

“Haunted Science Lab” (Comedic)

Character: Casey, an easily spooked student

Setting: Talking to a friend after school

[Nervous energy, half joking]

So, I laughed when they said the science lab was haunted. I did. I even made a joke—“Ooooh, spooky goggles!” But then... weird stuff started happening.

First, the Bunsen burner lit itself. I didn’t even touch it. Then the skeleton—yes, the one hanging by the blackboard—moved. I’m not crazy, okay? It turned its head. Looked right at me.

And I swear I heard whispering coming from the bio cabinet. No one was there. Just frogs in jars and—ugh—pickled eyes or whatever.

So yeah. Laugh all you want. But tomorrow? I’m not going in there. I’ll take an F before I become ghost bait. Science can wait.
