

PRACTICE Short-prep assignment 2: Unusual Dream Job

Instructions

Welcome to "Unusual Dream Job"

In this assignment, imagine you're applying for a strange but surprisingly interesting job—and it's up to you to prove you're the perfect fit.

You'll have 30 minutes to prepare a speech that not only explains what the job is, but also why you're uniquely qualified to do it.

Convince your audience that while the job may be unusual, you were born for it.

Your speech must not exceed 3 minutes. Good luck!

Questions to help you build your speech:

1. What exactly does this job involve—and why is it more important than people think?
2. What unique skills, personality traits, or experiences make you the perfect candidate?
3. What would a "day in the life" look like for someone in this role?
4. What challenges come with this job, and how would you handle them?
5. What would happen if someone else got the job instead of you?

Choose one topic from the list below:

1. Stylist for Dick Schoof
2. Train squeezer (to help passengers into busy trains)
3. Barbie redesigner
4. Manager of a cat hotel
5. Fortune teller
6. Fake news creator
7. National TV Easter Bunny
8. Chairperson of the union for clowns
9. Therapist for abused AIs
