

Colorado Rush Hires Rivarola for Boy's ECNL Program

Colorado Rush Soccer Club is proud to announce the hiring of Guillermo Rivarola as an ECNL Boys Staff Coach.

Rivarola brings a distinguished professional playing career and extensive international coaching experience to Colorado Rush. A native of Mendoza, Argentina, Rivarola developed through the academy of River Plate, one of South America's most historic and successful clubs, where he later played professionally. During his time at River Plate, he competed at the highest levels of Argentine and South American football and represented Argentina at the youth national team level, gaining experience in elite international competition.

His professional career also included time in Mexico's Liga MX with Pachuca and Monterrey, two of the region's top clubs known for their competitive environments and strong development systems. Through these experiences, Rivarola developed a deep understanding of the game at the highest professional levels and worked alongside world-class players and coaches.

Following his playing career, Rivarola transitioned into coaching and technical leadership roles within top professional academies, including River Plate, Pachuca, and Monterrey. In these environments, he focused on player development, tactical education, and building high-performance training environments for young players progressing through elite academy systems. His work has spanned youth, academy, and professional pathways, with an emphasis on technical excellence, game intelligence, and preparing players for the demands of top-level competition.

At Colorado Rush, Rivarola will contribute to the ECNL Boys program, supporting player development and helping strengthen the club's competitive pathway. His international perspective and experience within some of the world's most respected football academies will provide valuable mentorship for both players and coaches.

Colorado Rush continues to invest in high-level coaching and development infrastructure as part of its commitment to serving players and families across all seven regions of the club and providing a world-class development environment.

Please join us in welcoming Guillermo Rivarola to the Colorado Rush family.
