Second Sunday of Easter

Over the Jubilee Year we will explore the themes of Hope, Pilgrimage, and Jubilee, always ending with a question for you to consider over the week.

Today is Divine Mercy Sunday, a day set aside to remember that God's mercy is a gift freely given so we might have a right relationship with Him. During a Jubilee, we are called to do whatever we can to restore our relationships. It's helpful to use God's forgiving nature as a guide.

Ponder Point: When have you sought forgiveness but were afraid you didn't deserve it? When have you forgiven others after thinking you never could?

Dear Friends

Dear Friends,

Like so many of you, I woke on Easter Monday morning with what I refer to as a happy exhaustion from the previous days Easter celebrations only to be met by the news that our Holy Father, Pope Francis, had died earlier that morning.

It seems this week is full of sad ironies. On Tuesday, as I prepared for morning Mass at St. Mary's I opened the Sacramentary to the Mass for when a pope dies. Imagine my shock to realize that the Mass I was about to celebrate was for "Easter blessings for Pope Francis." Something that had been designated weeks in advance.

What a strange dichotomy we enter into this week. The celebration of a Risen Savior and the mourning of a much-loved pontiff. The thought occurs to me that it will be our belief and faith in that Risen Savior that will guide us through our grief.

By the time you are reading this, Pope Francis will be laid to rest. How hard it is to believe that, by next week at this time, we could be given a new leader to our Church.

It goes without saying, that this is a time for our world to enter into an intense period of prayer. Prayers for Pope Francis as we give him back to the God he served so well; Prayers for the cardinals as they elect a new pope to guide us.

Let us call upon our faith, that our belief in God and our Risen Savior, Jesus Christ will continue to guide and bless us and let us begin with prayer.
God bless,

Fr. John
