

“And I tell you that you are Peter,
and on this rock I will build my church,
and the gates of hell will not overcome it.

I will give you the keys
of the kingdom of heaven.”

Matthew 16:18-19

O God, shepherd and ruler of all the faithful, look favorably on your servant Pope Leo XIV, whom you have set at the head of your Church as her shepherd; grant, we pray, that by word and example he may be of service to those over whom he presides so that, together with the flock entrusted to his care, he may come to everlasting life. Through our Lord Jesus Christ, your Son, who lives and reigns with you in the unity of the Holy Spirit, God, for ever and ever. Amen.

“Behold, I Make All Things New”

There is a powerful current of transition pulsing through this Sunday’s readings—a holy momentum from the “what has been” into the “what is becoming.” From Paul and Barnabas completing their missionary journey and entrusting the young Church to local presbyters, to the voice of God in Revelation proclaiming, “Behold, I make all things new,” to Jesus’ “new commandment” at the Last Supper, we are being swept into the divine work of renewal.

The Church Is Always in Mission Mode

Paul and Barnabas don’t settle down in comfort after a fruitful journey. Instead, they strengthen the disciples by reminding them: “It is necessary for us to undergo many hardships to enter the kingdom of God.” That’s not a sales pitch for an easy life—it’s a truth born from the Cross. As they appoint leaders and entrust the faith to others, they model what every parish, every believer, must do: plant seeds of faith, speak hard truths in love, and hand on the mission with courage.

Revelation Offers the Final Word: Renewal

The Second Reading today gives us the only words spoken directly by God the Father in the entire Book of Revelation: “Behold, I make all things new.” This isn’t just a poetic sentiment. It’s the promise of a Creator who doesn’t give up on His people, who enters into the mess of history and sin, and who restores, redeems, and re-creates from within. This divine newness isn’t just for “someday.” It begins now, in hearts made open by love.

The New Commandment: Agape in Action

At the Last Supper, Jesus doesn’t simply say, “Love one another.” He commands: “Love one another as I have loved you.” And how has He loved us? Not with a shallow affection, but with a self-emptying, foot-washing, cross-carrying, death-defying love. This agape is not a nice feeling—it is divine action. It is God’s breath (ruah), the Spirit, blowing through the stale air of sin and self-preservation.

A Fresh Wind in a Stuffy Room

We’ve all experienced it: sitting in a space that feels tight, heavy, hot. Then someone opens a door, and a breeze flows in. The soul inhales. That’s what the Holy Spirit does when we let God’s Word and commandment of love enter our lives. The mission of the Church is to fling open those doors—through truth, witness, and sacrificial love—so others can breathe again. We do not hide the Cross; we proclaim its power.

Hardship is Not a Barrier—It’s the Doorway

Graham Greene’s quote resounds here: “People are attracted to the Church where there’s danger.” Maybe what keeps vocations and conversions away is not that we’ve made the Church too hard—but too easy. A Church without the Cross is a Church without Christ. The path to the “new heaven and new earth” is the path of the Cross, of laying down our lives, of choosing love even when it hurts. Pope Benedict XVI said it simply: “We were not made for comfort, but for greatness.” Greatness is nothing other than holiness, a life fully surrendered to God’s renewing love. And holiness demands everything.

This Week’s Spiritual Challenge

- Where is God calling you to bring the breeze of His renewing Spirit?
- Who in your life needs a fresh encounter with Christ through your loving sacrifice?
- Where are you avoiding the Cross instead of embracing it?

Let us ask ourselves daily: “How can I bring the newness of GOD’s life and love into this moment?” And let us remember the promise: His reign is for all ages; His dominion endures through all generations.

Recommended Spiritual Reading

Looking for a bold and beautiful summer read? Try Graham Greene’s The Power and the Glory. It’s not a sanitized story, but one that faces the raw, messy beauty of faith and failure, in a world where holiness looks like weakness—but is in fact glory.

Final Thought

“You can have control, or you can have growth, but you can’t have both.” (Fr. William Campion)

Let go. Open the door. Let the Spirit blow in.

The New Commandment

In the Old Testament, before Jesus came, there were many commandments. They told the people how they should live and what they should and shouldn't do. Jesus obeyed the commandments, but He gave His followers a new one, something different than any of the others:

LOVE ONE ANOTHER.

The love that Jesus was talking about is called charity. It means doing what is best for a person. Here are some ways to love others:

Always think kindly of people. Even when you know something bad about someone, try to think nice thoughts about them.

Always speak kindly about people. Saying bad things about others can hurt them.

Always act kindly toward others. Treat everyone in the way that you would want to be treated. Show that you are a follower of Jesus by how you love others!

Answer to front page: If you love one another.
Answer to Word-Find: Jesus comes again
