Greg Widmeyer

Director of Technology
DIALOG Design

Bio:

Greg's 18 years of technology and project management experience in architecture and engineering consulting help him support the information technology and design technology teams that keep DIALOG collaborating and practicing at the leading edge. As the Director of Technology at an integrated practice, Greg works with the Partners and Senior Management Team to develop technical strategies while looking for opportunities to pilot and implement innovative solutions that support all of DIALOG's disciplines. Greg's technology experience combined with industry acumen provides a well-rounded perspective on the design process and where technology can assist. Located in Calgary, Greg has a B.Sc. in Computer Science and a Master's in Management of Information Systems.
