Choosing a Nursing Home Checklist

	Licensing: Ensure the nursing home is licensed and registered with the respective authorities.	Activities: Look for a facility that offers activi- ties and social interactions that could enhance the residents' quality of life.	(11
2	Cleanliness: Check if the nursing home is clean and well maintained.	Patient Rights: Make sure the nursing home respects patient rights and freedom.	12
3	Reputation: Look for reviews or ask for recommendations about the nursing home.	Safety Measures: Look at safety measures in place, like fire alarms, emergency exits, etc.	्ध
4	Staffing: Ensure there is adequate staffing and that patient to staff ratio is good.	Staff attitude: Pay attention to how the staff interacts with the residents.	14
157	Location: Make sure the location of the nursing home is accessible and close to family members for ease of visitation.	Medical appointments: Understand how the nursing home handles transportation for medical appointments.	T _e s
di di	Policies: Understand the nursing home's policies and regulations prior to admission.	Meal quality: Ensure the home provides good quality, nutritious and varied meals.	16
7.	Specialized care: If your loved one has specific medical conditions, verify if the nursing home provides specialized care.	Training: Ask about the staff's training, including emergency and medical training.	17
in in	Cost: Get a detailed breakdown of the costs and what is included.	Emergency policy: Understand their process for handling medical emergencies.	18
7	Room Set-up: Check if private or shared rooms are available and ensure it's comfortable.	Facility visit: Visit the facility at different times to check consistency in staffing and level of care.	19
1[0]	Services: Determine what services are provided such as meals, medical care, physical therapy, etc.	Regulatory history: Research any history of violations, complaints or sanctions by checking with the regulatory body.	20
	NO	128	