Markets Leader, Sustainability and Net Zero Driver

Caroline holds a leadership role in PwC in the Caribbean's net zero with 2030 goals commitment, managing the decarbonisation net zero strategy of the territories' operations covering scope 1, 2 and 3 business travel emissions. She is also leading on the engagement and transition of their supply chain. Caroline is responsible for our PwC operations climate risk and resilience from an advisory perspective as the key contact in the Caribbean region. She leads the Caribbean firms' environment ambition which goes beyond net zero, focusing on other critical environment elements such as nature and biodiversity and offsetting emissions through high-quality carbon credits. Caroline is a part of PwC's ESG services team acting as an advisor on net zero strategy, transition and implementation. She is also the Markets ESG Leader for PwC in the Caribbean.

Relevant experience
