CAPTAIN:

Lindsay Miller (Brownton, MN): Lindsay is a Veterinarian with Swine Vet Center out of Minnesota. Lindsay earned her doctorate of Veterinary Medicine from the University of Minnesota. The last 2 years Lindsay has used her knowledge specifically in the swine industry helping clients better their herd health and make the operation run more efficiently. Lindsay is actively involved in her local church, strides for CJD, and she volunteers for several community events. Some of Lindsay's hobbies include pheasant and deer hunting, but what she enjoys the most is spending time with her husband, Luke, and their dog, Bandit, camping or traveling.

TEAM MEMBERS:

Tim Chancellor (Kearney, NE): Tim is the Nursery-Finish Supervisor for Thomas Livestock Company. Tim has been a pork production specialist for 30+ years and has worked in the various aspects of pork production including barn ownership. Tim enjoys all types of hunting and fishing, his favorite though is deep sea fishing. When not working, you can find Tim spending time at the lake or the ocean usually with friends and/or family. Tim is also a gun enthusiast and enjoys collecting guns. Tim has volunteered a lot of his time on the school board, the Nebraska Pork Producers, and helps with a few different Christmas programs with donations as well as donates to several local non profits. Tim is enjoys spending time with his wife, Minnie, and his 3 kids, and 2 grandkids most of all!

Brad Leuwerke (Albert Lea, MN): Brad is a Veterinarian and Partner with Swine Vet Center. Brad earned his doctorate of Veterinary Medicine from Iowa State University along with his Masters in Veterinary Microbiology and Preventative Medicine. Brad focuses on herd health, production management, leadership of the vet team, and his expertise includes pathology, pharmacology, and general herd health assessments where he has racked up 20 years of experience. Brad is active in his local church and is starting to get more involved with his local school has his kids continue to get older. Outside of work, Brad enjoys pheasant hunting, gardening, swimming, attend Minnesota Twins games, and spending time with his wife, who is also a Veterinarian, and his two kids.

Adam Hocker (Williamsburg, IA): Adam founded Future Profits Consulting (Risk Management Firm) in 2018 after 10 years serving Brennenman Pork as Controller/CFO, with the mission to give agricultural business owners more control over their profitability. The firm creates customized financial models by integrating the businesses' operational drivers, financial information and commodity market prices to forecast profitability. Adam, through his business, has given back to the community in several aspects, including, being a member of Williamsburg, IA Chamber of Commerce, Iowa Pork Producers Association, and National Pork Producers Council, and donates to the local school systems and community programs, one being a $25,000 donation to the schools sports performance center. Adam enjoys spending time with his wife, Olivia, watching his 3 children in participate in collegiate, high school and junior-high athletics. Football and track are kings in the Hocker house. He also enjoys bow hunting, pheasant and turkey hunting in Iowa. He, with his family and friends spend time fishing numerous farm ponds year around as well.

Kyle Wetjen (Williamsburg, IA): Kyle is a Senior Controls and Test Engineering Manager at Kinze Manufacturing. Kyle uses his 25 years of experience and his BS in Electrical Engineering from Iowa State University to excel at his job. Kyle has been a volunteer firefighter for 21 years, he is an elder at his church, he is on the city board of adjustment, and has volunteered coaching various youth sports for 22 years. Some of Kyle's hobbies include fishing, ice fishing, deer, turkey, pheasant, quail, geese, and duck hunting, and canoeing, kayaking, paddle boarding, hiking, and running. Kyle is also very involved on his family row crop and cattle operation. What Kyle loves most is spending time with his wife of 22 years, Casey, and spending time with his wife and kids at sporting events or just being outdoors.
