Palm Sunday – YRA 2026

Barabbas was in prison for being part of a rebellion against the Romans. The name Barabbas means “son of the father.” He stood next to Jesus, the Son of God. The guilty one, Barabbas, was released, and the innocent one, Jesus, died in his place.

We are children of God, but we sometimes rebel against God by living according to our will rather than God’s will. Barabbas was rebelling against the authority of the Romans. We rebel against the authority of God when we sin. Thus, in that sense, we are also Barabbas. We are guilty, but like Barabbas, we have been set free, and Jesus, the innocent one, has died in our place.

Many people were hoping that Jesus would bring an end to the tyranny of the Roman Empire, but He did not. He came to bring an end to the tyranny of sin and Satan. They are far worse tyrants than the worst rulers in human history. Our sins cause problems in our homes, workplaces, schools, and neighborhoods. Yes, it is our fault that Jesus was scourged, and then nailed to the cross. However, on the other hand it was because of His great love and mercy that He freely chose to do that for us.

Similarly, Jesus did not bring an end to suffering. However, He showed us what to do with it. We offer it up as an act of love and a powerful prayer. Our prayer is powerful when our suffering is offered up. It’s something that most Christians still don’t understand 2,000 years after Jesus was crucified. We offer up our suffering for peace in the world, the conversion of sinners, for an end to abortion, for healing in our family, etc. When we unite our sufferings with the sufferings of Jesus on the cross, our prayer is powerful.

There’s a huge difference between someone who suffers and becomes bitter, miserable, and angry because of the suffering they are enduring, and someone who suffers, asks God for help, strength, courage, and peace, and offers up their suffering for the salvation of the world. The first feels alone, isolated, and abandoned. The second has God as a constant companion. The first wonders if God cares for them. The second thanks God for suffering and dying on the cross for their sins. The first becomes lost and hopeless. The second knows they are following in the footsteps of Jesus all the way to heaven. The first wonders why God is punishing them. The second knows that life is hard for everyone, and knows that Jesus entered into our world and suffered along with us. The suffering of the first person is leading to spiritual and emotional distress. The suffering of the second person is leading them to a deepening relationship with Jesus Christ, the Prince of Peace.

The crucifixion of Jesus revealed two things to us: First, God loves us so much that He died for us, and, second, sin is a horrible thing. The infinite love and mercy of God is far more powerful than all the sins that have been committed in the world by billions of people, and all the sins that will be committed in the future by billions of people. Let that sink in for a moment. That’s a massive amount of sin, yet God can forgive it all, and there is plenty of love and mercy leftover for each one of us.

The same love and mercy that Jesus revealed to us on the cross, is offered to all of us, no exceptions. When we allow that love and mercy into our lives, then we will know the healing and the freedom that love and mercy bestow. The evil one will tell you the lie that God can’t love you and God can’t forgive you. When those lies pop into your head, gaze upon a crucifix and you will see clearly that you are worth dying for and that God loves you.

I encourage you to take advantage of all the Holy Week activities and Masses, and please take the time to reflect on how our sin contributed to our Lord’s crucifixion, then go to Confession if you have not yet done that this Lent, and celebrate on Easter the fact that our sins do not have the last word. God’s love and mercy do.

Our Lord sacrificed His life for us. If you haven’t had a very good Lent, then finish strong during Holy Week by giving up something difficult, and offer up that sacrifice for several intentions to turn that sacrifice into a powerful prayer and an act of love. I hope to see all of you frequently this week at daily Mass, Holy Thursday, Good Friday, and Easter. The complete schedule is in the bulletin. Have a blessed Holy Week.
