Patient-187 went to Dr. Arthur Taylor at Nevada Orthopedic for surgery and a post-op appointment. Dr. Taylor did not check the patient's arm or hand and did not order physical therapy. Patient says "Why is he still operating when he cannot stop shaking? One of the assistants in the office told me that he (Dr. Taylor) has early signs of Parkinson's disease."

Patient-187 went to Dr. Arthur Taylor at Nevada Orthopedic for a post-op appointment.

My cast was taken off today.

The doctor should have stayed to check my hand and arm. He didn't.

I had to ask, firmly request, to have his P.A. check my arm and hand.

No therapy ordered either.

I found it very careless.

Why is he still operating when he cannot stop shaking? One of the assistants in the office told me he has early signs of Parkinson's??

Why in the world would the medical board still allow this?

I hope to God my arm and hand heal properly and everything is okay.
