RESOURCE DATABASES

This resource guide is not exhaustive, and as such should be a starting point only. The databases that can be found below are regularly updated and may be more current than this guide. Additionally, they may have more resources than is known by the author of this guide at time of publication.

Database (clickable link)	Overview
FindHelp.org	National database that you can search and connect to support. Find financial assistance, food pantries, medical care, and other free or reduced-cost help in your area.
FindTreatment.gov	FindTreatment.gov is the most comprehensive resource for persons seeking treatment for mental and substance use disorders in the United States and its territories. However, it cannot make recommendations for individual situations, endorse specific treatment facilities, or recommend specific types of treatment.
Texas Outreach, Screening, Assessment, and Referral (OSAR) Services by Region	Region 4 OSAR contact: Andrews Behavioral Health: (903) 595-4208 Outreach, screening, assessment, and referral (OSAR) programs are available to all persons looking for information about substance use services. OSAR programs can be the starting point for people who want help accessing substance use services and are unsure where to begin...The only requirement for services is that a person must be currently residing in the State of Texas. For immediate and confidential help, 24 hours a day, seven days a week, please call the OSAR in your region. Counties served by each OSAR are listed under each OSAR's contact information. You may also request help by contacting 211 Texas or calling 877-541-7905.
Texas Mental Health and Substance Abuse	Learn about services provided by Texas Health and Human Services Commission

DATA RESOURCES

Local/State Data Portals

Database (clickable Link)	Overview
Census.Gov	Decennial and American Community Survey Data. Provides community demographics at the national, state, and local level.
CDC BRFSS (Behavioral Risk Factor Surveillance System)	The Behavioral Risk Factor Surveillance System (BRFSS) is the nation's premier system of health-related telephone surveys that collect state data about U.S. residents regarding their health-related risk behaviors, chronic health conditions, and use of preventive services.
CDC YRBSS (Youth Risk Behavior Surveillance System)	YRBSS monitors adolescent health behavior changes over time. It identifies emerging issues, and plans and evaluates programs to support youth health. Overall, it gives the best picture of what is going on at national, state, and local levels. The data is used to inform school and community programs, communications campaigns, and other efforts. The YRBSS captures the health-related behaviors and experiences of American youth
Texas School Survey (TSS)	The Texas School Survey of Drug and Alcohol Use has been conducted in Texas school districts since 1988. The survey is conducted by the Public Service and Administration (PSAA) at Texas A&M University on behalf of the Texas Health and Human Services Commission (HHSC). A statewide survey is conducted every two years. These statewide assessments generate current data to inform state level policy-making. In addition, they can provide a standard of comparison for districts and campuses conducting local surveys.
Texas College Survey (TCS)	The Texas College Survey of Substance Use is a biennial collection of self-reported data related to alcohol and drug use, mental health status, risk behaviors, and perceived attitudes and beliefs among college students in Texas.
CDC Places	PLACES is a free, interactive CDC web tool that provides first-of-its-kind chronic disease and other health-related data for all U.S. counties, incorporated and census designated places, census tracts, and ZIP Code Tabulation Areas (ZCTAs).
