularly, but I certainly learnt a lot about other people's experiences. The next morning saw a lot of sleepy Powell playing hosepipes at Swan-I think we concluded that the Catho-people at breakfast and quite a lot of wick for the next nine years, we had lic Church does everything too noise in Catholic Mass, as usual two possible world's worst records: early...and we're looking for a kind of Then on to Matt Stuart's talk, offi- Stephen for a very erudite joke, and EU-type unity of the churches(!).

I was walking across a bridge "Well ... are you religious or "Me too! Are you Episcopalian one day, and I saw a man atheist?" standing on the edge, about to

"Why shouldn't I?" he said.

I said, "Well, there's so much to live for!"

"Like what?"

of people through the whole confer- hearsed for. This was very effective, EARLY! and were at the main AGM ence who knew my name that I did- as well, as an eye-opener (I don't before we were called for. Due conn't know (have the badges gone out know the Baptist Church at all); gratulations to the almost all-new of fashion?), most people were maybe I can look forward to a URC Committee. At least this year we awake by the time Bev interviewed Eucharist in the next couple of didn't walk in to the words Laura, the Mayles and myself on years? "Social time" said the pro- 'education, education, education', confirmation. Discussion groups gramme; at 1 a.m., Pete was still go- which seemed a bit nightmarish last cially labelled the highlight of the myself for blues singing. Moving was unnecessary as it and then watched peo- unable to wait until February...

Music kicked in, as it ple trying to learn to play croquet (I normally does for me at still do not understand it!). YAG this point, with an AGM had an historic event - despite hour's rehearsal fol- starting fifteen minutes late (Jane had lowed immediately by difficulty getting rid of somebody However, judging from the number playing for the service we hadn't re- else's baby) we finished five minutes year. The Concert was the next big item. As well as the threat of Mark weekend. Actually, that swiftly on...

> was anyway. As always We were nearly all in the Plenary seems to happen with (exceptions shall remain unnamed). us, it was something of This was perhaps most notable for a race against the clock. being in fact four successive discusbut there were certainly sions, none of which had enough many important things time (sound familiar?). I didn't nosaid - and what a relief tice any sleepers this year, suggesting to see a practical, down- no one stayed up all Sunday night to-earth approach to maybe sense is taking over! The final Christian living, I think Eucharist of the weekend featured everyone would agree, everyone they could fit in, as normal, While other people and as is traditional finished with the spent their free after- loudest even vaguely appropriate noon hunting for giant song the organisers could think of draughts sets or trying that hadn't been used before (even to learn to play croquet, without any drums!). All of which I attempted to prepare sent us on our way home, heads full for two concert items, of a thousand different ideas - and > > or Baptist?"

"Baptist."

"Me too! Are you Christian or "Wow! Me too! Are you Baptist Church of God or Baptist Church of the Lord?"

"Baptist Church of God."

"Me too! Are vou Original Baptist Church of God, or are you Reformed Baptist Church of God?"

jump off. I immediately ran "Religious." over and said, "Stop! Don't do Jewish?"

"Christian."

"Me too! Are you Catholic or Protestant?"

"Protestant."

my own ideas to the Catherine Garsed worship and liturgy. I think l'Arche is an excellent place for an 'interchurch child' to be unity between the Cardiff Christian churches. I really enjoyed being part of a community I could not have wished YAG! for a better GAP year in which to learn and

felt as if I would be treated differently and I twas never scared to add The YAG Social, Cardiff

Friday 21st - Sunday 23rd February and experience the 2003, Cyncoed Methodist Church, n one dark evening in late then left after leaving a well-deserved dona-Winter the beautiful city of tion for the tremendous work they do there. and building up amazing relationships with Cardiff was invaded by one of the those who I lived with. most powerful forces on Earth

Most people arrived towards late aftergrow. There were noon/early evening and once the majority struggles and hard of people had arrived we sat down for a times but these were delicious tea, cooked by (if my memory definitely outweighed by the good times.

deficious tea, cooked by (if my memory serves me correctly) Jane and Mel. A few late arrivals appeared after tea, much to the delight of everyone gathered. The final line cheered up again. delight of everyone gathered. The final line-

> Garsed, Philip Garsed, Peter Vernon, Richard Ash, Sarah Mayles, Helena Mayles, Jane Smith, Ric Lander, Jen Brewin, Georgina lowed by some preparation for the service Hollins.

> > HUGE breakfast only too eager to help pleasant. and 4 volunteers got up bright and early down to the bay.

had a couple of group photos, before heading for the Light Ship. The 'Gulegong Light Ship 2000' is a mission to spread the light of Christ throughout the world. All of the workers onboard are voluntary and although the ship now lives in Cardiff Bay, the staff helps to run the Coffee Shop and keep the engines in order. We indulged in a quick coffee at the Coffee Shop on board

From the Light Ship we wandered into the city centre, where spirits were running high. due to the Rugby League match, between Wales and England at the Millennium Stadium. We had a quick look round the shops. before heading back for Cyncoed - the lovely little Methodist church at which we

The church was quite modern and had a Melanie Lander, Peter Sheehan, Catherine gym/sports hall, which proved very popular for skating in and for basketball.

> the following day. That night a few of the younger, possibly more foolish ones (yes I After a fairly comfort- was one of them!) decided to stay up late able night (the church and as a result ended up sleeping in the cold provided mats to kitchen. However this was an advantage for sleep on) and a tasty certain people who spent the night eating, (and in some cases leaving no food for the morning!

> *cough PETER The following morning a bunch of enthusicough*), also pro- astic but weary YAG members took part in vided kindly by the the morning worship at Cyncoed. Some of church, we set off for us contributed bidding prayers, while others Cardiff Bay. Once offered readings. Bev prepared a children's again the church was address and the service, as a whole was very > Overall the Cardiff Social was a fantastic (8:30!!!) to drive us all weekend for everyone involved and was hugely enjoyable. As my first YAG activity I thoroughly enjoyed it and look forward to The bay has recently many more to come! A big thank you goes undergone major re- to Bev for the organisation and also to the development, which community of Cyncoed, who provided us is continuing, so there with electricity and use of the building for was a lot going on. free and also gave transport and food. They We wandered around welcomed us very generously and made our the bay briefly and weekend enjoyable and successful.

Roma!

George Walsh

The Second World Gathering of Interchurch Families Thursday 24th -Monday 28th July 2003

In our first session of the 14+ four different countries - England, France, Austria and Canada using Our first session of the morning was three different languages. The adult sessions had simultaneous translasession we were quite nervous about break we had a Bible study and then crowded and there was a massive communicating with the others. Luckily Helene proved to be a wonderful translator and we all owe her several. After a break we had another session where we divided into our small groups led by Jen, Mark, Mel and Sarah. We soon discovered that school French doesn't quite prepare for theological discussion but we did our best. We had a quick tour of the site as well. After the session we practised the great YAG tradition - the human pyramid! This was followed by a conversation into the early hours and the discovery of my friend the espresso machine.

At some ungodly hour of the morning the alarm dragged me out of bed and I went down to breakfast. Still not quite awake I went down to the chapel for the first service. I'm not quite sure which language it was in, or which denomination was leading it, but the Communion was really nice because we sang Taize chants, that seemed to go across the language barriers. The next session started a little late, due to the service over-running and we had some discussion about life in an interchurch family in our small groups. After a break we had a afternoon session was craft-, bead- vigil.

tions but we didn't and before the God which was pretty cool. After the or both. Casto Gandolfo was very outside - in our groups we discussed Sunday was outings day, you could Christian life and relationships with either go to Casto Gandolfo. Rome.

> crush to get into the courtyard for the Angelus. The Pope had been unable to give Interchurch Families a private audience but he did mention us and gave us a message in French.

When everyone got back from Rome we did some frantic last minute preparation for the service, which went very well. We opened with a rousing We Are Marching', followed by a brilliant multi-lingual drama, which I cannot hope to explain using mere words. Basically it said that although jam and bread and butter are very nice by themselves (I wasn't sure about the butter but Pete appeared to like it) together they are even better - and this is true for the churches. continued opposite) work and tie-dye. I was mixing the The vigil started at nine with a small dye and so I ended up with one red Taize style service, and then I went to hand and one blue hand - it looked try and grab a couple of hours sleep like I had some weird and wonderful without much success! At 2 I was disease. Then we started to plan for ready for my 'shift' (I'd like to say the Sunday evening service - we split bright eyed and bushy tailed but...) into 4 groups, drama, dance, music The 4 prayer centres concentrated on and prayers. The music group had faith, the world, family and friends one problem; namely no guitar, and the Church. There was an ingroup, we met Kathy the leader, drums or piano, but placing our trust credible atmosphere and you could the other people and played some in our singing voices we choose some really feel God. A massive round of icebreakers to learn everyone's names.

There were about thirty of us, from Oceans 11, courtesy of Ric.

In our singing voices we choose some really too applause has to go to Laura for her careful planning and all-night mara-

Swanwick 2003

Interchurch Families National Conference, The Hayes

Saturday 23th-Monday 25th August

Martin Ash Reports: Stephen Granger-Bevan

A Blues Singer's View reports... A rriving in Derbyshire in sun, af- As has become usual, members of chapters of Daniel, he encouraged ter having left home in cloud A the Young Adults Group (YAG) YAG to consider the issues that are and spent an hour or so of the jour-split themselves between the main pro-faced at university, and the ways in ney in a cloud, seemed unusually sym-gramme and their own sessions at this which challenges can be turned to an bolic of what Swanwick has tended to year's AIF conference. We spent the advantage.

mean to me! Attractive pink lists for whole of the first afternoon with 'the Just as the main programme includes discussion groups enabled us to start adults' listening to the addresses and a business session, so does YAG's! working out who wasn't there (a lot of interviews about Christian initiation, people), although Pete's new pseudo-which introduced new concepts to nym of "Hannah Woolmer" didn't some of us, even though we had been steeped in 'interchurch family issues' make this any easier! First up, of course, some inimitable from birth. The differences between the timing of, and beliefs about, baptism in the free and established churches was discussed by the four speakers, and the experiences of members of AIF who had had particularly successful or problematic experiences were interviewed by Bev Hollins.

To me, as a member of YAG, it seems of us thought the waking-up effect of up by the impending first communion agree on a location for the YAG somaking loud animal noises was to or confirmation of their children. It is cial weekend in February 2004, and counter the sleep-inducing effect of the dogmatic denominational distinc- consider our involvement in AIF and listening to theologians discuss Christian initiation (not my view!). Catholics apart from other Christians, thermore, a committee was elected behind the denominational differences rangements for the social weekend. helped to explain why these circum-

Roma! (continued)

(continued overleaf)

times at Crusader camp, readings meetings the 14+ group was diswere read and prayers were said, and banded - sob, sob - and after a great we finished with a wonderful dance final service and lunch it was time to 'Faith, Hope and Love'.

floor. We ironed sheets to remove candle wax and returned various tee, for all their hard work in making the weekend what it was. large pot plants to their rightful homes. Then with promises of Mark gave a great address about his emails, phone calls, texts and future for goodbyes.

Monday had come too soon - we cleared up a scary number of sweet wrappers and coke bottles, trying to work around Ric and Kate who was at a still and the service. Thanks have to go to Kathy, Laura and of were still asleep in the middle of the course the PREPROMA Commitstances occur, and was generally considered to be of just as much interest to members of YAG as to 'the

The YAG sessions on the Sunday morning were independent of the main conference, and were led by Matt Stuart, of the Joshua Generation. Using examples in the first two that the greatest problems for Inter- Our AGM was used to decide upon Chris Bard ice-breaking. I think some church couples are often those thrown our theme for next year's conference, and Anglicans from members of Free to organise our speakers for next Churches. Hearing about the theology year's conference, and make the ar-

> YAG members have never been noted for their tendency to hurry to bed in the evenings, and the social side of this year's conference continued into the early morning, quite apart from taking up meal times, coffee breaks, and free time. Many members of YAG demonstrated their various talents in the concert on the Sunday evening, and retired to the Games Room in the small hours, where Hannah Woolmer found time to establish, and maintain, her dominance at table tennis.