

First Presbyterian Church Preschool of Haddonfield

DIRECTOR'S LETTER

Love is in the air! You say, "I love you" with actions and words. Nonverbal communication can have long-lasting effects on how children listen, behave, process information, and speak to others.

At First Presbyterian Preschool, the focus is not always on ABC's and 123's. It's not to say these things are not taught. I assure you; they are. But there are many other necessary aspects of learning that preschoolers need to do! We make eye contact, give hugs, and high fives to show we care. We celebrate moments when children do the same for a friend. Children grow when open-ended activities, unhurried moments, and room for mistakes are part of the preschool classroom experience.

Three things we hope to give children are: the confidence to always know their self-worth, the strength to chase their dreams, and the ability to know how truly and deeply they are loved.

We teach the whole child, not just their brain!

Infuse these powerful tools into your parenting toolkit and you will be blessed!
