Cut the Noise. Start Finding Faults.

Eliminate NVH guesswork with Pico Technology's PicoBNC+ probes. Traditional testing wastes time on manual reconfigurations and battery swaps. Our tools turn complex mechanical mysteries into actionable data instantly.

The breakthrough three-axis accelerometer captures vertical, lateral, and fore-aft vibration through a single PicoScope® channel. The PicoBNC+ interface recognizes hardware instantly, automatically applying software settings – eliminating configuration errors to ensure repeatability standard BNC probes cannot match.

Whether diagnosing worn bearings or powertrain imbalances, these probes deliver precision. Capture more data in fewer cycles, protect your reputation and get customers back on the road faster.

Master the Four-Corner Test

The Problem:

Identifying which corner of a vehicle is vibrating usually requires multiple road tests and constant sensor relocation.

The Solution:

The Advanced Kit empowers you to monitor all four corners of a vehicle simultaneously. By pairing four accelerometers with a four-channel PicoScope, you capture 12 axes of vibration data in a single test.
