

The Labyrinth

The labyrinth in McDowell Park is a gift to the community, and may be used by anyone at any time. You are welcome to come and share the experience of walking the labyrinth.

Walking the labyrinth is offered as a worshipful experience, so it is important that we each respect the meditative, prayerful state of others. This is often an intensely personal and inward time for many people, so please avoid intruding on others. Those who might wish to dance on the labyrinth, therefore, are invited to do so when it is clear that it will not disturb another walker.
