Caravans & Motorhome check list

Setting up on Site

Caravan - Position your caravan on the pitch. Apply your caravan handbrake. Lower the jockey wheel and lock it in position. Disconnect the electrical plug(s). Disconnect the breakaway cable or secondary coupling from the car. Pull up the hitch-head lever and use the jockey wheel to raise the caravan hitch from the towball. Drive your towcar away. Replace the cover on your car's towball (if you use one). Chock the caravan wheels if you are on a slope. Adjust the level of your caravan front and rear with the jockey wheel, use a ramp under the wheel(s) if needs levelling. Lower the corner steadies.

Motorhome - When you first arrive on site, ask whether there's a motorhome service point. If there is it is best to fill up with water before you reach your pitch. Once on your pitch, use ramps under the wheels to level your vehicle, if necessary. Consider chocking the wheels, especially with vehicles that require the handbrake to be taken off so the driver's seat can be turned to make a bed. Wind down the corner steadies if you have any.

Connecting the mains power cable to the caravan / motorhome and on to the hook-up point. Turning on the fridge. Collect fresh water or connect. Positioning the waste water collector. Adding toilet fluids. Turn on the gas. Turn on the water heater when you're sure it's full of water

Setting off on your journey home

Turn off the gas at the cylinder. Empty the fresh- and waste-water containers and clean out any toilet cassette in an appropriate place. Check the windows and roof lights are all closed, internal doors and cupboards are closed, loads are safely secured. Check all external hatches and doors are locked including your battery door or storage compartment.

Check handbrake is on – Caravan & Motorhome especially if you have released it to turn the front seats to make up a bed.

Make sure your jockey wheel is lock in place. (caravan) Raise the corner steadies / Remove any chocks, if appropriate. Check the caravan's noseweight. Adjust the hitch height so it goes above the car's towball. Remove the towball cover on the car's towball (if you have a cover). Reverse your car to the caravan. Attach the breakaway cable or secondary coupling. Secure the hitch on the towball. Check the link by using the jockey wheel to raise the car by about an inch or two to make sure it is properly coupled. Stow the jockey wheel and make sure it is locked tightly. Connect the electrical plug(s) and the stabiliser system if it's fitted, making sure the cables will not drag or pull as the car turns. Release the caravan handbrake and remove any chocks.

Check the road lights and indicators are working. Move slowly off and take it easy on exiting.

Winterising your Caravan or Motorhome

- Remove all bedding, cushions and pillows and if you can store them in your home.

- Remove the seats and back cushions and place them end on, in the centre walkway of the caravan/motorhome.

- Open all internal doors and cupboards to give plenty of circulating air.

- Switch off all internal electrical switches, remove plugs and check the fuses. Replace any that have blown.

- If you store your caravan / motorhome away from home remove the leisure battery and store it in a dry place. Whether or not you remove it, recharge the battery every five to six weeks.

- Check that gas appliances and the gas bottle regulators are all turned off. Occasionally during the Winter it is a good idea to heat the caravan / motorhome for an hour or two using the space heater to drive any accumulated damp away. Remember if you use butane it will begin to freeze when temperatures fall below four degrees centigrade, so you will need to use propane instead.

- Road lights are an important and a legal requirement. Remove the external light lenses and clean both the lens (inside and out) and the electrical contacts. Cover the edge of the lens with petroleum jelly before refitting. This should prevent further problems during the winter. Always remember your own personal limitations. Consult a qualified electrician if in doubt or where you find problems that you cannot correct yourself. Check the 12N and 12S leads and plugs. Spray the contacts with a light coating of WD40.

- Having your caravan / motorhome shut up for a long period may generate water molecules in the atmosphere inside. Positioning moisture traps in the main area and washroom will help to absorb these.

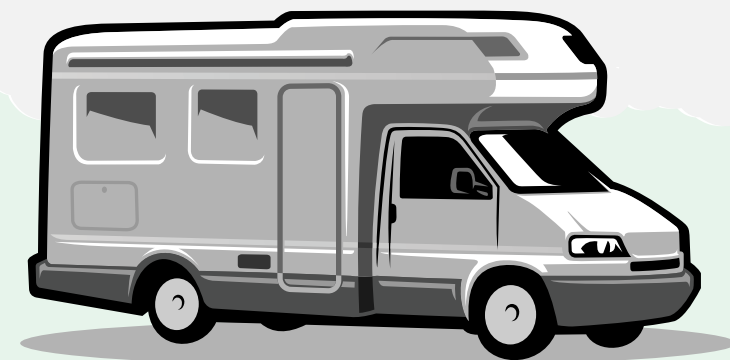

- Remember to empty the traps on a regular basis. Opening doors and windows from time to time will also keep your caravan / motorhome aired.

- Give the kitchen and bathroom a good clean especially around the cooker and inside the fridge. This will prevent mould forming during the Winter months.

- Remove the toilet cassette and thoroughly clean it. Drain and flush any water left in the holding tank. If you have added an agent to the flushing water and you wish to save it, use an old squash bottle but don't forget to remove the label and mark it up as 'Toilet Flushing Water'.

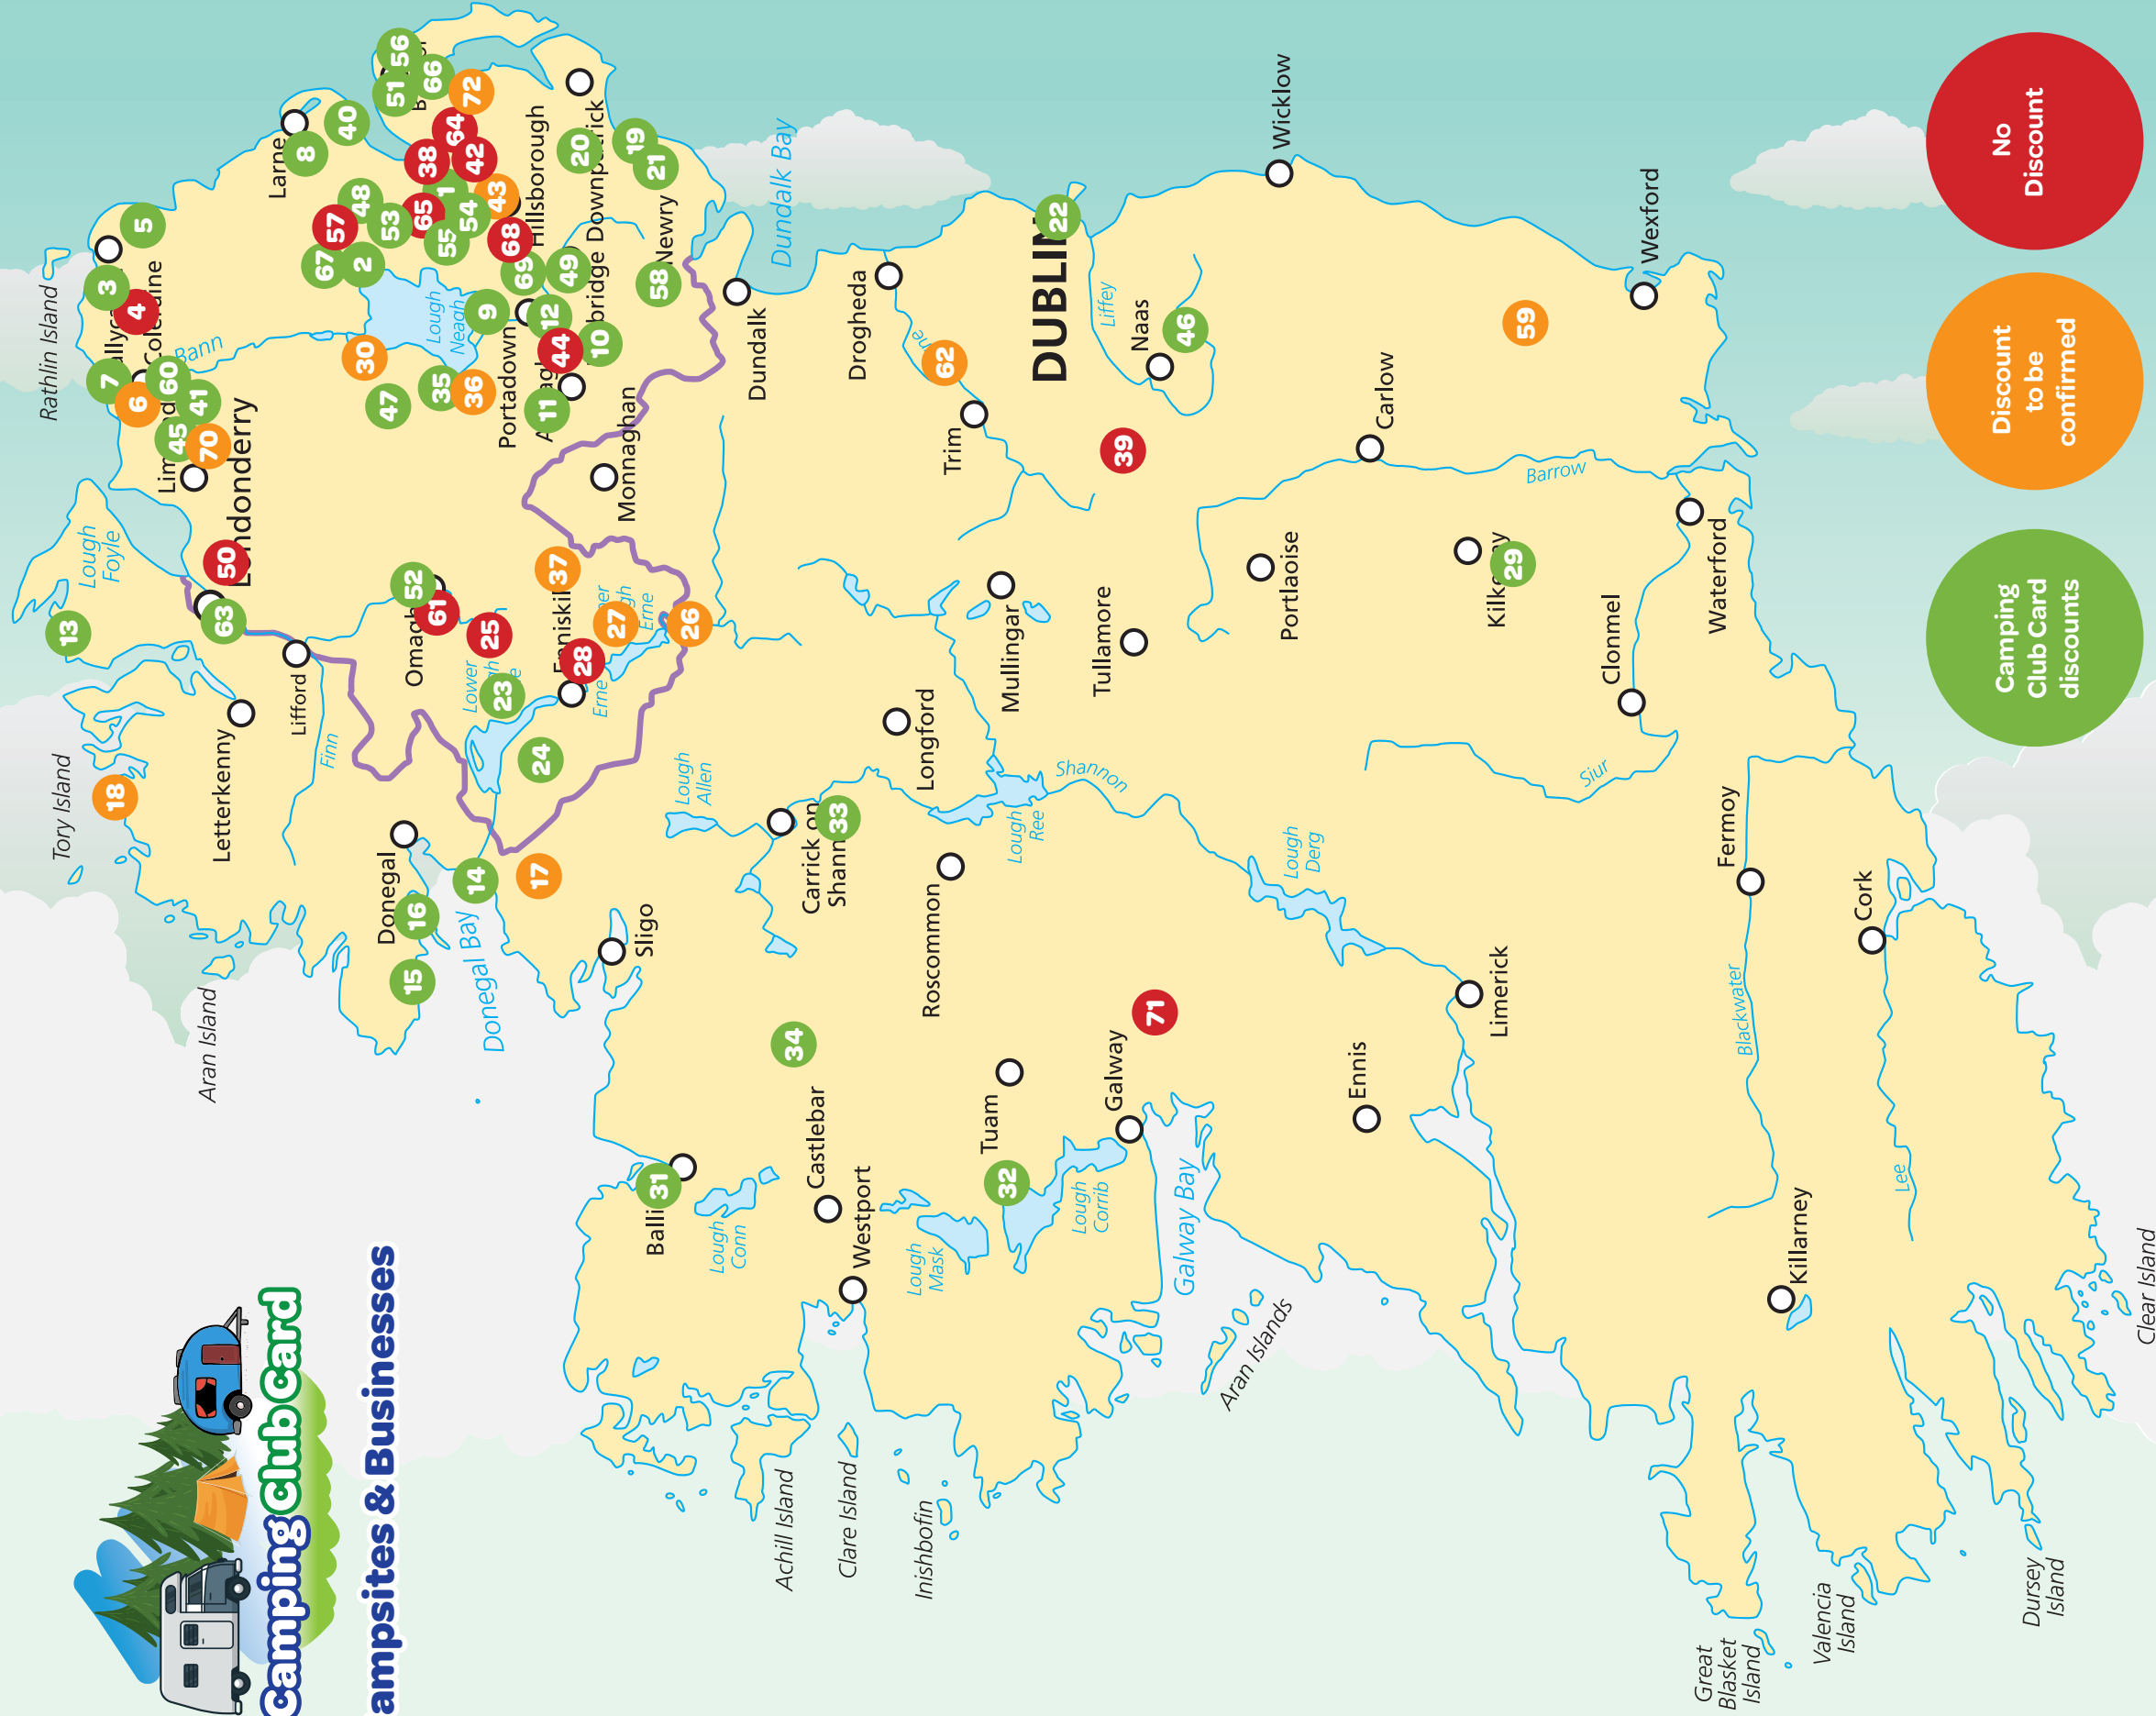

- Lubricate the toilet valve with silicon grease and leave it slightly open to prevent sticking when you next use it.

- Consider having your caravan or motorhome's annual service during the winter. Workshops tend to be less busy. More jobs you do before winter the easier it will be to prepare your caravan / motorhome at the beginning of the next season. Many jobs will need to be carried out in reverse when next using the caravan / motorhome.
