A RACE TO THE GRAVE

Everyday is just another day closer to death. Burial services are as varied and diverse as long as the ritual has existed. From our earliest roots, to the deepest graves, the burial process has included rituals around placement, artifacts and clothing as part of the rememberace of humans regardless of time and culture.

Its time to formalize our burial dress code for easy decomposition or cremation. The BURIAL Wear Collection provides recognition you're on your way to your final resting place, whether its today or years from now.
