TRIUMPH OF TEC

CLARK AND NEW PUTTER ROLL AT U.S. OPEN

Wyndham Clark led the field with five putts made from 20 feet or longer. Most dramatic was this 25-footer for birdie on 16 Sunday at Shinnecock.

Just four days earlier, Wyndham Clark signed an agreement to play a Scottsdale TEC putter, and there he was on Sunday, beaming with the U.S. Open trophy he won playing a Scottsdale TEC Ally Blue Onset. Since switching to the model in March, Clark has seen his putting stats soar and he's won twice, culminating with his second U.S. Open title.

He has been crediting the new putter with his success on the greens, specifically the ease of alignment with the onset design.

After his performance Sunday, he enthusiastically told a global TV audience: "To make all the putts I did with my PING putter that I love so much has been amazing."

There were a lot of “atta boy” encouragements from fans for a new face near the top of the leaderboard at the U.S. Open — Sam Stevens, shown here during Saturday’s third round. Stevens carded rounds of 68-69-72-72 (+1) to finish T7, his best result in eight major appearances, earning him an exemption to the 2027 U.S. Open. Joaquín Niemann and Tyrrell Hatton likewise were T7 and are invited to Pebble Beach next year.

PROS MAKE WAY TO MAJOR

A big roster of 16 PING staffers and a PING employee are tuning up for a major, the KPMG Women’s PGA Championship that starts Thursday at Hazeltine National Golf Club in Chaska, Minnesota.

Cassie Porter comes in after a T5 Sunday at the Meijer LPGA Classic, her second straight top 10.

A steady presence all season, Hye Jin Choi has four top 10’s, including a runner-up this month. Major winners Allisen Corpuz and Jennifer Kupcho both have two high finishes in their last four events, notably Kupcho’s T8 at the U.S. Women’s Open.

Among the Tour pros competing will be PING employee and PGA Professional Kim Paez (at right). She earned her second trip to the KPMG by winning the LPGA Professionals Championship last July. Paez is the Player Development Manager at PING, recruiting and working with elite amateurs, mainly women. She’s also a teaching professional.
