Catechism Corner by Kacey Carey, DRE

This week's gospel breaks down today's theme into easy bite size concepts. Christ's ability to relay difficult things into simple understandable parables made him a great teacher. Most people can identify with the lesson taught if the example used is relatable to them. One can imagine a tiny seed and a small amount of yeast growing into something much larger, given time. Likewise, a small amount of faith can grow into a much larger faith where great things can be achieved. One can overcome life's challenges with minimal faith, which can expand and flourish. The second theme of today's gospel again centers on good seeds, but this time the enemy has sown weeds amongst the plants. Christ says these conflicting things should coexist, allowing us to freely choose one or the other. Like our modern world, we are daily confronted with good vs. evil, with each person deciding whether to do right or wrong. In the end, we will be judged on how much of the right we chose. Christ explains that the field is the world and the good seed stands for the people of the Kingdom. The weeds are the people of the evil one, but along with the good, will be "harvested" at the end of the age. Angels will throw the weeds into the fire and the good wheat (the righteous) will be stored in Christ's barn of heaven. Our Catechism says this freedom to choose is our fundamental right as a human and must be protected. (1738,1740)

""For he alone is the way that is worth following, the light that is worth lighting, the life that is worth living."

St.Teresa of Calcutta

Rincón de Catecismo por Kacey Carey, DRE

El Evangelio de esta semana desglosa el tema de hoy en conceptos sencillos y fáciles de asimilar. La capacidad de Cristo para transmitir enseñanzas complejas a través de parábolas simples y comprensibles lo convirtió en un gran maestro. La mayoría de las personas pueden identificarse con la lección impartida si el ejemplo utilizado les resulta cercano. Es fácil imaginar cómo una semilla diminuta o una pequeña cantidad de levadura crecen hasta convertirse en algo mucho mayor con el paso del tiempo. Del mismo modo, una pequeña dosis de fe puede crecer hasta transformarse en una fe mucho más grande, capaz de lograr grandes cosas. Es posible superar los desafíos de la vida con una fe mínima, la cual puede expandirse y florecer. El segundo tema del Evangelio de hoy vuelve a centrarse en las buenas semillas, pero esta vez el enemigo ha sembrado cizaña entre las plantas. Cristo afirma que estos elementos opuestos deben coexistir, permitiéndonos elegir libremente entre uno y otro. Al igual que en nuestro mundo actual, a diario nos enfrentamos a la lucha entre el bien y el mal, y cada persona decide si obrar bien o mal. Al final, seremos juzgados según cuánto bien hayamos elegido. Cristo explica que el campo representa el mundo y la buena semilla simboliza a los hijos del Reino. La cizaña representa a los hijos del Maligno, pero tanto ellos como los buenos serán «cosechados» al final de los tiempos. Los ángeles arrojarán la cizaña al fuego, mientras que el buen trigo (los justos) será almacenado en el granero celestial de Cristo. Nuestro Catecismo afirma que esta libertad de elección es un derecho humano fundamental que debe ser protegido (1738, 1740).

«Porque solo Él es el camino que vale la pena seguir, la luz que vale la pena encender y la vida que vale la pena vivir». Santa Teresa de Calcuta
