Empowering Asian American girls to become leaders in their communities

INPUTS
- YLP Curriculum
- Participants
- Staff
- Community Partners
- Asian American Women Professionals

ACTIVITIES
- Community Building
- Leadership Development
- Identity Building
- Connections to Role Models

OUTCOMES
- Sense of Belonging
- Leadership Skills
- Clear & Positive Self-Identity
INPUTS

- YLP Curriculum
  A 6-month curriculum focusing on building identity, encouraging self-confidence, and developing leadership skills.

- Participants
  Asian American high school girls in Greater Boston area.

- Staff
  The volunteers and YLP director responsible for program implementation.

- Community Partners
  YLP connects participants to organizations that are working on issues affecting the Asian American community in Boston and beyond.

- Asian American Women Professionals
  Asian American women professionals serve as speakers and role models.

ACTIVITIES

- Community Building
  YLP takes a cohort-based approach with intentional community-building activities throughout different sessions.

- Leadership Development
  YLP curriculum focuses on leadership development, with each session targeting specific leadership skills.

- Identity Building
  Participants explore what it means to be Asian American and a woman, the assets and challenges that these communities have, and the movements that aim to address some of those challenges.

- Connections to Role Models
  Participants meet Asian American women professionals exercising their leadership in their schools, communities, and/or workplaces in Greater Boston to learn from their experiences.

OUTCOMES

- Sense of Belonging
  Participants form meaningful connections with other members of the cohort.

- Leadership Skills
  Participants recognize leadership in themselves and learn skills to act upon that leadership.

- Clear & Positive Self-Identity
  Participants understand different contributors to their identity, feel proud of their identity, and feel confident in themselves.