With Opened Bible

Fr. Dimitri

Jesus appeared to his apostles for the third time. This time, it was on the shores of the Sea of Tiberias, commonly known as the Sea of Galilee. This sea holds significant importance in Jesus's life and ministry, as it was the place where he performed many miracles and delivered profound teachings. There, he met Peter, his brother Andrew, and the two sons of Zebedee, James and John. It was in this place, at the crossroads of pagan nations, that he called them to become 'fishers of men' (Cf. Matthew 4:19).

Jesus met them at the point of departure to remind them of the reason for their call: to cast the nets of the Gospel into the sea of nations. He called them to become 'fishers of men,' a metaphor that signifies their role in spreading the teachings of the Gospel to all people. Just as fishermen catch fish from the sea, the apostles were to 'catch' people by sharing the Gospel and leading them to Christ. And that is what happened.

When the Lord asked them to cast the nets into the sea, Peter obeyed. And the miraculous happened. The net was filled to the brim, an abundance that defied all expectations and inspired awe. The number of fish increased to 153, a deeply symbolic number. (John 21:11) The apostle John, the author of the same Gospel, did not reveal the quantity of fish they caught to inform his audience, but rather the spiritual meaning of this episode. One hundred and fifty-three is a highly symbolic number. It reminds us of the 153 nations known at the time according to Jewish geography. For Saint John, Jesus commanded his apostles to proclaim the Gospel to all these nations of the earth, a mission that includes us all. Hence, the word catholicos to express the universal mission of the Church. The Church (bark of Peter) is sent to proclaim (net) the Good News to all nations, uniting us in our shared mission. (Cf. Matthew 28:19) This universal mission should instill in us a sense of responsibility and unity in our service to Him. For this mission to be complete, Jesus forgave Peter for his past denials. Three times, he had denied Christ (John 18:17, 25-27); three times, Jesus asked him to shepherd his flock. (John 21:15-17) The One chosen and sent is the One who has been forgiven and saved, a powerful reminder of the grace and mercy of our Lord. This forgiveness should fill us with gratitude and humble us in our service to Him.

O God, eternal shepherd, who govern your flock with unfailing care, grant in your boundless fatherly love a pastor for your Church who will please you by his holiness and to us show watchful care.

Through our Lord Jesus Christ, your Son, who lives and reigns with you in the unity of the Holy Spirit, God forever and ever. Amen

Carlo Acutis The 1st Millennium Saint

Although not from a particularly devout family, Carlo developed a strong love for God and frequently attended Mass and received the Eucharist. Carlo used the internet to showcase Eucharistic miracles and to help others encounter the love and presence of Jesus in the Eucharist.

Carlo died at the age of 15 from leukemia, but was already known worldwide for his devotion to the Eucharist and his expertise in computer programming which enabled him to invite others (especially young adults) into an encounter with Our Lord.

Carlo challenges us to live with purpose and holiness.

His last words to his mother were,
"Mom, don't be afraid. Since Jesus became a man, death has become the passage towards life, and we don't need to flee it. Let us prepare ourselves to experience something extraordinary in the eternal life."

His joyful faith reminds us that sanctity is possible in the modern world.

Join us for movie night May 10th in Rosary Hall Doors open 6:15pm-Movie begins at 7:00pm
After he refuses to disavow his faith, a devout Christian must prove the existence of God or his college professor will fail him.
