Olive View-UCLA Medical Center	Pregnancy and parenting can bring lots of different feelings. There is so much to learn and do during pregnancy, especially a first pregnancy. While it can be a time of joy and celebration, it can also bring challenges. It is common for this to feel stressful or overwhelming. For some, pregnancy may also come with health problems. We provide complete care that focuses on you and all your needs to support you during and after pregnancy. This includes perinatal care and vital support services for pregnant and postpartum patients to help babies be born full term, at a healthy birth weight and thrive in their growth and development. We offer services and supports through each stage of pregnancy, up to one year postpartum. We partner with community-based programs to build a customized neighborhood network of care that puts mothers, caregivers, and their families first.
