Story of Impact

Austin began attending YouthHope programs two years ago. At the time, he often struggled with anger and frequent emotional outbursts. Through consistent participation in small group time, Austin has made remarkable progress—learning how to manage his emotions, build trust, and show respect toward others.

With the guidance of a dedicated small group leader who led by example and held him accountable, Austin's character has been transformed. His teachers have shared how positively he has changed and how much he genuinely loves being part of YouthHope. Today, YouthHope continues to be a safe place where Austin belongs, grows, and strengthens his faith!
