The Academic Procession

Programs will be placed on the seats of the chapel for Baccalaureate and at the gym for Commencement. The only thing you will carry with you on Saturday morning will be the card you will receive from a student marshal when you arrive to line up. Lineup will begin at 9:30 a.m. Please arrive promptly.

Each year, graduates symbolically leave the campus on their way to Commencement by walking down the Legacy Walk. The class will walk down the pathway of Centennial Hall and proceed toward College Street on the Legacy Walk.

When you arrive at your place in the gym, please remain standing for the invocation. Men should remove their caps and keep them off until the Commencement speaker finishes the address. Put them back on as the speaker returns to his/her seat. Seniors should wear their tassels on the right side; graduate students should wear theirs on the left.

Leave Your Legacy

Speaking of your march down the Legacy Walk, did you know the Legacy Walk is a time-honored commencement tradition? The long, brick walkway leads to the school's first academic structure, Centennial Hall, and is engraved with the names of former students and friends of the college, many of whom left legacies that helped shape the institution.

Historical markers and engravings honoring the college's founders are also part of the walkway. Students begin commencement there as a way to symbolize their connection to those who came before and those who will come after them.

If you are interested in becoming one of the many who have carved their name into Union's history by purchasing a brick on the legacy walk, visit : www.unionky.edu/brick
