Catechism Corner by Kacey Carey, DRE

Have you ever said one thing and done another? Today's gospel speaks to this double mindedness, as actions speak louder than words. Only those who do the Father's will have a chance at heaven as shown in this parable. As a back story, recall the context of Jesus' parable. The Jewish high priests and leaders were attempting to further entrap Jesus by making Him say or do something for which they could fault him. They had failed to heed John the Baptist's warning of repentance. They again failed to recognize the Messiah and the pending Kingdom He would open for the world, thus continuing in their obtuseness. Christ's parable is fairly clear of two sons given the same task by their father. One asserts his disobedience straight away but later completes the task. The second son readily agrees to help his father, yet then fails to do so. The question posed to the chief priests and elders was, 'which son did his father's will?' Although answering correctly, the elders failed to change their hearts and repent. But a tax collector did, as well as prostitutes and other sinners. Most would not have expected these people to repent, but because of their conversion, these former sinners will enter Heaven before the chief priests and elders. Jesus asks of us the same question: Will we do the Father's will or our own will? God desires a full conversion (metanoia) of the heart, both in our actions and in our words. If God did not want us to find our way to Him in prayer, we would not win the battle.

"Keep your soul in peace. Let God work in you. Welcome thoughts that raise your heart to God. Open wide the window of your soul." St. Ignatius Loyola (1491-1556)

Rincón de Catecismo por Kacey Carey, DRE

¿Alguna vez has dicho una cosa y has hecho otra? El Evangelio de hoy aborda esta falta de coherencia, pues las acciones valen más que las palabras. Solo aquellos que cumplen la voluntad del Padre tienen la oportunidad de alcanzar el cielo, tal como se muestra en esta parábola. Para entender mejor el trasfondo, recordemos el contexto de la parábola de Jesús: los sumos sacerdotes y los líderes judíos intentaban tenderle una trampa a Jesús, buscando que dijera o hiciera algo por lo que pudieran acusarlo. No habían hecho caso a la llamada al arrepentimiento de Juan el Bautista. Tampoco supieron reconocer al Mesías ni el Reino que Él inauguraría para el mundo, persistiendo así en su cerrazón. La parábola de Cristo es bastante clara: trata sobre dos hijos a quienes su padre encomienda la misma tarea. Uno manifiesta su desobediencia de inmediato, pero más tarde cumple con el encargo. El segundo acepta de buena gana ayudar a su padre, pero luego no lo hace. La pregunta planteada a los sumos sacerdotes y a los ancianos fue: «¿Cuál de los dos hizo la voluntad de su padre?». Aunque respondieron correctamente, los ancianos no cambiaron su corazón ni se arrepintieron. En cambio, un recaudador de impuestos sí lo hizo, al igual que las prostitutas y otros pecadores. La mayoría no habría esperado que estas personas se arrepintieran, pero gracias a su conversión, estos antiguos pecadores entrarán en el Reino de los Cielos antes que los sumos sacerdotes y los ancianos. Jesús nos plantea la misma pregunta: ¿Haremos la voluntad del Padre o la nuestra? Dios desea una conversión plena (metanoia) del corazón, tanto en nuestras acciones como en nuestras palabras. Si Dios no quisiera que encontráramos el camino hacia Él a través de la oración, no ganaríamos la batalla. «Mantén tu alma en paz. Deja que Dios actúe en ti. Acoge los pensamientos que eleven tu corazón a Dios. Abre de par en par la ventana de tu alma». San Ignacio de Loyola (1491-1556)

 RELIGIOUS ED NEWS ***

-Parents of Catechism and Confirmation students who missed our parent meetings have two options to learn how to help their children succeed: They can come into the office and watch the PDF presentation on the computer, or they can request it be sent to their personal emails. Either way parents will want to be responsible for the guidance of their children.

-Deacon Quant will visit Confirmation classrooms personally to enlist all those students aspiring to be altar servers. These students will garner more Liturgical hours than others, but more importantly will gain the Lord's grace by assisting on the altar.

-All students, parents and parishioners are invited to stop by the Festival Faith Formation booth to enjoy winning prizes, having their faces painted or possibly winning a spa or garden basket.

 NOTICIAS DE ED RELIGIOSA ***

-Los padres de los alumnos de Catecismo y Confirmación que no pudieron asistir a las reuniones informativas tienen dos opciones para saber cómo ayudar a sus hijos a tener éxito: pueden acudir a la oficina y ver la presentación en PDF en la computadora, o bien solicitar que se le envíe a su correo electrónico personal. En cualquier caso, es importante que los padres asuman la responsabilidad de guiar a sus hijos.

-El diácono Quant visitará personalmente las aulas de Confirmación para reclutar a aquellos alumnos que deseen ser monaguillos. Estos estudiantes acumularán más horas de servicio litúrgico que los demás, pero, lo que es más importante, recibirán la gracia del Señor al servir en el altar.

-Se invita a todos los alumnos, padres y feligreses a visitar el puesto de Formación en la Fe durante el festival para ganar premios, pintarse la cara o participar en el sorteo de una cesta de spa o de jardinería.
