Your Flavor Partner

Hicksville, New York, United States

GreatRiver Traddis is a global sourcing and branding partner specializing in food ingredients and seasoning solutions. We work closely with a long-established, export-oriented manufacturing group to deliver reliable, scalable, and market-ready products to customers worldwide.

Our manufacturing partner operates advanced production facilities founded in 2006, with over 273,000 m<sup>2</sup> of modern plant space and deep expertise in compound seasonings, bio-engineering, and food science R&D. The portfolio includes hundreds of products such as bouillon cubes, seasoning powders, instant soups, seasoning salts, and MSG, supported by full OEM and customization capabilities. Production is reinforced by dedicated R&D and food safety testing centers developed in collaboration with leading food science universities, ensuring consistent quality and compliance. With fully automated production lines imported from the U.S. and Italy and an annual capacity of up to 100,000 tons, all manufacturing meets major international certifications including BRC, FDA, HACCP, HALAL, and ISO standards. What sets GreatRiver Tradeapart is our ability to respond quickly and communicate seamlessly with customers across regions and time zones. We act as a single, reliable point of contact—translating customer needs into clear technical and commercial requirements and delivering tailored seasoning solutions efficiently. Through close coordination with manufacturing, R&D, and quality teams, we help customers move from concept to market with speed, clarity, and confidence.
