Let us HELP you move towards Title IX compliance at your school! Compliance is easy with LifeTrack Services' Sports Interest Survey. Our survey is designed to meet and/or exceed the requirements of state education offices as well as OCR requirements. Our survey benefits schools relative to the third prong of the "three-prong test" - fully and effectively satisfying the interest and ability levels of its students. Often, this is the only prong that schools can use.

Surveys can be completed online or paper based!

Required information regarding athletics is captured and reported by gender. When administering the survey online, schools have much more flexibility to the customization of the survey. Data can be gathered regarding activities and customized questions relating to equipment, facilities, etc.

We can eliminate the time-intensive task of hand tallying surveys and increase the accuracy of your results! The time that you save on survey computation can allow you to direct your attention to other aspects of improving your program overall.

Reporting is provided by campus as well as district.

Comprehensive reporting is provided for each school completing the survey as well as an overall district report with data from all schools. Each report identifies "All Responses", "Male Responses", and "Female Responses" with easy to read tables and graphs. In Washington state, summary pages are provided so you can easily share data with OSPI without overloading them with unnecessary graphs.

School Districts benefit by outsourcing their required Title IX Interest Survey to LifeTrack.

1. Relieves much of the burden
2. More accurate data
3. User-friendly reporting

I wanted to let you know how happy I have been with your Title IX Interest survey instrument. Your customer support and service has been great, and that has helped the survey process be relatively painless. The data is proving priceless in demonstrating to our community and administration not only our commitment to improving our program, but the fact that our program is already very highly regarded by our student athletes.

I would recommend this service to any athletic administrator who is looking for a tool that both helps improve the program and helps promote the program within your school and community! Thanks for all your help.

West Aurora High School, IL

Moses Lake School District has utilized LifeTrack Services to complete our Title IX Student Interest Surveys and compilation for the last six cycles. We continue to partner with them because of their customer service and their adaptability to meet our needs. They continue to be competitive with their pricing and have helped us administer this OSPI required piece, which in turn has given us the data needed to make future plans to serve our students.

Loren Sandhop, CAA, Athletic Director
Moses Lake School District

LifeTrack supported our district with top notch service and was a pleasure to work with over several months of planning. The Title IX survey's provided more than the required information and the summary sheets are easy to understand and use. The challenge to make the online survey meet our needs, gather additional information for our buildings to use to help students engage in the school was a huge task and LifeTrack was responsive, professional, and quick to update the product. Thank you for the great service and product.
