With Opened Bible Fr. Dimitri

"Peace I leave with you; my peace I give to you."

The Gospel of this Easter Sunday prepares us to welcome the Spirit of Pentecost. Jesus promised his disciples another Advocate who could lead them and remind them of all truth. This promise, along with the promise of peace, offers us a comforting reassurance. But the question remains: what peace is Jesus talking about?

There seems to be controversy in the Master's statements. He once said: "Do not think that I have come to bring peace upon the earth. I have come to bring not peace but the sword." (Matthew 10:34) The word "sword" can mean either "the word of God" or "war and suffering." In this context, Jesus was referring to war. But what war? Those who will rise up against Christians because of the truth. The truth of the Gospel will divide father and mother, parents and children. (Cf. Matthew 10:35-36) If this is the situation, how can we understand the gift of peace promised by Jesus?

The prophet Isaiah declared seven hundred years before his birth: "For a child is born to us, a son is given to us; upon his shoulder dominion rests. They name him Wonder-Counselor, God-Hero, Father-Forever, Prince of Peace. His dominion is vast and forever peaceful." (Isaiah 9:5-6) Jesus is the Prince of Peace, that is, the one who has the power to bring peace to all things. Indeed, the apostle to the Gentiles, Saint Paul, declares: "Jesus is our peace" (Ephesians 2:14).

Now, we can understand the meaning of this peace that Jesus wishes to offer us. It is, of course, the Spirit who dwells in the depths of our hearts, transforming us and our understanding of peace. Moreover, he says it clearly: "Not as the world gives, do I give it to you." (John 14:27) What peace does the world offer? The absence of noise despite inner conflicts. The absence of words despite wounds that are invisible to the naked eye. Such is the peace offered to us by worldly governments.

The Peace of Jesus is different. It dwells within us and makes us steadfast in the face of the changes of this time. True peace is the Spirit who makes us his home, a peace that endures. And when we have this inner peace, nothing can disturb us. King David experienced it during his life when he sang: "Though a thousand fall at your side, ten thousand at your right hand, near you it shall not come." (Psalm 91:7). Even amid turmoil, the believer is at peace and fears nothing. Such is the peace given by the presence of the Spirit within us.

O Jesus, Eternal Priest, keep your priests within the shelter of Your Most Sacred Heart, where none can touch them. Keep unstained their anointed hands which daily touch Your sacred body. Keep unsullied their lips daily tinged with Your precious Blood. Keep pure and unworldly their hearts, sealed with the sublime mark of the priesthood. Let Your holy love surround and protect them from the world's contagion. Bless their labors with abundant fruit, and may the souls to whom they minister be their joy and consolation here, and their everlasting crown in eternity.

CATHOLIC COMMUNICATION CAMPAIGN

Supporting the Catholic Communications Campaign provides a unique opportunity to help your neighbors and people across the country connect with Christ.

When you contribute to this campaign, half of all money received goes to support the national communication programs of the bishops of the United States, while the other half stays right in our own diocese to support local communication initiatives.

Effective social media outreach is essential for any communications strategy, especially in being able to share the Gospel with the world. Social media trends continually evolve, and dynamic content such as short videos are becoming more popular than graphics and photos to engage people online.

There will be a 2nd Collection at all Masses the weekend of June 1st.
