JULY 2026

Bishop James D. Corbett

Greetings in the wonderful name of Jesus!

As we enter the second half of 2026, Lady Sarah and I want to pause and give thanks to God for His faithfulfulness. The first half of this year has been filled with answered prayers, open doors, divine provision, ministry opportunities, and countless testimonies of God's goodness. Through every challenge and every victory, the Lord has remained faithful.

We also celebrate and thank God for America as our nation marks 250 years of history and heritage. We pray God's continued blessings upon our nation and believe for spiritual awakening, unity, wisdom, and renewed strength. Psalm 33:12 reminds us, "Blessed is the nation whose God is the LORD; and the people whom he hath chosen for his own inheritance."

Lady Sarah and I want you to know how deeply we love and appreciate each of you. Your prayers, encouragement, and faithful offerings of support continue to help advance the work of the ministry and reach lives with the Gospel of Jesus Christ. You are making an eternal difference.

As we look ahead, our expectation is great. We believe the Lord has greater things prepared in this second half of the year. Stay encouraged, remain faithful, keep believing, and continue expecting God to do exceeding abundantly above all that we ask or think.

Lady Sarah and I love you and appreciate you.

Love and Blessings,
James D. Corbett

Speaking Truth with Wisdom and Grace

Prov 11:12 He that is void of wisdom despiseth his neighbour but a man of understanding holdeth his peace.

Many have a genuine desire to help others. When we see someone making poor decisions or walking through a difficult situation, our first instinct is often to offer advice. While sharing wisdom can be a blessing, not every moment is the right moment to speak. Sometimes people are not ready to receive what we have to say. Other times they simply need someone to listen rather than someone to instruct. Godly wisdom is not only knowing what to say. It is also knowing when to say it and how to say it in a way that reflects God's love.

Ecc1 3:7 A time to rend and a time to sew a time to keep silence and a time to speak.

Jesus demonstrated perfect wisdom in His interactions with people. He spoke truth boldly, yet He also knew when to remain silent. He met people where they were and addressed their hearts rather than simply correcting their behavior. As believers, we should seek God's guidance before offering counsel. A well-timed word spoken with grace can encourage, strengthen, and redirect someone. However, wisdom shared at the wrong time or with the wrong attitude can create resistance and unnecessary conflict. The goal is not to prove that we are right. The goal is to help others grow closer to God.

Col 4:6 Let your speech be always with grace seasoned with salt that ye may know how ye ought to answer every man.

Prayer Focus: Lord, help me speak with wisdom, grace, and discernment. Teach me to know when to speak, when to listen, and how to share truth in a way that honors You and helps others.

Verse of the Day: Prov 25:11 A word fitly spoken is like apples of gold in pictures of silver.

Living the Word Today: Wisdom is not measured by how much advice a believer can give. It is revealed in knowing the right words, the right attitude, and the right time to share them.

The Freedom Jesus Purchased for Us

John 8:36 If the Son therefore shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed.

One of the greatest gifts Jesus gave us through His death and resurrection is freedom. Many people think of freedom only in terms of circumstances, but the freedom Christ purchased goes much deeper than that. Through His sacrifice, believers are set free from the penalty of sin, the power of sin, and the hopelessness that comes from being separated from God. Jesus did not come merely to improve our lives. He came to redeem us and restore our relationship with the Father. As believers, we no longer have to carry the burden of trying to earn God's love because His grace has already made a way for us.

Rom 6:23 For the wages of sin is death; but the gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord.

Before Christ, every person stood guilty before a holy God. Yet Jesus willingly took our place on the cross so that we could be forgiven and reconciled to Him. Because of Christ's finished work, we no longer have to live under condemnation. What a comfort it is to know that our failures do not have the final word when we belong to Jesus.

Rom 8:1 There is therefore now no condemnation to them which are in Christ Jesus, who walk not after the flesh, but after the Spirit.

Prayer Focus: Lord, thank You for the freedom You purchased for me through Your sacrifice on the cross. Help me walk daily in the liberty You have given me and never return to the bondage from which You delivered me.

Verse of the Day: Gal 5:1 Stand fast therefore in the liberty wherewith Christ hath made us free, and be not entangled again with the yoke of bondage.

Living the Word Today: When we remember what Jesus has done for us, we can face each day with confidence, knowing that true freedom is not found in doing whatever we want, but in living the life God created us to live.

July 3

Finding Your Identity in Christ Instead of Performance

Eph 2:10 For we are his workmanship created in Christ Jesus unto good works which God hath before ordained that we should walk in them.

Many people spend their lives trying to prove their worth. They work harder, achieve more, and constantly seek approval from others in hopes of feeling valuable. The problem is that performance can never provide lasting security because there will always be another goal to reach or another expectation to meet. God never intended for our identity to be built on accomplishments. Our value comes from who we belong to. We are God's workmanship, carefully created and deeply loved by Him.

Gal 2:20 I am crucified with Christ nevertheless I live yet not I but Christ liveth in me and the life which I now live in the flesh I live by the faith of the Son of God who loved me and gave himself for me.

Placing our identity in performance can leave us exhausted and discouraged. We celebrate when we succeed and feel defeated when we fall short. Christ offers something much better. Through His sacrifice, He gave us a new identity that is not dependent on perfect performance.

2 Cor 5:17 Therefore if any man be in Christ he is a new creature old things are passed away behold all things are become new.

Prayer Focus: Lord, help me find my identity in You instead of my accomplishments or the approval of others. Remind me each day that I am loved, accepted, and valued because I belong to You.

Verse of the Day: 1 John 3:1 Behold what manner of love the Father hath bestowed upon us that we should be called the sons of God therefore the world knoweth us not because it knew him not.

Living the Word Today: The believer's worth is not determined by success, failure, titles, or achievements. Their true identity is found in Christ, and that identity remains secure because it is rooted in God's unchanging love.

July 4

When God's Freedom Looks Different Than We Expect

Isa 55:8 For my thoughts are not your thoughts neither are your ways my ways saith the Lord.

Many have an idea of what freedom should look like. We think freedom means every door opens, every prayer is answered the way we hoped, and every burden disappears. Yet God often defines freedom differently than we do. Sometimes He does not remove the storm right away, but He gives us peace in the middle of it. Sometimes He does not change our circumstances immediately, but He changes our hearts so we can walk through those circumstances with faith and confidence.

John 8:32 And ye shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free.

The Israelites expected freedom from Egypt to lead them straight into comfort and abundance. Instead, they found themselves in a wilderness where God taught them dependence, obedience, and trust. In much the same way, believers may expect God to free them from every challenge, only to discover that He is using those challenges to strengthen their faith. True liberty is not found in having complete control over life. It is found in knowing that God is in control and that His plans are always good, even when we do not fully understand them.

2 Cor 3:17 Now the Lord is that Spirit and where the Spirit of the Lord is there is liberty.

Prayer Focus: Lord, help me trust Your definition of freedom even when it looks different from what I expected. Teach me to find peace in Your plans and confidence in Your wisdom.

Verse of the Day: Ps 119:45 And I will walk at liberty for I seek thy precepts.

Living the Word Today: We can experience true freedom when we trust God's wisdom above our expectations. His plans may not always look the way we imagined, but His purpose is always leading us toward something greater.

July 5

Break Free from Comparison

Gal 6:4 But let every man prove his own work and then shall he have rejoicing in himself alone and not in another.

Comparison is a trap that many people fall into without even realizing it. It can make us feel like we are not doing enough, not accomplishing enough, or not measuring up to someone else's success. Social media, careers, ministries, finances, and even spiritual growth can become areas where comparison quietly steals our joy. The problem with comparison is that it causes us to focus on someone else's journey instead of appreciating the unique path God has given us.

2 Cor 10:12 For we dare not make ourselves of the number or compare ourselves with some that commend themselves but they measuring themselves by themselves and comparing themselves among themselves are not wise.

God never intended for believers to compete with one another. He created each person with a unique purpose and calling. What God is doing in someone else's life does not diminish what He wants to do in yours. When Peter became concerned about another disciple's future, Jesus reminded him to stay focused on his own walk with God. The Lord knows exactly where you are, what you need, and the pace at which He is growing you.

Prayer Focus: Father, Lord, help me keep my eyes on You and not on comparisons with others. Teach me to be grateful for the unique purpose, gifts, and calling You have given me.

Verse of the Day: Heb 12:2 Looking unto Jesus the author and finisher of our faith who for the joy that was set before him endured the cross despising the shame and is set down at the right hand of the throne of God.

Living the Word Today: Comparison steals joy, but gratitude and trust in God's purpose bring lasting peace.

July 6

The Freedom to Rest

Matt 11:28 Come unto me all ye that labour and are heavy laden and I will give you rest.

Many people live under constant pressure to do more, achieve more, and prove more. Even as believers, it can be easy to fall into the mindset that our worth is connected to how productive we are. We fill our schedules, carry burdens we were never meant to carry, and often feel guilty when we slow down. Yet Jesus offers a different invitation. He calls us to come to Him and find rest. God never intended for His children to live exhausted and overwhelmed. He desires for us to trust Him enough to lay down our burdens and receive His peace.

Ps 46:10 Be still and know that I am God.

Rest is not laziness. Rest is an act of faith. When we choose to rest in God, we acknowledge that He is in control and that the success of our lives does not depend solely on our efforts. Many times, striving comes from fear. We fear falling behind, disappointing others, or missing opportunities. But God's Word reminds us that He is the One who opens doors, provides direction, and sustains His people. When we stop trying to carry everything ourselves, we make room for God to work in ways we never could. The freedom Christ gives includes freedom from the endless cycle of striving. He invites us to walk with Him, trust His timing, and find strength in His presence.

Heb 4:9 There remaineth therefore a rest to the people of God.

Prayer Focus: Father, help me release the pressure to constantly strive and prove myself. Teach me to trust You, rest in Your presence, and find peace in Your perfect care.

Verse of the Day: Exod 33:14 And he said My presence shall go with thee and I will give thee rest.

Living the Word Today: We do not have to carry burdens alone. Cast your cares on the Lord. True rest is found in trusting God with what cannot be controlled and finding peace in His presence.

July 7

Don't Put Yourself in Chains

Prov 5:22 His own iniquities shall take the wicked himself and he shall be holden with the cords of his sins.

When we think about bondage, we often imagine something obvious and unavoidable. Yet some of the strongest chains in our lives are the ones we choose without realizing it. Bitterness, pride, unforgiveness, worry, jealousy, and unhealthy habits can quietly take root in our hearts over time. What begins as a small compromise can slowly grow into something that affects our peace, relationships, and walk with God. The enemy does not always work through dramatic temptations. Sometimes he simply encourages attitudes and behaviors that keep us from experiencing the freedom Christ has already provided.

Heb 12:1 Wherefore seeing we also are compassed about with so great a cloud of witnesses let us lay aside every weight and the sin which doth so easily beset us and let us run with patience the race that is set before us.

One of the first steps toward freedom is recognizing what is holding us back. It is easy to point to outside circumstances while ignoring the habits and attitudes that may be contributing to our struggle. God lovingly reveals these things not to condemn us but to help us grow.

John 8:36 If the Son therefore shall make you free ye shall be free indeed.

Prayer Focus: Lord, reveal any habits or attitudes that are keeping me from walking in the freedom You desire for me. Give me the courage to surrender every chain and trust You to transform my heart.

Verse of the Day: Ps 139:23 Search me O God and know my heart try me and know my thoughts.

Living the Word Today: Freedom begins with honest self-examination before God. When we allow Him to reveal hidden chains, we can experience the liberty and peace that come from walking closely with Christ.

July 8

Be Honest with God

Ps 62:8 Trust in him at all times ye people pour out your heart before him God is a refuge for us. Selah.

Sometimes people feel like they need to have the right words before they come to God. They try to sound spiritual, hide their struggles, or pretend they are stronger than they really are. Yet God already knows every thought, fear, disappointment, and question in our hearts. He is not looking for polished prayers. He desires honest conversations with His children. Authentic prayer begins when we stop trying to impress God and start trusting Him enough to tell Him exactly what is on our hearts. The Lord welcomes our tears, our concerns, our confusion, and even our frustrations because He loves us completely.

Heb 4:16 Let us therefore come boldly unto the throne of grace that we may obtain mercy and find grace to help in time of need.

Throughout Scripture, God's people were honest with Him. David poured out his fears. Hannah shared her deep sorrow. Elijah confessed his exhaustion. None of them were rejected for their honesty. Instead, they found God's comfort, strength, and guidance. Prayer is not about presenting a perfect version of ourselves. It is about bringing our real selves into God's presence. When we are honest with Him, we create space for Him to heal, strengthen, and transform us from the inside out.

1 Pet 5:7 Casting all your care upon him for he careth for you.

Prayer Focus: Lord, help me come before You with complete honesty and trust. Teach me to pour out my heart without fear, knowing that You love me, hear me, and care for every detail of my life.

Verse of the Day: Jer 29:13 And ye shall seek me and find me when ye shall search for me with all your heart.

Living the Word Today: Authentic prayer is not about finding perfect words. It is about bringing a sincere heart before God and trusting Him with everything that matters most.

July 9

Finding Peace Through a Surrendered Mind

Isa 26:3 Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace whose mind is stayed on thee because he trusteth in thee.

Many people long for peace, yet they spend much of their time trying to control every detail of their lives. When things do not go according to plan, anxiety, frustration, and fear can quickly take hold. The truth is that peace is not found in having complete control. Peace is found in trusting the One who is in control. Surrendering to God means placing our hopes, worries, plans, and uncertainties into His capable hands.

Prov 3:5 Trust in the Lord with all thine heart and lean not unto thine own understanding.

Surrender is often one of the hardest lessons for believers to learn because our instinct is to hold on tightly. We want answers, timelines, and guarantees. Yet God asks us to trust Him even when we cannot see the entire path ahead. Every act of surrender is an act of faith. It is choosing to believe that God's wisdom is greater than our understanding and that His plans are better than anything we could create on our own.

Phil 4:6 7 Be careful for nothing but in every thing by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be made known unto God. And the peace of God which passeth all understanding shall keep your hearts and minds through Christ Jesus.

Prayer Focus: Lord, help me surrender every burden, worry, and uncertainty to You. Teach me to trust Your plans and rest in the peace that comes from knowing You are in control.

Verse of the Day: Psa 55:22 Cast thy burden upon the Lord and he shall sustain thee he shall never suffer the righteous to be moved.

Living the Word Today: The peace that comes from surrender remains steady because it is rooted in God's presence and promises.

July 10

Obedience is God's Protection, Not Restrictions

Deut 5:33 Ye shall walk in all the ways which the Lord your God hath commanded you that ye may live and that it may be well with you and that ye may prolong your days in the land which ye shall possess.

Many people view obedience to God as a list of rules designed to limit their freedom. They see His commands as restrictions that keep them from enjoying life. Yet God's instructions were never intended to harm us. They were given to protect us, guide us, and help us experience His best. Just as a loving parent sets boundaries for a child, God establishes boundaries because He sees dangers we cannot see and knows what will ultimately bring life, peace, and blessing. His commands are evidence of His love and care for His children.

Ps 119:105 Thy word is a lamp unto my feet and a light unto my path.

When we choose obedience, we are choosing to trust God's wisdom above our own understanding. There may be times when His direction does not make sense to us in the moment. We may not understand why He tells us to forgive, wait, serve, or walk away from certain situations. Yet obedience positions us to receive His guidance and protection. God's Word illuminates the path ahead, helping us avoid pitfalls that could bring unnecessary pain. What may feel like a limitation today may actually be God's loving protection for tomorrow.

John 14:15 If ye love me keep my commandments.

Prayer Focus: Father, help me see Your commands as loving protection rather than unwanted restrictions. Give me a willing heart to trust and obey You even when I do not fully understand Your direction.

Verse of the Day: Isa 48:17 Thus saith the Lord thy Redeemer the Holy One of Israel I am the Lord thy God which teacheth thee to profit which leadeth thee by the way that thou shouldest go.

Living the Word Today: God's instructions are given out of love and wisdom. When we trust His guidance and walk in obedience, we discover that His ways lead to peace, protection, and lasting joy.

July 11

The Purpose Behind Redemption

1 Pet 2:9 But ye are a chosen generation a royal priesthood an holy nation a peculiar people that ye should shew forth the praises of him who hath called you out of darkness into his marvellous light.

Redemption is one of the greatest gifts God has ever given mankind. Through the sacrifice of Jesus Christ, we have been forgiven, restored, and brought into a relationship with God. Yet redemption is about more than being rescued from sin. It is also about being called into a new purpose. God redeemed us from sin so we could avoid judgment and eternal damnation and so we could live for Him, reflect His character, and share His love with others.

Eph 2:10 For we are his workmanship created in Christ Jesus unto good works which God hath before ordained that we should walk in them.

Many people spend years searching for purpose in careers, accomplishments, possessions, or recognition. While those things may have value, they can never fully satisfy the longing that God placed within us. True purpose is found in understanding who we are in Christ and why He saved us. God has uniquely gifted each believer to serve, encourage, and impact the lives of others. Redemption is not the end of the story. It is the beginning of a new life filled with opportunities to glorify God and fulfill His calling.

2 Cor 5:17 Therefore if any man be in Christ he is a new creature old things are passed away behold all things are become new.

Prayer Focus: Lord, thank You for redeeming me through the sacrifice of Jesus Christ. Help me live with purpose each day and use my life to bring glory to You and encouragement to others.

Verse of the Day: Tit 2:14 Who gave himself for us that he might redeem us from all iniquity and purify unto himself a peculiar people zealous of good works.

Living the Word Today: Redemption is not only about what God saved believers from. It is also about what He saved them for. Every redeemed life has purpose, value, and an opportunity to reflect God's glory.

July 12

Dream Again

Joel 2:28 And it shall come to pass afterward that I will pour out my spirit upon all flesh and your sons and your daughters shall prophesy your old men shall dream dreams your young men shall see visions.

There are times in life when dreams seem to fade. Disappointments, setbacks, responsibilities, and the passing of years can cause people to quietly put their hopes on a shelf. Some begin to believe they have missed their opportunity or that God can no longer use them in meaningful ways. Yet throughout Scripture, God often called people into new seasons long after they thought their greatest opportunities had passed. Moses was eighty years old when God called him to lead Israel. Abraham and Sarah received God's promise in their later years. God is not limited by age, timing, or circumstances.

Phil 1:6 Being confident of this very thing that he which hath begun a good work in you will perform it until the day of Jesus Christ.

Sometimes the biggest obstacle to dreaming again is fear. Fear of failure, disappointment, or that things will not work out the way we hope. Yet faith calls us to trust God more than our fears. The Lord is continually working in the lives of His people, shaping them, preparing them, and opening doors in His perfect timing. What feels like a closed chapter may simply be preparation for the next one.

Jer 29:11 For I know the thoughts that I think toward you saith the Lord thoughts of peace and not of evil to give you an expected end.

Prayer Focus: Lord, help me trust You with the dreams You have placed in my heart. Give me the courage to believe that You still have purpose, opportunity, and blessings ahead of me.

Verse of the Day: Ps 92:14 They shall still bring forth fruit in old age they shall be fat and flourishing.

Living the Word Today: God's plans are not limited by age, past disappointments, or missed opportunities. The believer can dream again because the God who gives purpose continues to work in every season of life.

July 13

Do Not Be Easily Offended

Prov 19:11 The discretion of a man deferreth his anger and it is his glory to pass over a transgression.

Living among people means there will be times when feelings get hurt, expectations are not met, and misunderstandings occur. It is easy to become offended when someone says the wrong thing, overlooks us, disagrees with us, or fails to treat us the way we think they should. Yet carrying offense can become a heavy burden. What begins as a small irritation can grow into bitterness, resentment, and division if left unchecked. God calls His people to a higher standard. He teaches us to respond with grace, patience, and understanding rather than allowing offense to take root in our hearts.

Eph 4:31 32 Let all bitterness and wrath and anger and clamour and evil speaking be put away from you with all malice: And be ye kind one to another tenderhearted forgiving one another even as God for Christ's sake hath forgiven you.

One reason people become easily offended is because they assume the worst about others. Sometimes an offense is intentional, but many times it is simply a misunderstanding or a moment of human weakness. When we remember how much grace God has extended to us, it becomes easier to extend grace to others.

Col 3:13 Forbearing one another and forgiving one another if any man have a quarrel against any even as Christ forgave you so also do ye.

Prayer Focus: Lord, help me respond to difficult situations with grace instead of offense. Teach me to forgive quickly, assume the best about others, and guard my heart from bitterness.

Verse of the Day: Ps 119:165 Great peace have they which love thy law and nothing shall offend them.

Living the Word Today: Choosing grace over offense yeilds greater peace, stronger relationships, and a heart that reflects the character of Christ. Refusing to be easily offended is a sign of spiritual maturity and trust in God.

July 14

Freedom from Hidden Bondages

Heb 12:1 Wherefore seeing we also are compassed about with so great a cloud of witnesses let us lay aside every weight and the sin which doth so easily beset us and let us run with patience the race that is set before us.

Not all bondages are obvious. Some are hidden beneath the surface and quietly influence our thoughts, attitudes, and actions. A person may appear free on the outside while carrying chains of fear, unforgiveness, pride, jealousy, worry, or insecurity on the inside. These hidden bondages often develop gradually and become so familiar that we stop recognizing them as obstacles. Yet God desires for His people to walk in complete freedom. He lovingly reveals the things that hinder our spiritual growth so that we can bring them to Him and experience His healing power.

Ps 139:23 24 Search me O God and know my heart try me and know my thoughts: And see if there be any wicked way in me and lead me in the way everlasting.

One of the greatest challenges with hidden bondages is that they are easy to justify. We may excuse bitterness because of past hurts or cling to worry because we think it helps us stay prepared. However, anything that controls our hearts more than our trust in God can become a form of bondage. The Holy Spirit faithfully shines His light into the areas we often overlook. His purpose is to help us grow in freedom and maturity.

John 8:36 If the Son therefore shall make you free ye shall be free indeed.

Prayer Focus: Lord, search my heart and reveal anything that is keeping me from walking fully in Your freedom. Give me the courage to surrender every hidden bondage and trust You to transform me from the inside out.

Verse of the Day: 2 Cor 3:17 Now the Lord is that Spirit and where the Spirit of the Lord is there is liberty.

Living the Word Today: Hidden bondages lose their power when they are brought into the light of God's truth.

July 15

Being Teachable

Prov 9:9 Give instruction to a wise man and he will be yet wiser teach a just man and he will increase in learning.

One of the greatest qualities a believer can possess is a teachable spirit. No matter how much we know, there is always more that God wants to show us. Pride tells us we already have the answers, but humility recognizes that growth is a lifelong journey. Being teachable means remaining open to God's correction, instruction, and guidance. It also means being willing to learn from His Word, from mature believers, and even from life's unexpected experiences. A teachable heart positions us to receive the wisdom God desires to give.

Prov 12:1 Whoso loveth instruction loveth knowledge but he that hateth reproof is brutish.

Correction is not always comfortable, but it is often one of God's greatest tools for growth. Many people enjoy encouragement but resist correction. Yet God corrects those He loves because He wants to help them mature and avoid unnecessary trouble. When we become defensive or refuse instruction, we can miss valuable lessons that would strengthen our faith. A teachable person understands that correction is not rejection. It is often God's way of shaping character and preparing them for greater responsibility and blessing.

James 1:22 But be ye doers of the word and not hearers only deceiving your own selves.

Prayer Focus: Lord, give me a humble and teachable heart that is willing to receive Your instruction. Help me welcome correction, apply Your truth, and continue growing in wisdom and faith.

Verse of the Day: Prov 1:5 A wise man will hear and will increase learning and a man of understanding shall attain unto wise counsels.

Living the Word Today: A teachable spirit keeps us growing, learning, and maturing in their walk with God. Humility opens the door for wisdom, and obedience turns knowledge into transformation.

God is Still Working When You Don't See it

Rom 8:28 And we know that all things work together for good to them that love God to them who are the called according to his purpose.

Some seasons in life feel like nothing is happening. Prayers seem unanswered, circumstances remain unchanged, and progress appears slow or nonexistent. It can be tempting to wonder if God sees what we are facing or if He is still at work. God is often doing His greatest work behind the scenes. Just because we cannot see Him moving does not mean He is inactive. He is arranging circumstances, preparing hearts, opening doors, and working out details that may not become visible until much later.

Esth 4:14 For if thou altogether holdest thy peace at this time then shall there enlargement and deliverance arise to the Jews from another place but thou and thy father's house shall be destroyed and who knoweth whether thou art come to the kingdom for such a time as this.

The story of Esther reminds us that God does not always work in obvious ways. Throughout the book, His name is never mentioned, yet His hand is evident in every detail. He positioned Esther, orchestrated events, and provided deliverance at exactly the right moment. In our own lives, God often works through circumstances, relationships, opportunities, and even delays.

Isa 55:8 For my thoughts are not your thoughts neither are your ways my ways saith the Lord.

Prayer Focus: Lord, help me trust You when I cannot see what You are doing. Give me confidence that You are working behind the scenes and accomplishing Your perfect will in my life.

Verse of the Day: John 5:17 But Jesus answered them My Father worketh hitherto and I work.

Living the Word Today: God's work is not limited to what believers can see. Even in seasons of waiting and uncertainty, He is faithfully working behind the scenes to accomplish His purposes and fulfill His promises.

July 17

Small Acts of Obedience

Luke 16:10 He that is faithful in that which is least is faithful also in much and he that is unjust in the least is unjust also in much.

Many people dream about doing great things for God, but they often overlook the importance of small acts of obedience. We tend to focus on major decisions, life changing moments, and visible accomplishments. Yet throughout Scripture, God frequently worked through ordinary acts of faithfulness.

Zech 4:10 For who hath despised the day of small things for they shall rejoice and shall see the plummet in the hand of Zerubbabel with those seven they are the eyes of the Lord which run to and fro through the whole earth.

Consider the boy who offered his lunch to Jesus. His contribution appeared insignificant compared to the needs of the crowd, yet Jesus used it to feed thousands. God delights in taking what seems ordinary and using it for extraordinary purposes. A kind word, a prayer, an encouraging note, a helping hand, or a moment of forgiveness may not seem important, but each act of obedience creates opportunities for God to work. Often, believers never fully realize how their faithfulness impacts the lives of others.

Gal 6:9 And let us not be weary in well doing for in due season we shall reap if we faint not.

Prayer Focus: Lord, help me remain faithful in the small things You place before me each day. Give me a willing heart to obey You, even when I cannot see the full impact of my actions.

Verse of the Day: 1 Sam 15:22 And Samuel said Hath the Lord as great delight in burnt offerings and sacrifices as in obeying the voice of the Lord Behold to obey is better than sacrifice and to hearken than the fat of rams.

Living the Word Today: Small acts of obedience are never wasted in God's kingdom. Faithfulness in everyday moments creates opportunities for God to work in ways that may reach far beyond what believers can see.

July 18

The Ministry of Encouragement

1 Thess 5:11 Wherefore comfort yourselves together and edify one another even as also ye do.

Encouragement is one of the simplest yet most powerful ministries a believer can have. Not everyone is called to stand behind a pulpit, lead a large ministry, or speak to crowds, but every Christian can encourage someone. A kind word, a sincere prayer, a thoughtful message, or a listening ear can make a tremendous difference in a person's life. Many people carry burdens that are invisible to others. They may be struggling with disappointment, grief, fear, or exhaustion. God can use a few encouraging words at just the right moment to remind them that they are not alone and that He has not forgotten them.

Heb 10:24 And let us consider one another to provoke unto love and to good works.

Barnabas is remembered in Scripture as the son of consolation, which means son of encouragement. He saw potential in people when others overlooked them. He supported believers, strengthened the church, and helped others grow in their faith. Encouragement does more than make someone feel good. It helps people keep moving forward when they feel like giving up. It inspires faith, strengthens hope, and points hearts back toward God. A believer never knows how far a simple act of encouragement may reach.

Prov 16:24 Pleasant words are as an honeycomb sweet to the soul and health to the bones.

Prayer Focus: Lord, help me be an encourager who strengthens and uplifts those around me. Show me opportunities each day to speak life, share hope, and point others toward You.

Verse of the Day: Isa 41:10 Fear thou not for I am with thee be not dismayed for I am thy God I will strengthen thee yea I will help thee yea I will uphold thee with the right hand of my righteousness.

Living the Word Today: Encouragement is a ministry that every believer can practice. A simple word spoken in love may become the very thing God uses to strengthen someone's faith and brighten their day.

Daily Faithfulness Matters

Luke 16:10 He that is faithful in that which is least is faithful also in much and he that is unjust in the least is unjust also in much.

Many people are inspired by big moments of faith, but the Christian life is usually built through small acts of daily faithfulness. It is easy to think that only major accomplishments matter to God, yet Scripture shows us that He values consistency. Daily prayer, time in His Word, serving others, choosing kindness, and obeying God in ordinary moments may seem small, but they have lasting significance.

Gal 6:9 And let us not be weary in well doing for in due season we shall reap if we faint not.

There are seasons when daily faithfulness can feel unnoticed and unrewarded. You may continue praying without seeing immediate answers. You may keep serving without receiving recognition. You may keep trusting God while waiting for a breakthrough. During those times, it is important to remember that God sees every act of obedience. Nothing done for Him is wasted. While we often focus on results, God focuses on faithfulness. He is working through every seed that is planted, even when growth is not immediately visible.

1 Cor 15:58 Therefore my beloved brethren be ye steadfast unmoveable always abounding in the work of the Lord forasmuch as ye know that your labour is not in vain in the Lord.

Prayer Focus: Lord, help me remain faithful in the everyday moments of life. Give me the strength to keep trusting, serving, and obeying You even when I cannot see immediate results.

Verse of the Day: Rev 2:10 Fear none of those things which thou shalt suffer behold the devil shall cast some of you into prison that ye may be tried and ye shall have tribulation ten days be thou faithful unto death and I will give thee a crown of life.

Living the Word Today: Great spiritual growth is often the result of ordinary faithfulness practiced consistently over time. God honors believers who continue to trust and obey Him one day at a time.

God Never Wastes a Season

Eccl 3:1 To every thing there is a season and a time to every purpose under the heaven.

Life is filled with seasons. Some are joyful and exciting, while others are difficult and uncertain. There are seasons of growth, waiting, celebration, loss, change, and restoration. During challenging times, it can be tempting to wonder if our struggles are accomplishing anything meaningful. We may feel stuck, overlooked, or delayed. Yet God never wastes a season. Every chapter of life has a purpose, even when that purpose is not immediately visible. The Lord is always at work, using each season to shape our character, strengthen our faith, and draw us closer to Him.

Rom 8:28 And we know that all things work together for good to them that love God to them who are the called according to his purpose.

Joseph experienced seasons of betrayal, slavery, and imprisonment before stepping into the purpose God had for him. David spent years tending sheep and later years running from Saul before becoming king. Neither season was wasted. God was preparing them for what lay ahead. In the same way, the seasons we would rather skip are often the very seasons God uses to teach us patience, humility, wisdom, and dependence upon Him.

James 1:4 But let patience have her perfect work that ye may be perfect and entire wanting nothing.

Prayer Focus: Lord, help me trust You in every season of life. Remind me that You are working for my good even when I cannot see what You are doing.

Verse of the Day: Gal 6:9 And let us not be weary in well doing for in due season we shall reap if we faint not.

Living the Word Today: Every season serves a purpose in God's plan. The believer can walk forward with confidence knowing that God is using each chapter of life to accomplish His good and perfect will.

July 21

Find Strength in Remembering the Unmanifested Promises

Heb 10:23 Let us hold fast the profession of our faith without wavering for he is faithful that promised.

One of the greatest challenges in the Christian life is trusting God while waiting for a promise that has not yet come to pass. It is easy to have faith when prayers are being answered and doors are opening. It is much harder when nothing seems to be changing and the promise remains unfulfilled. Yet some of the strongest faith is developed in the waiting season. God does not ask His people to trust in what they can see. He asks them to trust in His character.

Rom 4:20 21 He staggered not at the promise of God through unbelief but was strong in faith giving glory to God; And being fully persuaded that what he had promised he was able also to perform.

Abraham waited many years before seeing God's promise fulfilled. There were moments when the situation seemed impossible, yet he continued to believe God. The strength to endure did not come from favorable circumstances. It came from confidence in the One who made the promise. Many believers are walking through similar seasons today. They are praying, believing, and waiting. While the promise may not yet be visible, God is often working behind the scenes in ways that cannot yet be seen. His timing is perfect, and His purposes are always trustworthy.

Isa 40:31 But they that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength they shall mount up with wings as eagles they shall run and not be weary and they shall walk and not faint.

Prayer Focus: Lord, help me remain strong while I wait for the promises You have spoken over my life. Strengthen my faith and remind me that Your timing is always perfect.

Verse of the Day: Num 23:19 God is not a man that he should lie neither the son of man that he should repent hath he said and shall he not do it or hath he spoken and shall he not make it good.

Living the Word Today: The believer does not have to see the promise to trust the Promise Keeper. Strength is found in remembering that God is faithful even when the fulfillment has not yet appeared.

July 22

Being Fruitful Rather Than Just Busy

John 15:5 I am the vine ye are the branches he that abideth in me and I in him the same bringeth forth much fruit for without me ye can do nothing.

Many people wear busyness like a badge of honor. Their calendars are full, their schedules are packed, and they are constantly moving from one task to the next. While there is nothing wrong with working hard, being busy is not always the same as being fruitful. It is possible to spend a great deal of time and energy on activities that produce little lasting value. Are our lives producing fruit that honors Him? Fruitfulness comes from staying connected to Christ and allowing His life to flow through us.

Luke 10:41 42 And Jesus answered and said unto her Martha Martha thou art careful and troubled about many things: But one thing is needful and Mary hath chosen that good part which shall not be taken away from her.

Martha was busy serving, but Mary chose to sit at the feet of Jesus and listen to His words. Martha's work was important, but Jesus reminded her that priorities matter. Sometimes believers become so occupied with responsibilities that they neglect the very relationship that gives them strength and direction. Fruitfulness begins with spending time with God.

Gal 5:22 23 But the fruit of the Spirit is love joy peace longsuffering gentleness goodness faith Meekness temperance against such there is no law.

Prayer Focus: Lord, help me focus on being fruitful rather than simply being busy. Show me how to spend my time in ways that honor You and produce lasting results for Your kingdom.

Verse of the Day: Col 1:10 That ye might walk worthy of the Lord unto all pleasing being fruitful in every good work and increasing in the knowledge of God.

Living the Word Today: God values fruitfulness more than busyness. When believers stay connected to Christ and follow His direction, their lives produce results that have both present and eternal significance.

July 23

TRUST GOD'S WILL WHEN PLANS CHANGE

Proverbs 3:5 Trust in the LORD with all thine heart; and lean not unto thine own understanding.

Few things are more disappointing than seeing plans change unexpectedly. Whether it involves a job, relationship, ministry, business, or personal dream, sudden changes can leave us confused and discouraged. Yet delays and detours are not always rejection. Sometimes they are God's protection, redirection, or preparation. He sees what we cannot see, and His wisdom is far greater than ours.

Isaiah 55:8–9 For my thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are your ways my ways, saith the LORD. For as the heavens are higher than the earth, so are my ways higher than your ways, and my thoughts than your thoughts.

Scripture shows that God often leads through unexpected paths. Joseph's delays and detours positioned him for purpose, and Paul was redirected by the Holy Ghost. What first looked disappointing later proved to be God's direction. In the same way, believers can trust that God is ordering their steps even when His reasons are not yet clear.

Psalms 37:23 The steps of a good man are ordered by the LORD: and he delighteth in his way.

Prayer Focus: Lord, help me trust You when circumstances change and life does not unfold according to my plans. Strengthen my faith to believe that Your direction is always best.

Verse of the Day: Revelation 3:7 And to the angel of the church in Philadelphia write; These things saith he that is holy, he that is true, he that hath the key of David, he that openeth, and no man shutteth; and shutteth, and no man openeth.

Living the Word Today: Changed plans do not mean God has forgotten us. They often reveal His guidance, protection, timing, and preparation for what He has already prepared ahead.

July 24

Living With Eternal Perspective

Col 3:2 Set your affection on things above not on things on the earth.

It is easy to become consumed with the demands, challenges, and distractions of everyday life. Bills need to be paid, responsibilities need attention, and problems often seem urgent. While these things are part of life, God calls believers to view life through a different lens. An eternal perspective reminds us that this world is not our final home. The decisions we make, the way we treat others, and the priorities we establish all carry significance beyond the present moment. When we focus only on temporary concerns, we can lose sight of the greater purpose God has for our lives.

2 Cor 4:18 While we look not at the things which are seen but at the things which are not seen for the things which are seen are temporal but the things which are not seen are eternal.

Living with eternal perspective changes how we respond to life's difficulties. Challenges that seem overwhelming today are placed in a different context when viewed through the promises of God. Temporary setbacks do not have the power to destroy our hope because we know God is preparing something greater. Eternal perspective helps believers remain faithful during trials, patient during delays, and grateful during seasons of blessing.

Matt 6:20 But lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven where neither moth nor rust doth corrupt and where thieves do not break through nor steal.

Prayer Focus: Lord, help me keep my eyes on what matters most. Teach me to live each day with an eternal perspective and to invest my time, energy, and resources in things that bring glory to You.

Verse of the Day: Phil 3:20 For our conversation is in heaven from whence also we look for the Saviour the Lord Jesus Christ.

Living the Word Today: An eternal perspective helps believers focus on God's priorities instead of being consumed by temporary concerns. When eternity remains in view, everyday choices become opportunities to make a lasting difference.

July 25

Replacing Fearful Thoughts with Biblical Truth

2 Tim 1:7 For God hath not given us the spirit of fear but of power and of love and of a sound mind.

Fear has a way of affecting how we think, how we respond, and how we view the future. A fearful thought may begin as a small concern, but if it is allowed to grow unchecked, it can steal peace, cloud judgment, and weaken faith. Many people spend countless hours worrying about situations that have not happened and may never happen. God never intended for His children to be controlled by fear. Choose to replace fearful thoughts with the truth of God's Word.

Isa 41:10 Fear thou not for I am with thee be not dismayed for I am thy God I will strengthen thee yea I will help thee yea I will uphold thee with the right hand of my righteousness.

The enemy often uses fear to draw our attention away from God's promises and focus it on worst case scenarios. Biblical truth does the opposite. It reminds us that God is present, faithful, and fully aware of every detail of our lives. When fearful thoughts arise, believers can answer them with Scripture. If fear says, "You are alone," God's Word says, "I am with thee." If fear says, "You will not make it," God's Word reminds us that God will strengthen and uphold His people.

Phil 4:8 Finally brethren whatsoever things are true whatsoever things are honest whatsoever things are just whatsoever things are pure whatsoever things are lovely whatsoever things are of good report if there be any virtue and if there be any praise think on these things.

Prayer Focus: Lord, help me recognize fearful thoughts and replace them with the truth of Your Word.

Verse of the Day: John 14:27 Peace I leave with you my peace I give unto you not as the world giveth give I unto you Let not your heart be troubled neither let it be afraid.

Living the Word Today: Fear grows when we focus on uncertainty, but faith grows when we focus on God's promises.

July 26

Seeing God's Beauty in Nature

Psa 19:1 The heavens declare the glory of God and the firmament sheweth his handywork.

One of the greatest ways to be reminded of God's presence is to spend time appreciating His creation. Whether it is the sunrise over the ocean, a field of wildflowers, a towering mountain, or the sound of birds singing in the morning, nature constantly points to the beauty and power of its Creator. In the busyness of life, it is easy to overlook these everyday reminders of God's handiwork. Yet when we slow down and pay attention, we begin to see evidence of His creativity, wisdom, and care all around us.

Rom 1:20 For the invisible things of him from the creation of the world are clearly seen being understood by the things that are made even his eternal power and Godhead so that they are without excuse.

Jesus often used examples from nature to teach spiritual truths. He spoke about birds, seeds, trees, flowers, and fields because creation reveals important lessons about God's character. The same God who clothes the lilies and feeds the birds also watches over His children. Every part of creation reflects His faithfulness and provision.

Matt 6:28 29 And why take ye thought for raiment Consider the lilies of the field how they grow they toil not neither do they spin: And yet I say unto you That even Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these.

Prayer Focus: Lord, open my eyes to see Your beauty and glory through the world You created.

Verse of the Day: Job 12:7 8 But ask now the beasts and they shall teach thee and the fowls of the air and they shall tell thee: Or speak to the earth and it shall teach thee and the fishes of the sea shall declare unto thee.

Living the Word Today: Nature is one of God's many ways of revealing His greatness. Take time today to notice His handiwork and let creation remind you of the Creator's love, power, and faithfulness.

July 27

Raising Grateful Children in a Culture of Entitlement

1 Thess 5:18 In every thing give thanks for this is the will of God in Christ Jesus concerning you.

One of the greatest challenges parents face today is teaching children to be grateful in a culture that constantly encourages people to want more. Advertisements, social media, and peer pressure often send the message that happiness comes from getting the next thing, having the newest item, or receiving what others have. Without realizing it, children can begin to expect blessings instead of appreciating them. Gratitude does not happen automatically. It must be taught, modeled, and practiced.

Phil 2:14 Do all things without murmurings and disputings.

Children learn more from what they see than from what they hear. When parents regularly thank God for His provision, express appreciation for others, and choose contentment over complaining, children notice. Gratitude grows when families take time to recognize blessings both big and small. A meal on the table, a safe home, loving relationships, good health, and God's daily faithfulness are all gifts worth acknowledging. Teaching children to say thank you is important, but helping them develop thankful hearts is even more valuable.

Psa 107:1 O give thanks unto the Lord for he is good for his mercy endureth for ever.

Prayer Focus: Lord, help me model gratitude in my own life and teach the children around me to appreciate Your blessings. Give us thankful hearts that recognize Your goodness each day.

Verse of the Day: James 1:17 Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above and cometh down from the Father of lights with whom is no variableness neither shadow of turning.

Living the Word Today: Gratitude is learned through intentional practice and example. As children are taught to recognize God's blessings, they develop hearts that are content, joyful, and thankful for His faithfulness.

July 28

Overcoming by Faith

Rom 8:37 Nay in all these things we are more than conquerors through him that loved us.

Many people spend years simply managing struggles that God desires to help them overcome. Whether it is fear, bitterness, temptation, insecurity, worry, or unhealthy habits, it can become easy to accept certain battles as permanent parts of life. Instead of seeking victory, people settle for survival. While there are challenges that require patience and endurance, there are also strongholds that God calls us to confront through faith. Jesus came to give us victory through His power and grace.

2 Cor 10:4 For the weapons of our warfare are not carnal but mighty through God to the pulling down of strong holds.

The enemy would love for believers to believe that change is impossible. He whispers that the struggle will never end and that freedom is out of reach. God's Word tells a different story. Through prayer, obedience, faith, and the power of the Holy Spirit, strongholds can be broken and lives can be transformed. Victory often begins when believers stop identifying themselves by their struggle and start identifying themselves by what God says about them.

James 4:7 Submit yourselves therefore to God Resist the devil and he will flee from you.

Prayer Focus: Lord, help me stop settling for struggles that You have given me the power to overcome. Strengthen me through Your Spirit and teach me to walk in the victory You have provided through Jesus Christ.

Verse of the Day: 1 John 4:4 Ye are of God little children and have overcome them because greater is he that is in you than he that is in the world.

Living the Word Today: Believers are not called to merely endure every spiritual battle. Through Christ, they have the power to confront, overcome, and experience victory over the things that seek to keep them bound.

July 29

Rightly Dividing the Word of Truth

2 Tim 2:15 Study to shew thyself approved unto God a workman that needeth not to be ashamed rightly dividing the word of truth.

God has given us an incredible gift through His Word. The Bible provides wisdom, guidance, correction, encouragement, and instruction for every season of life. Yet simply reading Scripture is not enough. God calls His people to study His Word carefully and understand it correctly. When verses are taken out of context or interpreted according to personal opinions, confusion can result. Rightly dividing the Word of Truth means seeking to understand what God intended to communicate and applying those truths faithfully to our lives.

Acts 17:11 These were more noble than those in Thessalonica in that they received the word with all readiness of mind and searched the scriptures daily whether those things were so.

The believers in Berea provide a wonderful example of spiritual maturity. They did not blindly accept everything they heard. Instead, they searched the Scriptures to ensure that what was being taught aligned with God's Word. In today's world, believers are exposed to countless opinions, teachings, podcasts, videos, and social media posts. This makes biblical discernment more important than ever. Every teaching should be measured against Scripture because God's Word is the final authority. A strong foundation in the Bible protects believers from deception and helps them grow in truth.

Ps 119:105 Thy word is a lamp unto my feet and a light unto my path.

Prayer Focus: Lord, give me a hunger for Your Word and a desire to understand it correctly. Help me study diligently, apply Your truth faithfully, and grow in wisdom through the guidance of Scripture.

Verse of the Day: Prov 30:5 Every word of God is pure he is a shield unto them that put their trust in him.

Living the Word Today: God's Word is meant to be studied, understood, and applied. As we rightly divide the Scriptures, we grow in discernment, spiritual maturity, and confidence in God's truth.

July 30

Try the Spirit by the Spirit

1 John 4:1 Beloved believe not every spirit but try the spirits whether they are of God because many false prophets are gone out into the world.

Believers live in a time when information is everywhere. Messages, teachings, prophecies, opinions, and spiritual advice can be found with the click of a button. While some of it is sound and biblically grounded, not everything that sounds spiritual comes from God. That is why Scripture instructs believers to try the spirits and discern whether something truly aligns with God's Word. Discernment is not about being suspicious of everyone. It is about developing spiritual wisdom so that truth can be distinguished from error.

John 16:13 Howbeit when he the Spirit of truth is come he will guide you into all truth for he shall not speak of himself but whatsoever he shall hear that shall he speak and he will shew you things to come.

One of the greatest tools believers have for discernment is the Holy Spirit. The same Spirit who inspired the Scriptures lives within those who belong to Christ. He guides, convicts, warns, and directs God's people into truth. When something does not align with Scripture, the Holy Spirit often provides an inward check that prompts believers to seek God's wisdom more carefully. This is why prayer, Bible study, and a close relationship with God are essential.

Acts 17:11 These were more noble than those in Thessalonica in that they received the word with all readiness of mind and searched the scriptures daily whether those things were so.

Prayer Focus: Lord, help me develop spiritual discernment and wisdom. Teach me to test everything by Your Word and follow the guidance of Your Holy Spirit in all things.

Verse of the Day: Prov 14:15 The simple believeth every word but the prudent man looketh well to his going.

Living the Word Today: Not every spiritual sounding message comes from God. We must rely on the Holy Spirit and the truth of Scripture to discern what is right, true, and pleasing to the Lord.

July 31

Call Upon the Lord

Ps 118:5 I called upon the Lord in distress the Lord answered me and set me in a large place.

Life has a way of bringing challenges that remind us how much we need God. There are moments when we face situations beyond our ability to fix, understand, or control. During those times, it can be tempting to rely solely on our own strength or seek answers from every source except the Lord. Yet one of the greatest privileges believers have is the ability to call upon God in every circumstance. He is never too busy to hear our prayers and never too distant to respond to our cries. When trouble comes, our first response should be to turn toward Him.

Jer 33:3 Call unto me and I will answer thee and shew thee great and mighty things which thou knowest not.

The psalmist testified that he called upon the Lord in distress and received an answer. Notice that God's response was not merely to acknowledge the prayer. He brought the psalmist into a larger place. God often does more than solve a problem. He strengthens faith, provides wisdom, reveals His faithfulness, and draws His people closer to Himself. Sometimes the answer comes quickly. Sometimes it comes through a process. Either way, believers can trust that God hears every sincere prayer and works according to His perfect wisdom and timing.

Ps 145:18 The Lord is nigh unto all them that call upon him to all that call upon him in truth.

Prayer Focus: Lord, help me remember to call upon You first in every situation. Strengthen my faith as I trust You to hear my prayers and guide me according to Your perfect will.

Verse of the Day: Ps 50:15 And call upon me in the day of trouble I will deliver thee and thou shalt glorify me.

Living the Word Today: No burden is too heavy and no situation is too difficult for God. When believers call upon the Lord with sincere hearts, they can trust that He hears, responds, and faithfully works on their behalf.
