Pastor James D. Corbett

Pastor James D. & Lady Sarah Corbett

Greetings in the wonderful name of Jesus! We give God all the praise for a powerful and fruitful first quarter of 2026! The Lord has truly shown Himself strong among us. We have witnessed a great harvest of souls coming into the Kingdom, lives being transformed, and mighty moves of God in our services. Truly, this is a season of fulfillment as we continue to walk in the vision: "The Mountain of the House of the LORD shall be established." Psalm 126:3, "The LORD hath done great things for us; whereof we are glad."

We are also excited to share that Door of Faith TV has officially launched worldwide through GodTV! This expansion is allowing us to take the Gospel to millions across the globe. In addition, AWIS continues to grow and expand its reach, bringing encouragement, faith, and the Word of God to people everywhere. Thank you for helping us carry this message beyond the walls of the church.

As we approach Resurrection Sunday, we are expecting a powerful move of God at Greenville Community Christian Church. Our illustrated message, "Jesus: Declared to be the Son of God by the Resurrection," (Rom 1:4) This will be a life-changing experience. We invite you to come and bring your family, friends, and loved ones. We are believing for salvations, miracles, and healings as we celebrate our risen Savior!

Thank you for your prayers, your faithful support, and your partnership in ministry. Your giving and encouragement make a difference in reaching souls and advancing the Kingdom of God.

Lady Sarah and I love and appreciate you so very much.

Love and Blessings,
James D. Corbett

Having a Stronghold of Faith

Rom 12:3 For I say, through the grace given unto me, to every man that is among you, not to think of himself more highly than he ought to think; but to think soberly, according as God hath dealt to every man the measure of faith.

Faith is not meant to stay small. The scripture above tells us that God has dealt to every person a measure of faith, but that measure is only the beginning – a “saving” faith that allows us to receive salvation. It is like a seed placed in our hands, full of potential but requiring care, intention, and consistency to grow. Life will test what we say we believe, and those moments reveal whether our faith has been strengthened or left unattended. The good news is that God never expects us to grow it alone. He gives us His Word, His Spirit, and daily opportunities to build what He has already started.

Heb 11:1 Now faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen.

Building a stronghold of faith means choosing to trust God even when circumstances feel uncertain. Faith grows when we feed it with truth instead of fear, when we speak God’s promises instead of our doubts, and when we keep showing up in prayer even on the days it feels quiet. The more we rehearse what God has said, the stronger our inner foundation becomes. A stronghold is not built overnight, but every moment of trust lays another stone. God calls us to go beyond receiving faith and step into developing it.

2 Pet 1:5 And beside this, giving all diligence, add to your faith virtue; and to virtue knowledge.

Prayer Focus: Father, thank You for the measure of faith You have placed inside of me, and I ask You to help me grow it stronger each day. Teach me to trust You deeply and to build my life on Your truth no matter what I face.

Verse of the Day: Luke 17:5 And the apostles said unto the Lord, Increase our faith.

Living the Word Today: Faith is not just given but developed through daily trust in God. As we grow, our faith becomes steady, rooted, and unshaken by the winds of life.

Go Tell My Brothers: Restoration After Failure

Mat 28:10 Then said Jesus unto them, Be not afraid: go tell my brethren that they go into Galilee, and there shall they see me.

Failure has a way of making us question who we are and where we stand with God. In the aforementioned verse, Jesus did not call them deserters or failures. He still called them brethren. This is the heart of God toward us. Even when we fall short, He does not rewrite our identity. What He has spoken over our lives still stands, even when we feel like we have disqualified ourselves.

Luke 22:31-32 And the Lord said, Simon, Simon, behold, Satan hath desired to have you, that he may sift you as wheat: But I have prayed for thee, that thy faith fail not: and when thou art converted, strengthen thy brethren.

Peter knew what it felt like to fail in a very public way. He denied Jesus three times, yet Jesus had already spoken restoration over him. Jesus did not say if you come back. He said when. That means failure was not the end of Peter's story. God saw beyond the moment and spoke to his future. In the same way, your missteps do not cancel your calling. God already accounted for your weakness and still chose you. Restoration is not just about being forgiven. It is about being reaffirmed

John 21:17 He saith unto him the third time, Simon, son of Jonas, lovest thou me? Peter was grieved because he said unto him the third time, Lovest thou me? And he said unto him, Lord, thou knowest all things; thou knowest that I love thee. Jesus saith unto him, Feed my sheep.

Prayer Focus: Lord, thank You for not letting my failures change how You see me. Help me to receive Your restoration and walk boldly in the purpose You still have for my life.

Verse of the Day: Mic 7:8 Rejoice not against me, O mine enemy: when I fall, I shall arise; when I sit in darkness, the Lord shall be a light unto me.

Living the Word Today: Failure is not the end of our story with God. As we accept His restoration, we step forward with renewed confidence in who He says we are.

April 3

Recognizing Jesus in Disguise

Luke 24:15-16 And it came to pass, that, while they communed together and reasoned, Jesus himself drew near, and went with them. But their eyes were holden that they should not know him.

Sometimes we expect God to show up in big, obvious ways, but after the resurrection, Jesus often revealed Himself quietly and unexpectedly. On the road to Emmaus, two disciples walked and talked with Him, yet they did not recognize who He was. Jesus was right there in their conversation, in their confusion, and in their grief. It is possible to be close to Him and still not realize it when He does not look like what we expected.

Isa 55:8-9 For my thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are your ways my ways, saith the Lord. For as the heavens are higher than the earth, so are my ways higher than your ways, and my thoughts than your thoughts.

Many times we miss God because we are looking for something dramatic while He is moving in the ordinary. The disciples were focused on what they had lost, not realizing that the promise was walking beside them. God does not always follow our expectations, but He is always faithful to His purpose. Even when we do not recognize Him, He is still guiding, teaching, and drawing us closer. The turning point came when Jesus revealed Himself in a simple, familiar moment. What they did not see on the road became clear at the table.

Luke 24:30-31 And it came to pass, as he sat at meat with them, he took bread, and blessed it, and brake, and gave to them. And their eyes were opened, and they knew him; and he vanished out of their sight.

Prayer Focus: Lord, open my eyes so I can recognize You even when You show up in unexpected ways. Help me to trust that You are with me, even when I do not immediately see or understand what You are doing.

Verse of the Day: Gen 28:16 And Jacob awaked out of his sleep, and he said, Surely the Lord is in this place; and I knew it not.

Living the Word Today: God is closer than we think, even in ordinary moments.

April 4

The Silence Between the Crucifixion and the Resurrection

Matthew 27:65–66 Pilate said unto them, Ye have a watch: go your way, make it as sure as ye can. So they went, and made the sepulchre sure, sealing the stone, and setting a watch.”

Much attention is given to the sacrifice of the cross and the victory of the resurrection. One reveals the price that was paid, and the other reveals the power of God on display. Yet there is a space in between—quiet, heavy, and filled with uncertainty. Everything looked final. The stone was sealed, the guards were set, and hope appeared to be buried. It seemed as though nothing was happening, yet God was still working behind the scenes. Jesus spoiled principalities by making a show of them openly and took the keys.

This reflects seasons in our own lives—the time between promise and fulfillment. Prayers have been prayed, but answers have not yet appeared. It may feel like God is distant, but silence does not mean absence. There is power in stillness. It stretches our trust and deepens our faith in ways that visible results cannot. Faith is often formed in quiet moments, not just in miraculous displays. Even when nothing seems to change, God is preparing what comes next.

Lamentations 3:25–26 The LORD is good unto them that wait for him, to the soul that seeketh him. It is good that a man should both hope and quietly wait for the salvation of the LORD.

Prayer Focus: Lord, help me to trust You in the quiet seasons when I do not see what You are doing.

Verse of the Day: Isaiah 40:31 But they that wait upon the LORD shall renew their strength; they shall mount up with wings as eagles; they shall run and not be weary; and they shall walk, and not faint.

Living the Word Today:

Waiting is not wasted time. It is a place where God strengthens you, steadies you, and reminds you that He is faithful—even when you cannot yet see it. The promise is still alive, and what God has spoken will surely come to pass.

April 5

The Cross Was Not a Place of Defeat

Acts 2:23 Him, being delivered by the determinate counsel and foreknowledge of God, ye have taken, and by wicked hands have crucified and slain.

Jesus' death on the cross was always part of God's plan. What appeared to be chaos and injustice was actually divine purpose unfolding at the right time. Jesus was not surprised—He knew the cost and accepted the assignment given by the Father. This assures us that God is never caught off guard by what we face.

Luke 22:42 Saying, Father, if thou be willing, remove this cup from me: nevertheless not my will, but thine, be done.

Jesus embraced His assignment, even in its difficulty. There was struggle, but there was also surrender. In the same way, our assignments may stretch us beyond comfort, yet God's will always carries a greater purpose. Obedience may be costly, but it leads to victory. Because Jesus fulfilled His assignment, we now have life, redemption, and restoration through Him.

Heb 12:2 Looking unto Jesus the author and finisher of our faith; who for the joy that was set before him endured the cross, despising the shame, and is set down at the right hand of the throne of God.

Prayer Focus: Father, help me to trust that every assignment You give me has purpose, even when it feels difficult.

Verse of the Day: John 10:18 No man taketh it from me, but I lay it down of myself. I have power to lay it down, and I have power to take it again. This commandment have I received of my Father.

Living the Word Today: God is working through every assignment in your life. What feels heavy now may be the very thing that produces purpose, growth, and breakthrough.

April 6

How Big Is Love?

John 15:13 Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends.

When we ask how big love really is, the answer is not found in words alone, but in what someone is willing to give up. True love always costs something. Love is not just a feeling. Love is a choice to lay something down for the sake of someone else. Jesus did not just talk about love, He demonstrated it in the most powerful way. The cross shows us that love is not measured by convenience but by sacrifice.

Rom 5:8 But God commendeth his love toward us, in that, while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us.

God's love for us was never small or conditional. It reached us at our lowest point and made a way for us to be restored. That kind of love is not based on how well we perform or how deserving we think we are. It is steady, faithful, and deeply personal. When you begin to understand that kind of love, it changes how you see yourself and how you love others. True love also calls us higher. It invites us to live beyond ourselves and reflect the same heart that God has shown us.

1 John 3:16 Hereby perceive we the love of God, because he laid down his life for us: and we ought to lay down our lives for the brethren.

Prayer Focus: Father, teach me to love the way You love, with a heart that is willing to give and not just receive. Help me to walk in sacrificial love and reflect Your goodness in every area of my life.

Verse of the Day: Eph 3:18-19 May be able to comprehend with all saints what is the breadth, and length, and depth, and height; And to know the love of Christ, which passeth knowledge, that ye might be filled with all the fulness of God.

Living the Word Today: Love is always worth it. When we choose to love sacrificially, we become a reflection of Christ in a way that words alone could never express. True love is shown through action and sacrifice. As we grow in this understanding, we learn to love others with greater depth and in sincerity.

April 7

Our Debt of Love

Rom 13:8 Owe no man any thing, but to love one another: for he that loveth another hath fulfilled the law.

There is one debt we are called to carry, and it is not financial or burdensome in the way the world thinks. It is a debt of love. This kind of debt does not weigh us down, it calls us up. It reminds us that love is not optional for the believer. It is a daily responsibility and a reflection of the God who loved us first.

1 John 4:10-11 Herein is love, not that we loved God, but that he loved us, and sent his Son to be the propitiation for our sins. Beloved, if God so loved us, we ought also to love one another.

God did not love us from a distance. He stepped in and paid a price we could never repay. When you realize how deeply you have been loved, it shifts your perspective. Love becomes less about feelings and more about action. It becomes something you extend even when it is not easy, because you understand what has been extended to you.

Col 3:13-14 Forbearing one another, and forgiving one another, if any man have a quarrel against any: even as Christ forgave you, so also do ye. And above all these things put on charity, which is the bond of perfectness.

Prayer Focus: Lord, thank You for loving me when I did not deserve it and for paying a price I could never repay. Help me to carry this debt of love well by showing kindness, grace, and compassion to others every day.

Verse of the Day: Gal 5:13 For, brethren, ye have been called unto liberty; only use not liberty for an occasion to the flesh, but by love serve one another.

Living the Word Today: Love holds everything together. It is the evidence that God is working in us and through us. It is not just something we receive but something we are called to give. As we walk in this truth, our lives begin to reflect the heart of God in a deeper way.

April 8

Unforgiveness Can Hinder Healing

Eph 4:31-32 Let all bitterness, and wrath, and anger, and clamour, and evil speaking, be put away from you, with all malice: And be ye kind one to another, tenderhearted, forgiving one another, even as God for Christ's sake hath forgiven you.

Unforgiveness has a quiet way of settling into the heart and affecting more than we realize. It can sit beneath the surface while we try to move forward, but it keeps reopening the wound. God never intended for us to carry that kind of weight. Forgiveness is not about pretending the hurt did not happen. It is about choosing freedom over bondage and allowing God to begin the healing process within you.

Mark 11:25 And when ye stand praying, forgive, if ye have ought against any: that your Father also which is in heaven may forgive you your trespasses.

Holding on to unforgiveness can actually block what God wants to do in our hearts. It keeps us tied to the pain and prevents peace from fully settling in. That can feel challenging, especially when the hurt is deep. But forgiveness is not saying what happened was right. It is releasing the right to hold onto the offense and trusting God to handle what we cannot.

Matt 6:14-15 For if ye forgive men their trespasses, your heavenly Father will also forgive you: But if ye forgive not men their trespasses, neither will your Father forgive your trespasses.

Prayer Focus: Lord, help me to release every place of unforgiveness in my heart and give me the strength to let go of what has hurt me.

Verse of the Day: Prov 17:9 He that covereth a transgression seeketh love; but he that repeateth a matter separateth very friends.

Living the Word Today: Healing begins to flow when we let go and place everything in God's hands. It may not happen all at once, but each step toward forgiveness opens the door for restoration. God desires wholeness for you. As you release unforgiveness, you make room for His peace, His presence, and His healing to take root in your life.

April 9

We ARE Our Brother's Keeper

Pro 4:26 Ponder the path of thy feet, and let all thy ways be established.

Where we focus our attention matters more than we think. Life can pull our eyes in a hundred directions, and before we know it, we are reacting instead of moving with purpose. God gently reminds us to be mindful of the direction we are heading, not just the speed. Looking where you are going helps you walk with intention and keeps you aligned with what God is doing in your life.

Pro 3:5-6 Trust in the Lord with all thine heart; and lean not unto thine own understanding. In all thy ways acknowledge him, and he shall direct thy paths.

God never leaves us without guidance. When we pause and invite God into our decisions, clarity follows. Direction becomes clearer when trust replaces hurry and faith replaces fear.

Col 3:2 Set your affection on things above, not on things on the earth.

God also encourages us to keep our focus steady, especially when distractions try to pull us off course. Looking where you are going means choosing God's perspective over temporary pressure. When your eyes stay on Him, your steps begin to line up with His purpose.

Prayer Focus: Lord, help me slow down and pay attention to the direction of my life. Guide my steps and keep my focus on where You are leading me. Amen.

Verse of the Day: Psa 32:8 I will instruct thee and teach thee in the way which thou shalt go: I will guide thee with mine eye.

Living the Word Today: Direction shapes destiny more than speed ever could. When focus is placed on God's guidance, each step gains purpose and peace.

April 10

Being Your Brother's Keeper

Gen 4:9 And the Lord said unto Cain, Where is Abel thy brother? And he said, I know not: Am I my brother's keeper?

The question "Am I my brother's keeper?" was first asked in a moment of deflection, but God's heart has always answered it with a clear yes. We are called to care for one another, to look out for each other, and to carry a sense of responsibility for the well being of those around us. That question still echoes today, but as believers, we are called to respond differently. We are not meant to live disconnected or indifferent. We are meant to be present, aware, and willing to step in with love.

Gal 6:2 Bear ye one another's burdens, and so fulfil the law of Christ.

Caring for others goes beyond words. It shows up in how we support, encourage, and stand with people in both good times and difficult moments. This means we do not ignore what others are going through. We help carry the weight when life gets heavy. Whether it is offering a kind word, giving our time, or simply being there, these acts reflect the love of Christ in a real and tangible way. God designed us to live in community, not isolation. When we choose to care for one another, we create an environment where love can grow and healing can happen.

1 John 3:17-18 But whoso hath this world's good, and seeth his brother have need, and shutteth up his bowels of compassion from him, how dwelleth the love of God in him? My little children, let us not love in word, neither in tongue; but in deed and in truth.

Prayer Focus: Father, help me to be mindful of others and sensitive to their needs. Teach me to love in action and to be a source of encouragement and support to those around me.

Verse of the Day: Heb 10:24 And let us consider one another to provoke unto love and to good works.

Living the Word Today: Being our brother's keeper is about compassion, responsibility, and living out the love God has placed inside of us.

April 11

Freedom to Live Free

2Cor 3:17 Now the Lord is that Spirit: and where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty.

God never intended for our walk with Him to feel like a checklist we are constantly trying to keep up with. True freedom in Christ flows from relationship, not routine. That liberty opens the door to a life that is alive, personal, and full of grace. When we walk with God daily, His presence becomes something we experience, not just something we acknowledge.

Gal 5:1 Stand fast therefore in the liberty wherewith Christ hath made us free, and be not entangled again with the yoke of bondage.

Rituals and structure have their place, yet they were never meant to take the lead over the Holy Spirit. When actions become automatic, it is easy to overlook what God is saying in the present moment. God invites us to remain in that freedom and stay aware of His voice. A Spirit led life grows through sensitivity, obedience, and a willingness to follow Him even when it stretches us.

Rom 8:14 For as many as are led by the Spirit of God, they are the sons of God.

Living free means trusting that God is shaping us from the inside out. Growth begins within and shows up in how we live each day. When we yield to His leading, our lives begin to reflect His nature in a natural and steady way.

Prayer Focus: Father, thank You for the freedom You have given me through Your Spirit. Help me to walk in that freedom daily and to follow Your leading with a willing and open heart.

Verse of the Day: John 8:36 If the Son therefore shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed.

Living the Word Today: Faith: There is peace in knowing we do not have to strive. We can simply walk in step with Him and live in the freedom He has already given.

April 12

The World Needs to Hear the Voice of the Church

Isa 58:1 Cry aloud, spare not, lift up thy voice like a trumpet, and shew my people their transgression, and the house of Jacob their sins.

There are moments in history that call for clarity, courage, and conviction. These are times when truth needs to be spoken plainly and lived out boldly. It can feel like the voice of the Church has grown quiet in places where it should be strong. God has always called His people to speak with purpose. Silence can create space for confusion, while truth brings light and direction. Jesus made it clear that His followers carry a visible and influential role.

Matt 5:14-16 Ye are the light of the world. A city that is set on an hill cannot be hid. Neither do men light a candle, and put it under a bushel, but on a candlestick and it giveth light unto all that are in the house. Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven.

Light is meant to be seen. When believers live and speak with boldness, it points others back to God. The message of truth carries both love and accountability, and it reflects the heart of God in a way that reaches beyond words. The early Church did not hold back when it came to declaring what was right in the eyes of God. They spoke with boldness even when it was uncomfortable.

Acts 4:31 And when they had prayed, the place was shaken where they were assembled together; and they were all filled with the Holy Ghost, and they spake the word of God with boldness.

Prayer Focus: Lord, give me the courage to speak Your truth with boldness and love. Help me to be a light that reflects You clearly and to never shrink back when You are calling me to stand.

Verse of the Day: Pro 31:9 Open thy mouth, judge righteously, and plead the cause of the poor and needy.

Living the Word Today: God is still looking for voices that will stand, speak, and live according to His truth with courage and compassion.

April 13

Stand Strong During Tests

Job 1:8 And the Lord said unto Satan, Hast thou considered my servant Job, that there is none like him in the earth, a perfect and an upright man, one that feareth God, and escheweth evil?

Tests have a way of revealing what is really in our hearts. The story of Job reminds us that God sees deeper than others see. God knew Job's heart, and that confidence allowed the test. That is a sobering thought. It means our faith is known by God long before it is revealed in difficult moments. When challenges come, they give us an opportunity to stand firm and show that our trust in God is real. Standing strong during a test does not mean everything feels easy. Job experienced deep loss, confusion, and pain, yet he made a powerful declaration.

Job 1:21 And said, Naked came I out of my mother's womb, and naked shall I return thither: the Lord gave, and the Lord hath taken away; blessed be the name of the Lord.

That kind of faith does not come from a moment. It is built over time through a steady relationship with God. Tests press on what we believe, and they invite us to respond with trust even when we do not understand what is happening. God does not waste a test. He uses it to strengthen, refine, and grow us. There is purpose in the pressure. God sees your heart, and He is shaping you through every challenge you face. When you stand strong, you come out with a deeper faith and a stronger confidence in Him.

Prayer Focus: Father, help me to stand strong during every test and to trust You even when I do not understand what is happening. Strengthen my heart and grow my faith so that I remain steady in every season.

Verse of the Day: 1 Pet 1:7 That the trial of your faith, being much more precious than of gold that perisheth, though it be tried with fire, might be found unto praise and honour and glory at the appearing of Jesus Christ.

Living the Word Today: Tests reveal the strength of our faith and our trust in God. As we endure, we grow stronger and more confident in His purpose for our lives.

April 14

Faith to Let Go of the Seed

Ecc 11:1 Cast thy bread upon the waters: for thou shalt find it after many days.

Letting go can feel uncomfortable, especially when we have grown attached to what we are holding. Yet there is a principle in God's Word that connects release with increase. That takes faith. You release something without seeing immediate results, trusting that God is working beyond what you can see. Sowing requires confidence that what leaves your hand is not lost but planted.

Mark 10:21-22 Then Jesus beholding him loved him, and said unto him, One thing thou lackest: go thy way, sell whatsoever thou hast, and give to the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven: and come, take up the cross, and follow me. [22] And he was sad at that saying, and went away grieved: for he had great possessions.

God honors what we are willing to release in obedience. When you let go, you make room for God to move in ways you could not create on your own. Holding tightly can limit what God desires to do, but open hands position you to receive what He has prepared. The Scriptures say give and it shall be given.

Sowing and reaping is a spiritual law that continues to work whether we see it immediately or not. Every act of obedience, every seed of faith, and every moment of trust matters. Gal 6:7 Be not deceived; God is not mocked: for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap.

Prayer Focus: Lord, give me the faith to let go of what You are asking me to release. Help me to trust that every seed I sow in obedience will bring forth a harvest in Your perfect timing.

Verse of the Day: 2 Cor 9:6 But this I say, He which soweth sparingly shall reap also sparingly; and he which soweth bountifully shall reap also bountifully.

Living the Word Today: Letting go is never wasted in God's hands. What you release today can become the very harvest you celebrate tomorrow.

April 15

Don't Forget the Benefits of the Gospel

Psa 103:2-5 Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all his benefits: Who forgiveth all thine iniquities; who healeth all thy diseases; Who redeemeth thy life from destruction; who crowneth thee with lovingkindness and tender mercies; Who satisfieth thy mouth with good things; so that thy youth is renewed like the eagle's.

Receiving salvation is easy. But do not stop there. The Gospel reveals so much more than just getting to heaven one day. There are benefits that belong to us right now, and God never intended for us to live beneath what He has provided. Those benefits include forgiveness, healing, restoration, and renewal. When we forget what belongs to us, we can settle into a life that feels limited and lacking.

John 10:10 The thief cometh not, but for to steal, and to kill, and to destroy: I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly.

God desires for us to grow and walk in the fullness of what He has given. There is more available than what we may have experienced so far. That abundant life reaches into every area of our lives. It includes peace, joy, direction, and purpose. When we begin to understand this, we stop settling and start believing God for greater in a way that aligns with His promises.

2 Pet 1:3 According as his divine power hath given unto us all things that pertain unto life and godliness, through the knowledge of him that hath called us to glory and virtue:

Prayer Focus: Father, help me to remember and receive all the benefits You have given through the Gospel.

Verse of the Day: Eph 3:20 Now unto him that is able to do exceeding abundantly above all that we ask or think, according to the power that worketh in us,

Living the Word Today: Walking in the benefits of the Gospel requires faith and a willingness to receive what God has already made available. There is no need to settle when God has already given us access to so much more.

Lose the Grave Clothes

John 11:44 And he that was dead came forth, bound hand and foot with graveclothes: and his face was bound about with a napkin. Jesus saith unto them, Loose him, and let him go.

Lazarus came out of the tomb alive, yet he was still wrapped in the same clothes he had been buried in. Life had returned, but freedom still needed to happen. That speaks to many of us. We can experience new life in Christ and still feel tied to old mindsets, habits, or ways of thinking that no longer match who we are.

Rom 12:2 And be not conformed to this world: but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove what is that good, and acceptable, and perfect, will of God.

God does not stop at bringing us out. He calls us into a process of being loosed from what has held us back. Change begins in the mind and flows into how we live. As we allow God to renew our thinking, we begin to shed what no longer belongs to us. What once felt normal starts to lose its hold as truth takes root. Freedom grows as we continue to walk with God and release what He is showing us.

2 Cor 5:17 Therefore if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature: old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new.

You are already made new, and now you are learning to live in that newness. Each step of obedience loosens another layer. God has already spoken life over you, and He is also leading you into freedom. You do not have to stay wrapped in what He has already called you out of.

Prayer Focus: Father, thank You for bringing me into new life and calling me out of what once held me bound. Help me to let go of every mindset and habit that no longer aligns with who I am in You.

Verse of the Day: John 8:32 And ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free.

Living the Word Today: New life comes with a process of growth and release. As we let go of old patterns, we step into greater freedom and clarity.

Locked Doors and a Living Savior

John 20:19 Then the same day at evening, being the first day of the week, when the doors were shut where the disciples were assembled for fear of the Jews, came Jesus and stood in the midst, and saith unto them, Peace be unto you.

After the resurrection, the disciples were not celebrating yet. They were gathered behind closed doors, weighed down by fear and uncertainty. The doors were locked, but Jesus still showed up. Their fear did not block His presence. He stepped right into their situation and met them where they were.

Psa 34:4 I sought the Lord, and he heard me, and delivered me from all my fears.

Fear has a way of making us retreat and close ourselves off. We can build walls in our hearts, trying to protect ourselves from what feels overwhelming. Yet God does not stay outside those walls. Jesus enters into the very places we try to hide. He brings peace into chaos and speaks calm into anxious thoughts. His presence reaches us even when we feel uncertain and unsure of what comes next.

Isa 41:10 Fear thou not, for I am with thee: be not dismayed; for I am thy God: I will strengthen thee; yea, I will help thee; yea, I will uphold thee with the right hand of my righteousness.

When Jesus stood among them, His first words were not correction but peace. That same peace is available to us today. Your fear does not keep Jesus out. He meets you right there and reminds you that you are not alone.

Prayer Focus: Lord, thank You for meeting me even in moments of fear and uncertainty. Fill my heart with Your peace and remind me that Your presence is always with me.

Verse of the Day: 2 Tim 1:7 For God hath not given us the spirit of fear; but of power, and of love, and of a sound mind.

Living the Word Today: Even behind closed doors, His presence finds you and fills the space with His peace.

Scars That Still Speak

John 20:27 Then saith he to Thomas, Reach hither thy finger, and behold my hands; and reach hither thy hand, and thrust it into my side: and be not faithless, but believing.

After the resurrection, Jesus still carried the scars of the cross. He did not hide them or erase them. Those scars became proof of His love and His victory. They told a story that words alone could not fully explain. What once represented pain now carried meaning and purpose.

2 Cor 1:3-4 Blessed be God, even the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of mercies, and the God of all comfort; Who comforteth us in all our tribulation, that we may be able to comfort them which are in any trouble, by the comfort wherewith we ourselves are comforted of God.

We all carry scars from things we have been through. Some are visible and some are not, but God does not waste any part of our story. What you have walked through can become a source of strength for someone else. Your healing can speak hope into places where others feel stuck.

Rom 8:28 And we know that all things work together for good to them that love God, to them who are the called according to his purpose.

God has a way of turning what hurt into something that carries purpose. Your scars do not disqualify you. They remind you of what God has brought you through and what He is still able to do.

Prayer Focus: Father, thank You for bringing me through every situation that has left a mark on my life. Help me to trust You with my story and allow You to use it to bring hope and healing to others.

Verse of the Day: Pro 3:6 In all thy ways acknowledge him, and he shall direct thy paths.

Living the Word Today: Scars carry purpose and meaning. When we allow Him to use our story, those scars begin to speak life, encouragement, and truth.

The Stone Wasn't for Jesus

Matt 28:2 And behold there was a great earthquake: for the angel of the Lord descended from heaven, and came and rolled back the stone from the door, and sat upon it.

When the women came to the tomb, the stone had already been rolled away. Jesus did not need help getting out. The stone was not moved so He could escape. It was moved so they could see. God made a way for the evidence of the resurrection to be visible. What seemed like a barrier became an invitation to look inside and witness what He had done.

Mark 16:3-4 And they said among themselves, Who shall roll us away the stone from the door of the sepulchre? And when they looked, they saw that the stone was rolled away: for it was very great.

There are moments in our lives when things feel blocked or closed off. It can seem like something is standing in the way of what we are believing God for. Yet God has the power to move anything that tries to limit what He has already spoken. What they worried about on the way had already been handled. God often goes ahead of us and takes care of what we think will stop us. When the stone was rolled away, it revealed that Jesus had already risen.

Luke 24:5-6 And as they were afraid, and bowed down their faces to the earth, they said unto them, Why seek ye the living among the dead? He is not here, but is risen: remember how he spake unto you when he was yet in Galilee,

Prayer Focus: Lord, thank You for going before me and removing obstacles I cannot move on my own. Help me to trust that You are working even when I do not yet see the way forward.

Verse of the Day: Jer 32:27 Behold, I am the Lord, the God of all flesh: is there any thing too hard for me?

Living the Word Today: The stone could not keep Jesus in the grave. It was supernaturally removed, revealing that He was no longer there. The same God who moved that stone is able to move what stands in front of you.

April 20

Jesus Visited His People First

Luke 24:34 Saying, The Lord is risen indeed, and hath appeared to Simon.

After the resurrection, Jesus could have gone straight to the leaders who rejected Him. He could have stood before Pilate or Herod and proven everything. Instead, He chose to reveal Himself to His own. That choice shows the heart of God. His focus was on restoring relationship with those who had walked with Him, even after they had struggled and scattered.

1 Cor 15:5 And that he was seen of Cephas, then of the twelve.

God places great value on connection with His people. He draws near, even when we feel distant or unsure. Jesus knew His disciples needed reassurance, peace, and restoration. He met them in their real emotions and reminded them that they still belonged to Him. His presence brought comfort and renewed their confidence.

Jas 4:8 Draw nigh to God, and he will draw nigh to you. Cleanse your hands ye sinners; and purify your hearts, ye double minded.

This reminds us that God's heart is always toward us. He sees beyond our moments of weakness and calls us back into fellowship with Him. Jesus restored Peter and gave him purpose again. God is more concerned with restoring relationship than proving a point. He is still drawing near, still calling, and still meeting His people with love.

John 21:15 So when they had dined, Jesus saith to Simon Peter, Simon son of Jonas, lovest thou me more than these? He saith unto him, Yea, Lord; thou knowest that I love thee. He saith unto him, Feed my lambs.

Prayer Focus: Father, thank You for knowing me and coming to me in a personal way. Help me to recognize Your presence and respond to Your voice with trust and obedience.

Verse of the Day: Jas 4:8 Draw nigh to God, and he will draw nigh to you. Cleanse your hands, ye sinners; and purify your hearts, ye double minded.

Living the Word Today: God values relationship and draws near to His people. As we grow in that awareness, we become more confident in His love and presence.

The Garden: Where Everything Changed...Again

John 20:15 Jesus saith unto her, Woman, why weepest thou? whom seekest thou? She supposing him to be the gardener, saith unto him, Sir if thou have borne him hence, tell me where thou hast laid him, and I will take him away.

The story of humanity began in a garden, and after the resurrection, everything shifted again in another garden. When Mary stood near the tomb, she did not realize that she was standing in the middle of a turning point. She thought He was the gardener, yet in a deeper sense, He was. Jesus was restoring what had been broken from the beginning and bringing life back into what had once been lost.

Gen 3:6 And when the woman saw that the tree was good for food, and that it was pleasant to the eyes, and a tree to be desired to make one wise, she took of the fruit thereof, and did eat, and gave also unto her husband with her, and he did eat.

In the first garden, sin entered and separation followed. That moment changed everything. Yet God already had a plan to restore what had been lost. In the garden after the resurrection, life overcame death and hope replaced despair. What had been broken was being made whole again through Jesus. God has a way of revisiting the places where things went wrong and bringing redemption there.

2 Cor 5:18 And all things are of God, who hath reconciled us to himself by Jesus Christ, and hath given to us the ministry of reconciliation;

Prayer Focus: Father, thank You for Your power to restore and make all things new. Help me to trust You with every broken place in my life and believe that You are working for my good.

Verse of the Day: Rev 21:5 And he that sat upon the throne said, Behold I make all things new. And he said unto me, Write for these words are true and faithful.

Living the Word Today: The garden reminds us that no situation is beyond God's ability to restore. He can take what feels like an ending and turn it into a new beginning.

April 22

He Knows Your Name

John 20:16 Jesus saith unto her Mary. She turned herself, and saith unto him, Rabboni; which is to say Master.

Mary stood outside the tomb grieving, unaware that Jesus was right in front of her. She saw Him but did not recognize Him until one moment changed everything. One word from Jesus opened her eyes. It was personal. It was direct. That moment reminds us that God knows us individually and speaks to us in a way that reaches beyond confusion and sorrow.

John 10:3 To him the porter openeth; and the sheep hear his voice: and he calleth his own sheep by name, and leadeth them out.

There are times when we are searching for answers and looking for something big, yet God meets us in a simple and personal way. He calls us by name. That means He sees us, knows us, and understands exactly where we are. When He speaks, it cuts through everything else and brings clarity that nothing else can provide.

Isa 30:21 And thine ears shall hear a word behind thee, saying, This is the way, walk ye in it, when ye turn to the right hand, and when ye turn to the left.

When you hear His voice, everything begins to shift. The confusion starts to fade and your perspective changes. God is still speaking. He is still calling. One word from Him can open your eyes in a way nothing else can. All it takes is a heart that is willing to listen and respond.

Prayer Focus: Lord, thank You for knowing me personally and calling me by name. Help me to recognize Your voice and respond with trust and obedience when You speak.

Verse of the Day: Isa 43:1 But now thus saith the Lord that created thee, O Jacob, and he that formed thee, O Israel Fear not: for I have redeemed thee, I have called thee by thy name; thou art mine.

Living the Word Today: The more we listen for the voice of God, the more clarity and direction we gain for our lives.

April 23

The Folded Napkin: God's Love for Order

John 20:6-7 Then cometh Simon Peter following him, and went into the sepulchre, and seeth the linen clothes lie, And the napkin, that was about his head, not lying with the linen clothes, but wrapped together in a place by itself.

When the disciples looked into the empty tomb, they did not find chaos. They found detail, intention, and order. Even in the moment of resurrection, nothing was careless or random. The folded napkin was a quiet sign that everything was under control. God's work carries purpose down to the smallest detail.

There are seasons in life that feel scattered or uncertain. Things can seem out of place, and it may feel like nothing is coming together the way you hoped. Yet God is not the author of confusion. He brings order into what feels messy and peace into what feels overwhelming. Even when you cannot see it clearly, He is arranging things with care and intention.

1 Cor 14:33 For God is not the author of confusion, but of peace, as in all churches of the saints.

God's order also shows up in how He leads our lives step by step. We may have plans, ideas, and expectations, yet God is guiding each step in a way that aligns with His purpose. The folded napkin reminds us that God does not leave things undone or out of place. He is intentional, faithful, and present in every detail of your life.

Prayer Focus: Father, thank You for being a God of order and peace in every area of my life. Help me to trust that You are working through every detail, even when I do not fully understand it.

Verse of the Day: Psa 37:23 The steps of a good man are ordered by the Lord: and he delighteth in his way.

Living the Word Today: God is present in both the big moments and the small details. As we trust His order, we experience greater peace and confidence in His plan.

April 24

The Reviving Breath of Jesus

John 20:22 And when he had said this, he breathed on them, and saith unto them, Receive ye the Holy Ghost.

After the resurrection, Jesus did something simple yet powerful with His disciples. That moment carried life, renewal, and fresh strength. His breath was a reminder that God restores from the inside out. When Jesus breathes on a situation, what once felt empty can come alive again. He knows how to reach the places that feel worn down and bring them back to life.

Gen 2:7 And the Lord God formed man of the dust of the ground, and breathed into his nostrils the breath of life; and man became a living soul.

God has always used His breath as a sign of life and renewal. From the very beginning, His breath carried purpose and identity. There are seasons when we feel drained or disconnected, yet God is able to breathe fresh strength into us again. He revives what feels tired and renews what feels depleted.

Eze 37:5 Thus saith the Lord God unto these bones; Behold I will cause breath to enter into you, and ye shall live:

The breath of God brings restoration beyond what we can produce on our own. No situation is too far gone for Him. When He speaks and breathes life into it, change begins to happen.

Prayer Focus: Father, breathe fresh life into every area of my life that feels tired or empty. Renew my strength and fill me with Your presence so I can walk in the life You have given me.

Verse of the Day: Psa 150:6 Let every thing that hath breath praise the Lord. Praise ye the Lord.

Living the Word Today: What felt dry can become full again, and what seemed lifeless can rise with new strength. God's breath carries hope, renewal, and the promise that He is still at work in you.

April 25

Why Look for the Living Among the Dead?

Luke 24:5-6 And as they were afraid, and bowed down their faces to the earth, they said unto them, Why seek ye the living among the dead? He is not here, but is risen: remember how he spake unto you when he was yet in Galilee,

When the women came to the tomb, they were expecting to find a body, not a miracle. Their hearts were still shaped by loss and disappointment. That question still speaks today. It challenges us to look at where we are placing our hope. Sometimes we search for life in places that cannot give it, holding onto things that have already passed.

Isa 43:18-19 Remember ye not the former things, neither consider the things of old. Behold, I will do a new thing; now it shall spring forth; shall ye not know it? I will even make a way in the wilderness, and rivers in the desert.

It is easy to return to what feels familiar, even when it no longer carries life. Old mindsets, past relationships, and habits can pull us back into spaces that keep us stuck. God is always moving forward, calling us into something new. When we focus on what is behind us, we can miss what He is doing right now. God invites us to lift our eyes and shift our focus toward what is alive and active. Life is found in Him, and He is not found in places that are empty. When we turn our attention toward Him, we begin to experience the fullness of what He has for us. There is life available, and it starts with looking in the right place.

Prayer Focus: Father, help me stop searching for life in places that cannot give it. Turn my focus toward You and lead me into the fullness of the life You have prepared for me.

Verse of the Day: John 14:6 Jesus saith unto him, I am the way, the truth, and the life: no man cometh unto the Father, but by me.

Living the Word Today: Shifting our focus and attention on God helps us discover new life and renewed purpose.

April 26

Believers Are Commissioned

Matt 28:18-20 And Jesus came and spake unto them, saying, All power is given unto me in heaven and in earth. Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost: Teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: and, lo, I am with you alway, even unto the end of the world. Amen.

The cross was not the end of the story. It was the turning point that led to something greater. Jesus endured the cross, rose again, and then gave His followers a clear assignment. The victory of the cross opened the door for a purpose that continues today. What Jesus finished, He also entrusted to us to carry forward.

Acts 1:8 But ye shall receive power, after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you: and ye shall be witnesses unto me both in Jerusalem, and in all Judaea, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth.

Every believer has a role in this commission. It is not limited to a platform or a title. It shows up in how we live, how we love, and how we share the truth of who Jesus is. God equips us with His Spirit so we can walk in boldness and purpose. The same power that raised Jesus from the dead is at work in us, helping us to live out what we have been called to do. Moving from the cross to the commission means stepping into action with faith and obedience.

2 Cor 5:20 Now then we are ambassadors for Christ, as though God did beseech you by us: we pray you in Christ's stead, be ye reconciled to God.

Prayer Focus: Father, thank You for saving me and giving me a purpose through Your Word. Help me to walk boldly in the assignment You have given me and to reflect You in everything I do.

Verse of the Day: Mark 16:15 And he said unto them, Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature.

Living the Word Today: We represent God in our everyday life. Our words, actions, and presence can point others toward Him. The cross brought salvation, and the commission calls us to share that message with others.

April 27

Jesus Showing His Hands Also Showed His Heart

Luke 24:39-40 Behold my hands and my feet, that it is I myself: handle me, and see; for a spirit hath not flesh and bones, as ye see me have. And when he had thus spoken, he shewed them his hands and his feet.

When Jesus appeared to His disciples after the resurrection, He did something very intentional. He showed them His wounds. Those hands told a story of sacrifice, love, and redemption. In revealing His scars, He was also revealing His heart. His love was not hidden in words alone. It was visible, personal, and undeniable.

Isa 53:5 But he was wounded for our transgressions, he was bruised for our iniquities: the chastisement of our peace was upon him; and with his stripes we are healed.

The hands of Jesus remind us of what He was willing to endure for us. Every mark carried meaning. Every wound reflected His deep love for humanity. When we look at His hands, we see grace, mercy, and a commitment to restore what had been broken. His heart was always for us, and the cross made that clear. Even now, Jesus invites us to understand His love on a deeper level.

Rom 8:38-39 For I am persuaded, that neither death, nor life, nor angels, nor principalities, nor powers, nor things present, nor things to come, Nor height, nor depth, nor any other creature, shall be able to separate us from the love of God, which is in Christ Jesus our Lord

Prayer Focus: Father, thank You for showing Your love so clearly through the sacrifice You made for me. Help me to trust Your heart and to rest in the truth that Your love for me never changes.

Verse of the Day: John 20:20 And when he had so said, he shewed unto them his hands and his side. Then were the disciples glad, when they saw the Lord.

Living the Word Today: Nothing can separate us from that love. His hands reached for us then, and His heart still reaches for us now.

April 28

Joy that Feels Too Good to Be True

Luke 24:41 And while they yet believed not for joy, and wondered, he said unto them, Have ye here any meat?

There are moments when God does something so good that it almost feels hard to believe. After the resurrection, the disciples experienced that kind of joy. Their joy was real, yet it felt overwhelming. Sometimes blessings can feel unfamiliar when we have been through seasons of waiting or hardship. It can take a moment for your heart to catch up with what God has done.

Psa 126:1-2 When the Lord turned again the captivity of Zion, we were like them that dream. Then was our mouth filled with laughter, and our tongue with singing: then said they among the heathen, The Lord hath done great things for them.

God delights in giving good things to His people, and His promises often exceed what we expect. There are times when what God does feels almost like a dream because it is greater than what we imagined. Joy can stretch us just like trials do, calling us to trust that God's goodness is real and meant for us. Learning to receive joy is part of growing in faith.

Jas 1:17 Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, and cometh down from the Father of lights, with whom is no variableness, neither shadow of turning.

Prayer Focus: Father, thank You for the joy You bring into my life, even when it feels overwhelming. Help me to receive every good thing You give with faith and gratitude.

Verse of the Day: Neh 8:10 Then he said unto them, Go your way, eat the fat, and drink the sweet, and send portions unto them for whom nothing is prepared: for this day is holy unto our Lord: neither be ye sorry; for the joy of the Lord is your strength.

Living the Word Today: What God gives is good and consistent. When joy comes, you can embrace it without hesitation, knowing it comes from Him. What feels too good to be true is often God showing you just how faithful He is.

April 29

The Resurrection Nobody Saw

Matt 28:5-6 And the angel answered and said unto the women, Fear not ye: for I know that ye seek Jesus, which was crucified. He is not here: for he is risen, as he said. Come, see the place where the Lord lay.

No one witnessed the exact moment Jesus rose from the grave. There was no crowd, no applause, and no human eyes watching it happen. Yet when the women arrived, everything had already changed. God moved in a space that no one could see, and the evidence was waiting on the other side. That reminds us that God is always working, even when we do not witness the process.

Isa 45:15 Verily thou art a God that hidest thyself, O God of Israel, the Saviour.

There are seasons in life where it feels like nothing is happening. Prayers have been spoken, faith has been exercised, and still there seems to be silence. Even when God feels hidden, He is still present and active. Just because we cannot see the movement does not mean He is not working behind the scenes. His timing and His methods often unfold beyond our view, yet they are always purposeful. When the moment finally reveals itself, it becomes clear that God has been at work all along.

Heb 11:1 Now faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen.

Prayer Focus: Father, help me to trust You even when I cannot see what You are doing. Strengthen my faith so I can believe that You are working in every unseen moment.

Verse of the Day: 2 Cor 5:7 For we walk by faith, not by sight:

Living the Word Today: Faith carries us through the unseen moments and helps us trust what God has already set in motion. The resurrection nobody saw became the miracle that changed everything. In the same way, God is moving in areas of your life right now, even if you cannot see it yet.

April 30

The Assignment Was Given to the Grieving

Matt 28:7 And go quickly, and tell his disciples that he is risen from the dead; and, behold, he goeth before you into Galilee; there shall ye see him: lo, I have told you.

The first people sent with the message of the resurrection were still carrying the weight of grief. They came to the tomb expecting to mourn, not to be commissioned. In the middle of their emotions, God gave them an assignment. That shows us something powerful. You do not have to wait until everything feels settled to be used by God.

2 Cor 1:3-4 Blessed be God, even the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of mercies, and the God of all comfort; Who comforteth us in all our tribulation, that we may be able to comfort them which are in any trouble, by the comfort wherewith we ourselves are comforted of God.

Grief has a way of making us feel like we need to pause everything and step back. There is a place for healing and processing, yet God still meets us right there and speaks purpose into our lives. What you are walking through does not disqualify you. God can use your story, your process, and even your pain to bring hope to someone else. God's assignments are often given in moments we would not expect.

Isa 61:3 To appoint unto them that mourn in Zion, to give unto them beauty for ashes, the oil of joy for mourning, the garment of praise for the spirit of heaviness, that they might be called trees of righteousness, the planting of the Lord, that he might be glorified.

Prayer Focus: Father, meet me in every place where I feel heavy and remind me that You still have a purpose for my life.

Verse of the Day: Psalms 30:5 For his anger endureth but a moment; in his favour is life: weeping may endure for a night, but joy cometh in the morning.

Living the Word Today: God brings purpose out of sorrow and strength out of weakness. The same place that held your tears can become the place where your voice carries truth. God is able to work through you right where you are.
