LIBRARY COMMUNITY OUTREACH

Immediate, on-the-ground support for individuals in distress, or ready for change.

At the heart of community care, Library Community Outreach offers support to individuals facing mental health challenges, addictions, housing instability, and other barriers to essential resources.

Library Community Outreach services are rooted in dignity, respect, and compassion, and designed to meet people exactly where they are.

No cost. No referral. No hassle.
Drop in or book an appointment.

Working in partnership with the Regina Public Library and the māmawêyatitân centre, Library Community Outreach is available on-site to provide brief counselling, crisis support, and help with navigating systems and services.

Drop-in during scheduled hours to talk to someone who will take the time to listen and support you without judgment.
