To Help You Understand...

It is your right, and our desire, that you have a complete understanding regarding the cost of our services. The largest contributing factor involved in funeral service is the factor of time, in terms of our personnel and the use of the funeral home facilities and equipment. Maintaining the necessary level of service is unending, as we are available 24 hours a day, every day of the year. Therefore, ours is a 168-hour week instead of a 40-hour work week. We are always here to serve you.

Many phases of our work are apparent, while others that happen behind the scenes on a regular basis are not. Each service is customized and specifically designed to fit individual needs. The following examples of contributing factors may help you understand that no two funeral services can be exactly alike:

- Traditions and customs
- Personal feelings and desires
- Financial means
- Size of family
- Religious preferences and needs
- Community involvement

We appreciate the confidence you have placed in us, and we feel a keen sense of responsibility to provide you with information that will allow you to choose the most appropriate services and merchandise to accommodate individual needs. Your loyalty means so much to us.

Sincerely,
Rocky L. Ezell, CFSP
Managing Director

GENERAL PRICE LIST

These prices are effective as of April 1, 2026, and are subject to change without notice.

Our Story

The founding of Cobb Funeral Chapel was the fulfillment of a lifelong dream that began taking shape during Bobby Cobb's high school years. A native of Colquitt County and raised in the Riverside Community, Bobby was introduced to the funeral profession at a young age when he began working at Henderson Funeral Home in Moultrie. It was there that his passion for funeral service, then inclusive of ambulance service, was first ignited. This early experience laid the foundation for his future, culminating in his graduation from Moultrie High School in 1964.

Driven by a strong desire to expand his knowledge and skills, Bobby continued his education at the Kentucky School of Mortuary Science. His time there was marked by determination and leadership, as he graduated with honors while serving as class president. In 1967, he earned his license in mortuary science, formally launching a distinguished career in the field.

The year 1968 proved pivotal both personally and professionally when Bobby married Gayla King Cobb. Their union marked the beginning of a lifelong partnership built on shared values, faith, and a mutual vision for serving others.

Bobby's dedication to his craft remained steadfast as he continued working at Henderson Funeral Home for the next eleven years. Yet the dream he had carried since his youth continued to call him forward. In 1974, Bobby and Gayla took a courageous step of faith and established Cobb Funeral Chapel, turning a long-held vision into reality.

The funeral chapel stood as a physical reflection of their commitment to excellence, compassion, and service. Though the exact year of the building's completion is yet to be noted, its presence remains a lasting symbol of their legacy and devotion to the community.

Today, the legacy of Bobby L. Cobb endures through the values he embodied and the countless lives he touched. His life's work stands as a testament to compassion, integrity, and unwavering service. As we reflect on his contributions, we honor not only a leader in the funeral profession but a visionary who understood the power of empathy and care. May his passion continue to guide and inspire generations to come.

In February 2025, Gayla and Bobby's daughter, Ellen Cobb-Robinson, and son-in-law, Jamie Robinson, hand-selected Rocky L. Ezell to assume the reins and continue the legacy, traditions, and values established by the Cobb family. A seasoned funeral professional since 1998, Rocky began his career in funeral service at Cobb Funeral Chapel, where the Cobb family's values and traditions were instilled in him—making him a natural choice to carry that legacy forward.
