

MORRAUD 26:24

Your body gesticulates with every croon
our movements echo in each other's silence
as we genuflect to find God in poetry
the only prayer we have neglected.

Painting is the only way to explain poetry and vice versa. MORRAUD 26:24 is a poetic manifest that escapes and transcends the lines of the verses and escalates within the limits of paper and canvas. The creation of beauty is our solely given right.
