A flyer for an American Red Cross blood drive. The left side features a photograph of a young woman with long blonde hair, wearing a light blue t-shirt and jeans, sitting on a large purple beanbag chair in a library or bookstore. She is holding a green and white striped bag. Overlaid on the photo is the text "A HUMAN kind Blood Drive" in a mix of bold sans-serif and red script fonts. The right side of the flyer is a solid red vertical band. It contains the text "EVERY 2 SECONDS, SOMEONE IN THE U.S. NEEDS BLOOD." in white, all-caps, sans-serif font. Below this is a white rectangular button with a black border containing the text "schedule an appointment" in red, lowercase, sans-serif font. At the bottom of the red band is the American Red Cross logo, which consists of a white cross inside a red circle, followed by the text "American Red Cross" in white, sans-serif font.
