

Associate Artist - Katt Grover

Katt is a multimedia artist, illustrator, writer, designer and creative facilitator with extensive experience in learning and development. She is also a published poet with a special interest in interactive, narrative, and hybrid poetry.

Often strange, playful, and nostalgic, her work explores the relation between reality and fiction through self-reflection, memory and narrative. Found, stolen and fabricated artefacts and artifice act as catalysts and become characters. Working with hybrid forms and through multimedia collaborations, she experiments with digital media, collage, traditional print techniques, poetry and storytelling to provoke new conversations and evoke multiple senses.

Her recent projects have included augmented reality (AR), 2D animation, mobile app design, creative coding, interactive poetry, linoprint, and transmedia storytelling.

Katt has a BA (Hons) in Creative Writing and an MA in Digital Media Practice. She is based in Andover, Hampshire.
