Catechism Corner by Kacey Carey, DRE

A priest friend recently told me a remarkable story. One of his cousins reported having a vivid dream in which an angel told him the family needed to exhume their grandmother's body from a cemetery in New York and return it to her birthplace in Romania. She had been dead nearly 10 years. As you might expect, the family thought it was, well, crazy. But astonishingly they exhumed her body. It was incorrupt, showing no signs of decomposition. That experience sparked healing, faith, and reconciliation throughout the family.

In this Sunday's Gospel, Joseph also receives a dream. He's confused, afraid. But in the quiet of sleep, God speaks: "Do not be afraid to take Mary your wife into your home" (Matthew 1:20). When he wakes, Joseph acts. He doesn't overanalyze or dismiss the message. He trusts, and acts.

God still speaks — not necessarily through literal dreams but through those deeper intuitions of the heart. St. Ignatius of Loyola taught that God's voice draws us into peace, courage, and love. But we have to listen to it. Advent is a time for stillness. As we prepare for Christ's coming, we're invited to enter that quiet space where God's voice can be heard.

When and how do you become most receptive to God? Is it in silence? In prayer? In nature? At Mass? This week, go there. Be still. Listen. And like Joseph, have the courage to act on what God shows you.

Father John Muir

Rincón de Catecismo por Kacey Carey, DRE

Un amigo sacerdote me contó recientemente una historia extraordinaria. Uno de sus primos le relató un sueño vívido en el que un ángel le decía que la familia necesitaba exhumar el cuerpo de su abuela de un cementerio en Nueva York y llevarlo de regreso a su lugar de nacimiento en Rumania. Ella había fallecido hacía casi diez años. Como era de esperar, la familia pensó que era una locura. Pero, sorprendentemente, exhumaron el cuerpo. Estaba incorrupto, sin mostrar signos de descomposición. Esa experiencia generó sanación, fe y reconciliación en toda la familia.

En el Evangelio de este domingo, José también recibe un sueño. Está confundido, asustado. Pero en la quietud del sueño, Dios le habla: «No temas tomar a María, tu esposa, en tu casa» (Mateo 1:20). Al despertar, José actúa. No analiza demasiado ni descarta el mensaje. Confía y actúa.

Dios sigue hablando, no necesariamente a través de sueños literales, sino a través de esas intuiciones profundas del corazón. San Ignacio de Loyola enseñó que la voz de Dios nos conduce a la paz, el valor y el amor. Pero tenemos que escucharla. El Adviento es un tiempo de quietud. Mientras nos preparamos para la venida de Cristo, estamos invitados a entrar en ese espacio de silencio donde se puede escuchar la voz de Dios.
