4. Social Dog Class

Eligibility

Criteria: A dog MUST have completed either a Puppy- or Bridging 1 class before it may register in the Social Dog class. There is no age restriction for dogs. Handlers must be over the age of 8 years. Dogs must not display any signs of aggression towards people or other dogs.

This class is specifically for those handlers and dogs who really cannot master the obedience side of training but who are still keen to come to the club and participate in some form of training. This class is not intended for dogs that have passed Rally Advance and higher at this stage (we are working on enhancing the class to accommodate dogs in higher classes). The class is also not intended for dogs competing at any KUSA level competition.

What is Social Dog class about? This class is a COMPETENCY class (can the dog master a skill?) and will not be evaluated on how well the dog executes an exercise.

There is no time limit to complete the 15 exercises in the Basic Social Class and there is no formal assessment at the end of the term. Once a dog has mastered all of the basic skills, the handler and dog will be awarded a competency certificate and can opt to then follow the normal mainstream classes the following term or the dog can remain in the Social class and enter for the Social Dog Advanced class.

Exercises include loose leash walking, self-control (stay in one spot), wait and recall, isolated stay, different positions (sit, down and stand), greeting people in a calm and orderly manner, fun weave exercise around 2 cones / poles, exposure to different surfaces, sniffing out treats, find an article, send to bed, master 2 basic tricks, play / have fun exercise, walk backwards and groom/brush the dog.

11. Country members (Social members)

This category is for any member (household) who wants a safe place to exercise and walk their dogs without the commitment of training.

The grounds are available for country members from sunrise to sunset weekdays, Saturday mornings until 11:00 and Sundays unless there are formal club activities taking place.

12. CARTING

Carting is a sport with many practical applications. A misconception is that Carting is limited to large dogs, but this is definitely not the case. If you think your big or small dog needs a job, check out this sport!

The load and cart are in proportion to the height, weight and strength of the dog, therefore even small dogs can pull a cart. Carting training is best accomplished using positive reinforcement techniques.

If you would like to perform demonstrations for public audiences, this sport will delight them. Besides the fun of entering dog shows, there are other benefits to carting. Imagine having help while gardening by loading things into the cart or shopping (if you live near shops) and the excitement of demonstrations where young children love to be given cart rides and most bigger dogs can pull a small child.

Carting is good exercise and can improve the dog's stamina and muscle tone – not to mention the handler's!

Minimum criteria:

- Dogs must be at least 14 months old to participate in the Carting class
- Dogs must actively participate in an obedience class; preferably Beginners or higher.

There are 4 Carting classes at club and competition level namely Mini Novice, Standard Novice, Mini Senior and Standard Senior.

The specialist carting trainer will confirm if your dog is suitable for carting. If you are interested in this sport, get your dog used to wearing a harness in the interim as all carts are attached to the harness (very similar to horse carts).

The trainer will slowly introduce the cart by first walking alongside your dog to get it used to the sound and movement before attempting to hitch the cart to the dog. Having your dog able to know and respond to cues in a distracting environment is very important. An out-of-control dog with a cart can be dangerous to himself and others.

Before attempting the carting course, handlers walk the course and the judge will explain technicalities and what to do.

13. COMPANION DOG (“CD”)

Control (heel work)

Send away to an object

Companion dog or “CD” has nothing to do with qualifying a dog to help people as a service dog or therapy dog; it is a combination of control, agility and nose work and is the basis of Classic Working Trials (which later includes tracking).

At Club Level there are 3 Companion dog levels, starting with Beginner Companion Dog. When a dog qualifies out of Beginner CD, it enters in the Companion Dog class and has the option of entering Super Companion Dog when the dog qualifies 3 times. Agility equipment heights are adjusted to suite small, medium and large dogs.

Minimum criteria:

Dogs must be at least 14 months old to participate in the CD classes and must actively participate in a Novice or Rally Fun class or higher.

14. DOG JUMPING / AGILITY

A sport for all breeds / sizes

Solid tunnel

Handler directs the dog over a jump

What is Dog Jumping and Agility?

Dog jumping and agility are dog sports in which a handler directs a dog through an obstacle course in a race for both time and accuracy. Dogs run off leash with no food or toys as incentives, unless training in the Beginners class where a closed food container or toy may be used. The handler cannot touch the dog or obstacles, meaning a handler's controls are limited to voice, movement and various body signals, requiring exceptional training and coordination.

In its simplest form, an agility or jumping course consists of a set of obstacles which are marked with numbers indicating the order in which they must be completed. The handler must assess the course, decide on handling strategies, and direct the dog through the course, with precision and speed.

Class criteria:

- Minimum age of the dog: At least 12 months to start training.
- All breeds can participate in Agility – from the smallest to the largest of dogs.
- Dogs must be under control off lead and preferably have passed an obedience class.
- The specialist trainer may conduct a suitability assessment.

If you think Agility and Dog jumping is the sport for you, ask yourself the following:

- Assess your dog's temperament to be sure he's right for the sport;
- Is he highly energetic?
- Does he enjoy running and responding to instruction?
- Does he get along well with other dogs?
- Training doesn't only involve your dog. You are critical to the process.
- You don't need to be a world class athlete to train agility with your dog. Through progress and development of good communication skills, you and your dog can compete, whether recreationally or at a competitive level.
- Dogs prone to injury or joint problems should be assessed by a qualified veterinarian or rehabilitation therapist and given the all clear.

What is the difference between Dog Jumping and Agility?

In South Africa there is Agility which is divided into Contact and Non-contact and Dog Jumping which is a separate discipline.

Dog jumping is based on horse jumping. Depending on which "table" is run, all dogs that ran clear (no faults and under the time limit), go through to a jump off round where the fastest dog with the least mistakes is declared the winner.

In Agility, a dog is only given one round and the fastest dog with the least mistakes is declared the winner.

Dog jumping has similar equipment as Non-Contact. The height classification also differs slightly between Agility and Dog jumping and agility has an extra grade ("level") which works backwards in dog jumping. Angles and distances between obstacles also differ in the 2 disciplines.

And the difference between Contact and Non-Contact agility?

Contact agility has 3 "contact" apparatus, with a different coloured zone which the dog must touch. If the dog misses the contact zone, a fault is indicated. The contact apparatus consists of a seesaw, A-frame and dog walk. These are removed from Non-contact agility.

Seesaw

A-Frame

Dog walk

At club level we have a Beginners class for new dogs and handlers – the aim is to lay the foundation and equip everyone to eventually compete at KUSA competitions should they wish to do so, once the dog has mastered commands and equipment.

At club level we mostly train dog jumping (or non-contact agility) but the trainers will be more than willing to assist or refer any handler and dog wishing to further their dog jumping or agility career.

15. FLYBALL

The 2 flyball lanes where 2 teams compete against one another

Our very own Luqa – a Flyball legend!

What is Flyball?

Flyball is a relay race between two teams each consisting of four dogs. The first dogs in each team is released upon a whistle and must negotiate four hurdles, trigger the flyball box that releases a tennis ball; catch the ball and return over the four hurdles through the start/finish poles. Once the first dog returns, the second dog is released but may not cross the first dog until that dog's nose passes the start line. The same applies for dog three and dog four. The aim is to get the dogs to pass as close as possible over the start/finish line – ideally a nose-to-nose cross.

For any infringements such as a dropped ball, missing a hurdle or not triggering the box to release the ball, the dog causing the error must run again.

At club level, dogs are assessed based on individual times. The senior group also run pairs (2 dogs) against one another.

Class criteria:

- Minimum age of the dog: At least 8 months old to start training.
- Your dog must be able to retrieve a tennis ball reliably and return it to you.
- Any breed can participate in flyball – hurdle heights are adjusted to the smallest dog in a team.
- Dogs must be under control off lead and not be aggressive towards people or other dogs.
- Your dog must preferably wear a harness to hold onto before being released. This also prevents pressure on the oesophagus.
- Dogs prone to injury or joint problems should be assessed by a qualified veterinarian or rehabilitation therapist and given the all clear.
- The specialist trainer may conduct a suitability assessment.

What we ask of you:

- Be an enthusiastic handler who is a team player and who can have fun with his/her dog; and encourage your dog to be a happy, energetic working dog!
- Teach a proper box turn ("swimmer's turn") as this will not only prevent muscle strains and other injuries, but will ensure a long, happy flyball career for your dog.
- Handlers must be willing to carry out equipment and set up the lanes.
- Handlers must be willing to learn how to box load (the person placing the balls in the box is called a box loader and has to know which dogs in the team turn left or right) and time keep / marshal and attend at least one competition either as an assistant or spectator.
- Take as long as necessary to train your dog to be the best it can be. Getting the dog in the ring as soon as possible is not listed as one of the training goals. Stick to the lessons and do not bypass any of them. Forget obedience commands except "COME"!

16. TRACKING

Tracking refers to a dog's ability to detect, recognise and follow a specific scent or odour. Scent or odour is the combined permeations of trampled vegetation, bugs, mud, and soil disturbed by an individual's footprints. The disturbed soil releases moisture and trampled plant life release odours. Footprints release new odours different to undisturbed vegetation surrounding it.

The tracklayer is a person laying the track that a dog will follow. For Dogs in the Junior 1 and higher classes, this person will, as far as possible, be a stranger to the dog for which he lays the track. The tracklayer will drop articles on his track. Articles will not be hidden or buried. On all tracks the last (or only) article is to be dropped at the end of the track. The age of the track is to be calculated from the time that the tracklayer begins the laying of the track.

Handlers will stay away from the tracking area until the time approaches for each to begin his track.

Tracking requires a vast open area to train in and takes a few hours to complete. It is not for handlers who love to sleep in on a Saturday morning as tracking starts very early!

At Club Level there are 7 tracking levels which become progressively more difficult as the dog masters each.

- Puppies 1 (first / basic level; dog of any age starts at this level)
- Puppies 2
- Beginners
- Junior 1
- Junior 2
- Senior
- Veteran

17. SNIFFER DOG

Sniffer Dog is a fun class and aimed at dogs that don't really excel in obedience but have the ability to use their noses and that love to retrieve.

Exercises include (but not limited to)::

- Finding hidden articles
- Area Search
- Scent discrimination
- Send away
- Find the handler
- Retrieve

Class criteria:

- Minimum age of the dog: Any age of dog
- Your dog must have completed at least a Bridging 2 or higher class
- Your dog must be able to pick up and carry an article (any article)
- Dogs must be able to work off lead

What we ask of you:

- Enthusiastic and prepared to have fun with your dog!

There are 2 Sniffer Dog levels:

- Junior
- Senior

18. DOG SPORTING EVENTS

You want to compete with your dog ... now what?

The Kennel Union of Southern Africa (“KUSA”) is the only recognised international body to register pure-bred (“pedigreed”) dogs and dogs for internationally recognised dog sport competitions in South Africa. If you have a breed registered dog i.e. your dog was bred by a reputable and ethical breeder who is a member of the Kennel Union, the breeder would have already registered the puppies and given you the KUSA registration certificate for your dog. All you need to do is change ownership by completing the back of the form and sending it to KUSA, if this was not already done by your dog’s breeder. This is free for the first transfer of ownership as your dog’s breeder would have paid for the initial registration.

You can however, if you have a cross-breed dog or a dog with unknown ancestry, register your dog with KUSA on the Dogsport Record. This will allow you to compete in competitions in the various dog sports (“working disciplines”) such as Agility, Dog jumping, Obedience, Flyball, Tracking, Dog Dancing, Rally Obedience, Carting, Companion Dog and other Classic Working Trial competitions, Rescue Dog etc.

Your dog must be microchipped before you can proceed with the registration process.

Once you have registered your dog, you need to hand a copy of your dog’s registration certificate to the respective working discipline representative to issue you with a record card to enable you to compete. E.g. in Obedience you will be issued with a blue record card; in Dog jumping it is pink etc. The record must be handed to the judge of the class you enter to prove your dog is allowed to compete and at what level and also for the judge to record qualifying scores.

Two types of competitions (“shows”) held under the regulations of KUSA:

- Non-championship show or more commonly known as an Open show. Your dog must be registered to compete (except in the “Special or Elementary Obedience class” and “Beginner Flyball class”). You as the owner of the dog need not be a member of the Kennel Union to enter a non-championship show. Most open shows close a day or 2 before the event or even on the day. You can still qualify in the lower classes to move up a level, but if you are in the top class, you won't receive a "QC" or Qualifying Certificate if you win the class.

- Championship show: Your dog must be registered with KUSA and you as the owner, must be a member of the Kennel Union to enter. Entries for championship shows are submitted approximately 2 weeks before the event. A closing date is annotated on the show schedule and fees are paid up front. The show entry forms are on the KUSA website to download (<https://kusa.co.za/index.php/events/show-documents/show-entry-forms>) although many clubs are opting for online registrations and make use of google forms.

Know your rules!

For each discipline there are rules and regulations and these can be downloaded from the KUSA website

<https://www.kusa.co.za/index.php/documents/constitution-schedules>

Which class to enter?

For all disciplines, a dog starts in the lowest level and has to qualify out of that level to progress to the next level. E.g. in Obedience you start in Beginners, then Novice, Class A, Class B and Class C (highest level); in Carting there is a Novice and Senior level etc. Flyball is the only exception, as a new dog in a team will run in the team event irrespective of level of experience.

Depending on the discipline you enter, your dog needs a certain amount of qualifications to move up a grade / level of difficulty. Once your dog reached the top grade / level, your dog is eligible to become a champion in that discipline depending on the criteria e.g. a dog awarded three Obedience Qualifying Certificates in Class C, each by a different Judge, will qualify as an Obedience Champion and a KUSA Certificate to this effect will be issued. Qualifying certificates are only issued at championship shows.
