Love is an Act, Not Just a Feeling

On this sixth Sunday of Easter, our readings remind us that God must come first in our lives, and that love of God is shown through concrete actions — this is precisely why the stewardship way of life is so necessary.

Our second reading, from St. Peter, challenges us to “Sanctify Christ as Lord in your hearts.” In other words, we are to put Christ above all else. His role is not only as Savior — as essential as that is — but as Lord of our lives. As His disciples, we are called to place Him at the center of everything — our time, our talent, and our treasure.

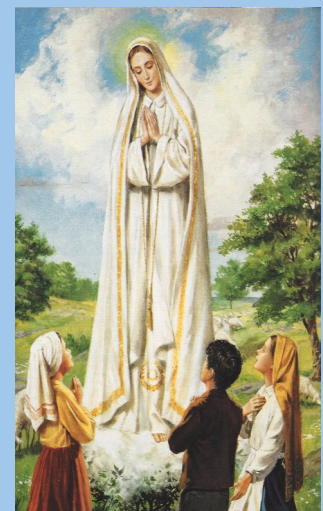

The beauty of the stewardship way of life is that it gives us a concrete way to live this out. It allows us to demonstrate that Christ truly is Lord of our lives, because love is not merely a feeling. “Whoever has my commandments and observes them is the one who loves me,” Jesus tells us in our Gospel from John.

True love is an act of the will. It requires obedience, humility, and deep trust in God. But the reward is extraordinary. Christ tells us, “Whoever loves me will be loved by my Father, and I will love him and reveal myself to him.”

Could there be anything more fulfilling than living in such a way that the God of the universe reveals Himself more fully to us?

From the Desk of Father Justin

Hello all. This article is a follow-up to my big Mass announcement last week, which I will briefly bring up from now until our starting date of June 9th. Our major effort for the summer is going to be a parish-based course of Financial Peace University.

Below is an initial FAQ. After this weekend, I will perpetually add on to this list and keep it up-to-date on our parish website. A QR code will be available in future bulletins. Starting then, please go ahead and refer to the website for the most up-to-date version of these questions and answers. For now, let's start with the basics!

Peace,
Father Justin

What is it? FPU is a Dave Ramsey program, which we did at Sacred Heart during my final year there. Our FPU will take place on Tuesday nights from 6:30 until 8:00 or 8:30*. We'll have snacks and child care every week and we'll be finished with the whole thing in time for the start of the school year. The program can be done online in the comfort of your own home - you can keep up on your own if you happen to miss a session or two, or you can do the whole thing alone if you like. The program is meant for the parish community to do it together, so I do advise you to consider taking part on Tuesdays nights with everyone else if at all possible.

Why does it work? FPU works for a number of reasons. 1) It's faith-based and draws upon logic and reason as well as what we learn from Sacred Scripture regarding money, debt, affluence/prosperity, saving for the future, and charitable giving. 2) Dave Ramsey gives it to us straight. FPU is not a "quick fix" sort of thing but details the one way to build wealth and reduce debt and excess spending. While Dave Ramsey certainly didn't invent the solution (the solution is indeed quite timeless), he nicely explains what the solution is and how to commit to it with focus and confidence. 3) It builds upon community and the fact that a parish is an ideal place to come together in such ways, to support one another and build one another up in daily life. 4) It's a "one step at a time" program. Everyone is at a specific point on their journey of financial independence/prosperity, and Dave Ramsey addresses the needs and goals for all those major phases. As such, you walk away knowing what to do next. The future can be overwhelming at times, and we do best as human beings when we focus exclusively on what we can immediately control... while leaving the rest for tomorrow and the Holy Spirit.

Who is it for? To be just a bit of a stinker: EVERYBODY. Literally all of you are invited. However, the program is most specifically meant for young married couples starting out their adult lives. I'd say the next group he'd focus on would be unmarried people between 19 and 40 years old, who are either in debt or struggling to make ends meet while living paycheck-to-paycheck. That being said, older folks and children are most certainly free to attend. Even if you are doing well at saving for the future and are already a charitable giver, you still stand to learn something at FPU.

What is the basic structure of the program? Get home from work, have a meal around 5:30 or 6:00, show up at the parish at 6:30. We'll start with the video of the evening, which will be about an hour long. Snacks, water, and coffee will be available. The video will be over around 7:30 and we'll shift to a large group-style conversation where we'll share our comments or reflections on the video and/or the topic of the day. You'll be free to leave at 8:00 if you're in a bit of a hurry, and some of will carry on until 8:30 at the latest. The kids will be free to head over to the child care area when you arrive, and we'll have at least two safeguarded adults every night. If, at any point, you want to check in on your kids, you can certainly take a break and head over to the child care area. The kids will also be free to come back to the parish hall if they need or want you... on the condition that they're quiet enough for people to be able to concentrate on the video.

Please strive to spend at least 90 minutes at FPU as the sharing bit is just as important as the video itself. After all, if it were just a video, we could all do this at home. Heck, half of us would binge those videos in a weekend if we could! But as someone who's done this before, the literal information is only a part of the program. Sharing and reflecting our thoughts as a parish community is a bigger part of the process than you can appreciate before experiencing it yourself. So I am asking you to make the time, over several weeks, and to trust the system. There's a reason this is such a popular program for financial wellness!

What do I have to do now? For now, please sign up so we can get an accurate count. All we really need ASAP is your household name, how many people will attend FPU, and how many kids will be present at child care (for at least one session). The full cost of the program, divided among 75 families, is about $65. We're asking for a baseline donation $25 per household to help cover the cost of the textbooks and the other materials for the program. The parish will happily cover any remainder of the cost.

A few miscellaneous comments on sharing and confidentiality: Attending FPU in no way is an admission that you or your family is in debt. Yes, Dave Ramsey starts with debt reduction because it's the first step to financial wellness and debt is sadly a common reality among Americans. However, plenty of people attend FPU with past debts already resolved.

While sharing experiences and/or financial situations in a group setting is a part of the process, no one will be forced to divulge sensitive information and no one will be pressured to answer any questions they're uncomfortable with. If you want to show up and be a silent participant, you will not be the only one. Literally everyone has something to learn here, so come as you are and know that the program will not push you out of your comfort zone if you're not ready for that.

*8:00 is the earliest appropriate time to leave. 8:30 is the appropriate latest time to leave.

We realize that you may not bring your kids to every session without exception. When you sign up, please let us know the number of kids who may need child care. If they have somewhere else to be on a Tuesday night, we totally understand. Child care is a service to our parents, not an obligation!

Congratulations to our First Communicants and Confirmandi!

A heartfelt thank you to the parents, catechists, teachers, sponsors, and all who have supported and guided these young people along the way.

May the Holy Spirit
continue to strengthen and guide
each of them as they grow in faith, hope and love.
