

1064 MISSION STREET

1064 Mission Street is the largest supportive housing development in the City of San Francisco, with 256 permanent supportive homes for both adults and seniors exiting chronic homelessness. The six-story complex includes two buildings – one building with 103 homes for seniors (age 55+), another with 153 homes serving adults – with various shared facilities and gathering places for residents to enjoy. 1064 Mission Street is located in the heart of SOMA on several major bus lines for easy access to neighborhood amenities.

Co-developed by Mercy Housing California and Episcopal Community Services (ECS), ECS is the long-term owner of the building and provides comprehensive onsite case management services for residents. 1064 Mission Street is also the new home for ECS' CHEFS (Conquering Homelessness through Employment in Food Service), a culinary training program for people experiencing extreme poverty or homelessness and a social enterprise providing meals to those who otherwise may go hungry.

An adjacent Homeless Services Center operated by the Department of Public Health and the Department of Homelessness and Supportive Housing provides services to the broader community, including the relocated Maria X Martinez Resource Center, Street Medicine Team as well as the administrative offices of the Department of Homelessness and Supportive Housing's Homeless Outreach Team.
