2. Touring Difficulty – Is This Tour Right for You?

The tour is not sold or offered as ADA-compliant. Aside from the beautiful sites and lots of fun during our travels, there is important information you should consider:

- While touring, you will be boarding and getting off the vehicle several times per day, during touring days.
- Some of the days will entail several hours of walking on even and uneven pavements or roads, ascend and descend stairs (sometimes without railings), walk up or down hills, or stand in place for 30-60 minutes at a time, while listening to the guide’s explanations.
- Please be sure to review the brochure detailing the levels of difficulty for each shore excursion.
- Many of the sites are not designed to accommodate travelers with walking accessories.
- Some of the days may entail drives of 2 hours or longer.
- The vehicle on the tour is not ADA-compliant but it is air conditioned.
- It is possible to skip sites and stay on the vehicle or in the hotel/cruise, but there will be no refund for unused entrance fees.
- Sailing on a ship in the Mediterranean likely means at least some “pitching” (up/down movement) or “rolling” (swaying sideways).
- April weather is usually comfortable (70’s-80’s) during the daytime and cooler in the evenings (50’s-60’s).
- Food allergies or requirements will be noted and forwarded but may not be properly addressed. It is the responsibility of the participants to be diligent about their food.
