Catholic Kid's Corner

And kids at heart!

The Pharisees continue to test Jesus with a question about the greatest commandment.

Love God, Love Others

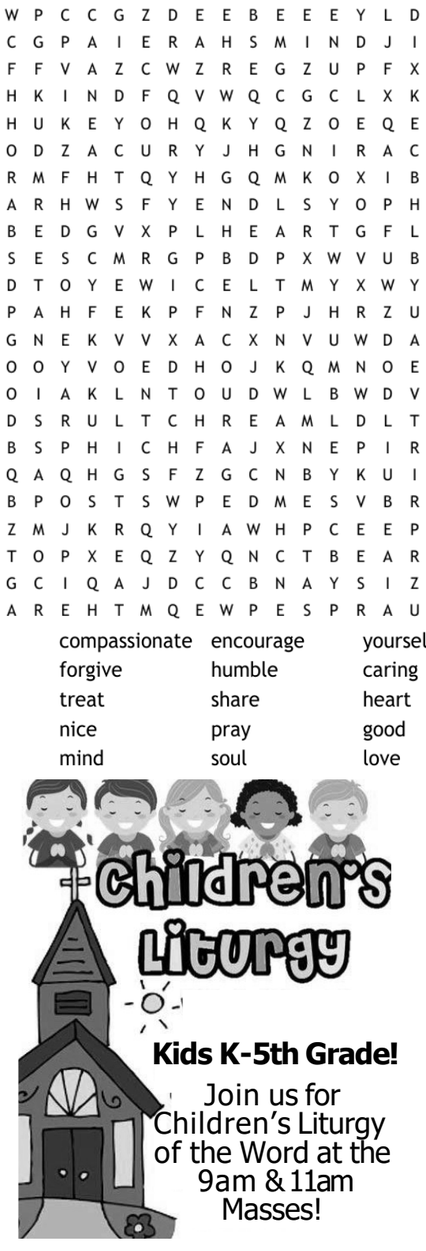

Jesus teaches us that the most important thing is to love God with all our hearts and love others as we love ourselves. When we pray, help others, share, and show kindness, we are living the way Jesus taught us.

Think about It: How can you show God's love to someone this week?

Prayer: Dear Jesus, help us to love You and to be kind to everyone we meet. Amen

Jesus replied: "'Love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your mind.' This is the first and greatest commandment. And the second is like it: 'Love your neighbor as yourself.' All the Law and the Prophets hang on these two commandments."

Matthew 22:34-40

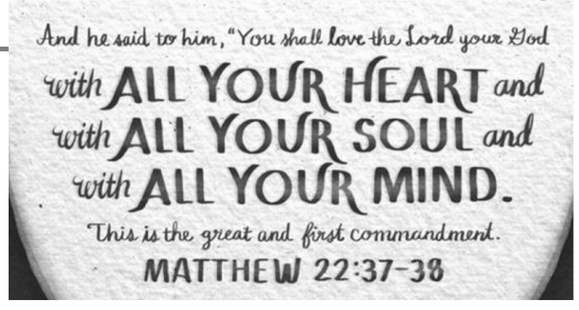

The Pharisees continue to test Jesus with a question about the greatest commandment.

This week's Gospel follows close behind the Gospel read last Sunday. It is the last of three questions put to Jesus by Jewish religious leaders who are trying to trick him into saying something that might get him arrested. This reminds us that the context for today's reading is the mounting tension between Jesus and the religious leaders in Jerusalem.

The Herodians and the Pharisees asked the first question, which was about taxes. The Sadducees asked the second question, which was about the Resurrection. The third question, considered in today's Gospel, is asked by a Pharisee who asks Jesus about the greatest of the commandments.

The question requires Jesus to interpret the Law of Moses. The Mosaic Law consists of the Ten Commandments and many additional rules, numbering over six hundred. Adherence to the Mosaic Law, for a devout Jew, is an expression of faithfulness to God's covenant with Israel. The ranking of the Commandments was regularly debated among the teachers of the Law.

Jesus answers the Pharisees' question with a two-fold summary. Jesus says that all of the commandments can be summarized in two commandments: love God and love your neighbor. Both of these were central elements of the religious tradition Jesus learned from his Jewish community. Indeed, these continue to be central aspects of contemporary Jewish religious understanding. Jesus' response to his questioners proposed an integral connection between these two aspects of the Jewish Law. Love of God finds its expression in our love for our neighbor.

"The witness of our Blessed Mother [in the Gospel account of her visit to her pregnant cousin, Elizabeth,] invites us to become more aware of the of pregnant and parenting moms in our own parishes and needs communities. …Mary's witness is an invitation to step out in love and compassion. It is a summons to make haste to help vulnerable women who may be isolated and alone."

THE CATHOLIC CORNER

In today's Gospel, Jesus reminds us that faith is not just about following rules.

At its heart is love: loving God with our whole heart and loving our neighbor as ourselves.

These two commandments belong together. The love we have for God is reflected in the kindness, patience, forgiveness, and compassion we show to others. When we make room for God in our daily lives, His love naturally flows through us to those around us.
This week, let us take a moment to ask ourselves: How is God inviting me to love more deeply? Perhaps through a word of encouragement, an act of forgiveness, or simply being present to someone in need.
Reflection Question:
How can I share God's love with someone this week?
Prayer:
Lord Jesus, fill our hearts with Your love. Help us to love You above all things and to see Your face in those around us. May our words and actions reflect Your goodness each day. Amen.

Respect for Life Ministry will be collecting items for Birthright and Care Net during the month of October. Look for bins at the entry of the church, they will be available after all Masses during October. Thank you for your generosity!
