MACKENZIE CAMP

The dining hall is quiet, the grass is getting long and the boat shelter project is complete. We had a great season at MacKenzie Camp this year. Our shoulder seasons were very busy with the spring return of 2 overnight school rentals and 3 school day trips. Post-camp has also been busy with the return of the Quilting retreat as well as several private rentals. This summer saw 173 bums in bunks, which was up by about 42. We are hopeful this upward trend will continue, and we will return to pre-pandemic numbers.

The summer was not without its challenges – including our issues finding a cook, an illness sweeping through our staff and a subsequent precautionary boil water notice. Despite this, our campers had a great time and the program ran smoothly. Hati's presence at camp and his skills in the kitchen were truly a blessing. His special chicken was a highlight for all!

The weather was great and not too smoky and the bonus of the dryness was the mosquito were not too annoying. We had a great group of junior counselors which puts us in a good position for next year. Both our specialty Art and Fishing camps were well received. Our end of season Teen camp was filled! This has not happened in as many years as I can recall. In fact, several years this camp was cancelled due to low enrollment.

The gang this year was fantastic and they were able to enjoy the much anticipated out trip.

They did have to return early as they awoke to smoky skies and ashes covering their sleeping bags. But what great stories they had to tell of their trip.

with HUGE thanks to Cliff Eliason & Wayne Kiefer, along with locals Glen, Ray, Dean & Darren.

We felled our own trees, Schapol Logging donated the lumber so we only had to purchase the tin for the roof! Not only functional, it is beautiful!

We have one more school group in this week and then Camp Clean Up on Saturday (possibly in the rain) Camp will soon be tucked away until spring but the work continues with planning, fund raising and the usual busy work.

We continue to strive to find someone to take over the role of Treasurer and find more help with camp programming...

Thank you to both St. Andrew's and Zion for their continued support of this vital youth ministry! We couldn't do it without you.

Dorianne Kohl, ZUC member, will have her work featured at the A/S Museum & Art Gallery from Sept 28th-Oct 21st.

Congratulations,
Dorianne!

There are a number of gallon sized, frozen, pails of chili left over from the IPE effort.

The chili, so graciously made by Val Johnston, was made (and frozen) prior to the IPE. The remaining buckets ($17 ingredients/pail), are now being offered for sale @ $20/bucket.

Please let Wilma Koersen know if you would like to purchase some chili! wkoersen@telusplanet.net. 250-546-6463
