Sunrise Hospital. Truly a medical waste land. This is where they send the doctors that barely pass their doctor's degree (medical degree).

Sunrise Hospital is in a gambling state, so when you go into this hospital, you're gambling with your life. Speaking of gambling, I believe these doctors got their degree at the Circus-Circus because they are definitely clowns.

I was transported to Sunrise Hospital from another hospital two hours away. I got to Sunrise about 8 p.m. Right around midnight, the doctor came to me and said they were not going to do the procedure and to go home. The hospital that sent me to Sunrise couldn't do the procedure. Why the heck didn't the clown doctor at Sunrise mention that before I was sent to Sunrise?

Anyway, the doctor that came to me at midnight wanted me to call someone to come and pick me up. This clown couldn't get it through his head, that I'm not going to call someone at midnight, 2 hrs away, and make them drive the dark mountain roads at that time of night. He was not happy about that and got all frustrated because he had to find a room for me to stay in.

Finally, at 4 a.m. I was put into a room. I didn't see another doctor until 6 pm that night.

This jack ass doctor tells me I must be discharged immediately, and he told me to call someone to pick me up. I had to laugh. I said it's 6:00 at night, and I'm not calling someone at this time and making them drive the dark mountain roads.

He wanted me gone immediately, so I asked him, "Why didn't you see me this morning if you wanted me out immediately?"

He got all stupid and frustrated and said to be out by 7 a.m. the next morning. I told him my ride would be here when they got here.

While I was there, the man in the room next to me was there 4 days before I got there. He was telling me he was waiting to see his doctor. I don't know what he was there for, but he was not doing well. He actually got dressed and got ready to walk out of the hospital, but a nurse talked him into staying, and she told him that his doctor would see him soon. I don't know if he finally saw his doctor because my ride showed up.

I believe these doctors are there just for their pay checks.

Just say NO to bullying and pressure by Sunrise Hospital.
