+ FOOD FOR THOUGHT ON THE SIXTEENTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME +

“There Is Need of Only One Thing”: May you be strengthened by your personal time with the Master, and may that sacred time move you to be more hospitable to those who cross your path and to endure with grace whatever comes your way.

Each summer, I participate in a Marian pilgrimage retreat—a journey I’ve been part of for many years. And each time, I witness something profound: not only among the retreatants and staff, but also among the parents, families, and parishioners who attend. The power of God’s presence is unmistakable. What touched me particularly last year was the quiet witness of the “behind-the-scenes” saints. These were the ones who cooked meals, cleaned up messes, prepared crafts, maintained the facilities, and most importantly—prayed fervently. Their work went largely unseen by the retreatants, but their love shaped every moment. These silent disciples served like Martha, poured themselves out in suffering like St. Paul, and fueled their work by first sitting at the feet of the Master, like Mary. One of the kitchen crew leaders—after working a night shift as a security guard—fell down a flight of stairs and was hospitalized with a concussion. Yet, after being released, instead of going home to rest, he returned to finish his kitchen duties. Another woman, a mother enduring cancer treatments, helped with the youth gatherings and quietly offered her suffering for the spiritual good of the retreatants. These are the moments that reveal the Gospel in real time. These are the people who understand what Jesus means when He says, “There is need of only one thing” (Lk 10:42).

This Sunday’s readings echo this same truth. In the Book of Genesis, Abraham runs to greet three strangers. He doesn’t yet know they are divine messengers, but he rolls out the red carpet—offering water, bread, shade, and a feast. His hospitality becomes the very setting for divine revelation. Likewise, Psalm 15 proclaims that the just one who walks blamelessly will dwell in the presence of the Lord—because hospitality reveals holiness. St. Paul, writing to the Colossians, reminds us that suffering is never meaningless. He even rejoices in his trials because they become his way of proclaiming Christ crucified. Paul isn’t saying Jesus didn’t suffer enough—he’s saying, “I freely join my suffering to His, so that others may know the love I’ve come to know.”

And then we arrive at Martha and Mary. Martha is the image of the active disciple—serving, preparing, loving through action. But Jesus gently reveals the restlessness in her heart: “Martha, Martha, you are anxious and worried about many things. There is need of only one thing.” Mary, by contrast, chooses first to sit at Jesus’ feet—not to escape responsibility, but to root her actions in love. This Gospel isn’t a condemnation of service. It’s a call to make Jesus the center of both our contemplation and our action.

So let me ask what a mentor once asked me: What is the one thing you need to focus on—in your life or in your parish—so that everything else will flourish? Doctors, firefighters, even busy parents—when the moment of crisis arrives, they drop everything for what matters most. But what about when there is no emergency? Can we still discern what is truly necessary? The truth is, how we spend our days is how we spend our lives. If our days are filled with frantic tasks and spiritual neglect, our lives will reflect that. But if we spend time—real time—at the feet of the Master, we will be transformed. Our service will become joyful. Our suffering will become redemptive. Our hospitality will become an encounter with God. St. Thérèse of the Child Jesus, the Little Flower, understood this with exquisite clarity. In the hidden, simple acts of her Carmelite life—sweeping a floor, folding laundry, offering a smile—she discovered the “one thing necessary.” For her, loving Jesus in the little things was everything. Her “Little Way” reminds us that we do not need to accomplish great feats, but to do small things with great love—anchored always in prayer and presence with the Master. St. Teresa of Calcutta knew this too. Despite the immense demands of her ministry, she insisted that the most important part of her day was her time in prayer. It was at the feet of Jesus that she found the strength to carry the sick, comfort the dying, and smile through the pain.

So what about you? Reflect:

- Am I more like Martha—anxious and overcommitted—or like Mary—attentive and rooted in Christ?
- How is God calling me to show hospitality, endure suffering, and spend more time at His feet?
- What do I need to set aside so I can make space for the one thing necessary?

Let’s not allow the noise of our lives to drown out the voice of the Master. Whether we serve like Martha, suffer like Paul, pray like Mary, or love like Thérèse—we must first listen. Let the words of Jesus echo deep into your heart this week:

“There is need of only one thing.” Let that truth shape your time, your heart, your ministry - your life.

All Around St. Theresa Parish

Msgr. Myron Grabowsky, recently retired from St. Michael's Ukrainian Greek Catholic Church in Shenandoah, concelebrates weekday Mass with Fr. John Hutta.

Matthew and Ariel Sweitzer are our new music ministers. Matt will play the organ while Ariel leads the people in song.

It may be summertime, but the rectory staff is busy as ever. Here, Isabella and Brenda prepare bulletins for distribution.

Mr. Dan Stohl braves the July heat to put a fresh coat of paint on the railings flanking the church steps.

Rev. Mr. Dominic Civitella preaches at a St. Monica Ministry Holy Hour.

Putting Jesus First

Jesus went to Martha and Mary's house for dinner one day and while Martha got the food ready her sister Mary just sat near Jesus to listen to Him. Martha was upset because she had so much work to do and Mary wasn't helping at all. It doesn't sound quite fair, does it?

But Jesus told Martha that there was only one thing that was important, and that Mary had chosen it. Mary had chosen to be with Him and listen to Him. Martha was concerned about all the details- making good food and setting things out nicely, but she wasn't thinking about Jesus.

Jesus was not saying that cooking or working in the house is bad. He was only showing Martha and Mary that we need to put God first in everything. Here are a couple of ways you can keep God first: 1. Always make sure that things like going to Mass and saying your prayers are more important to you than things that are fun. 2. Whenever you do something, say a prayer first. Offer your game or work or whatever you are doing for the glory of God.
