

Scott and Melany

BEN GOODMAN

Just as an overarching word or phrase over you. The lord says you are and always shall be a couple of faith. That you when you see the challenges of god you will not draw back you will not shrink back. You will always be people of faith. There is a very gentle, innocent, passionate desire to please the lord. And we all know from scripture from Hebrew that if we shrink back it wouldn't please the lord. So the lord says I put a banner of faith over you. You won't have to strive, you won't have to prove yourself, you won't shrink back from the challenges and the stretching that god is putting in front of you and will continue to put in front of you. Every step you take shall be a step of faith it won't always be arduous and painful but there will always be faith involved. Brother scripture says that we won't always walk by faith but there is a bit of a runner in you. I believe you are called to be a long distance kind of guy. You are a person who knows how to pace himself and knows how to run a race and who won't burn himself out but won't lag behind the pack so that he can't win the race. Brother there really is a dangerous (in a good way) kind of competitor in you. It's important to win it's important to win not only according to the rules but it's important to win well. So gods put in you the heart and mind of a long distance runner. I believe as your family develops that you will see it generationally. What you do now will have significance because your going to see it as affecting the long term race not only of you or your family but of future generations. Brother there's just a vision in you that god's going to start tapping and stirring up that what you do now is going to matter for generations to come. You are built you are designed to run and actually get to the end and not poop out at the end. There is a finisher in you and god wants to say I'm going to start giving you even more little tasks in there and you'll be able to finish these things. Not just run up to the line and go well I've come this far. Your going to be able to break the tape time and time and time again. I'll get back to you.

Sister there is a well spring of faith. Not just in your own life. You've talked to other people you've seen other people. You've experienced other circumstances you've seen other person's circumstances and you can walk right into it and see how things really are yet also see what god is doing and be able to focus on that. That really is faith to be able to see what god is doing in the midst of very difficult circumstances. Your not always trying to be happy. Your not always trying to be giddy. And just all "praise the lord everything is great!" You have a way of facing reality, facing troubles, facing difficulties, and facing weaknesses and going "well this is tough, God how do you want to show off here?" So, you are a walking talking example of that scripture that says where I am weak he is strong. So god says these are days that you will start having opportunities to share that. I believe that there is going to be an opening up of your home. An opening up of your lives. Gods going to be giving increasing sheparding capacity to you. Increased sheparding abilities and opportunities to you. To mentor and to teach but encourage and to impart. I really believe that how you guys live, it's hard to put in to words, but if people are around you long enough it will rub off. So god says don't pull back from the call of the sheparding, this process of development. Your going to have your own unique way. Sister, you find humor in the strangest places. And if there is nothing funny going on you will figure out a way to make something funny. You would be really good at funerals. There is something about you. You can come into the presence of death and depression and even religiosity, and be able to speak words of life and happiness and joy and that will break the thing. You really are a bright light, even a funny light a hysterical light. You have no problems poking fun at yourself but you actually have more fun poking fun at other people. You are an expert at it. There's like a mastermind of mischief in you. A mastermind of mischief where you know how to set people up so that they don't take themselves that seriously. Isn't that an encouragement for you brother. Really the joy of the lord has been your strength and your so generous that you don't want to keep it to yourself. So, this is not a small thing, this is a big thing. There are more people who are focused on their belly button than they are on the lord Jesus Christ. And your going to be able to get people off that self introspection and on the lord and they'll experience the joy of the lord. So, sister, your not just the funny one who brings life to the party. It's almost like a spiritual gift. Where you can just bring joy and laughter and break the mundane so people can move on with god.

Brother there is a warrior in you that is in the process of being tapped. God is going to start bringing you into a closer relationship with other brothers to show you how to fight god's way for the things that god has for you. Not earning it but to be able to go "this is what god has, these are the promises, here's how I can access god, here's how I can pray, here's how I can bleed. God's going to start teaching you how to fight. He's going to start giving you weapons of warfare that you know not yet. But you will become familiar with them and you will be a master with them. You will be able to understand what it is to walk by faith. And you will proclaim that which god said as a way to trump what the enemy or man has said. These are days where your going to be able to really understand that heartfelt, heart connected, relationships between men. There's great strength in this. But I see god linking your heart and your life with some other men. No so you can say "I'm doing the men unity thing." I really believe this is a time to get locked in in a deeper way no so you can become a better guy but so you can understand there is increased strength in numbers. God's brining you into a place of better teamwork, a sense of fellowship and belonging. God says this is a time together to look at your schedule and pray over your schedule. God says I am going to give you wisdom on how to rearrange your schedule and how to prepare for the things that I have for you. There are going to be some good things that are not god things. There are going to be some distractions. Even some escapes that you have that god's going to say "let's just change this around, and I want to rearrange your schedule so that not only are you going to be able to spend more time together but to be able to do more things together in a focused way together." God does not want you to be going on separate but parallel tracks but this will be a time of even greater unity. Don't worry your individuality will never be sacrificed. You will always be unique as you walk it out together. But this is a season where god says "Try me in this. Come together and look at the schedule. Pray over it and see what adjustments I might give you. And see how exercising authority over your schedule will bring greater freedom in your walking days with god."

Brother, I sense that there is an uncertainty hanging over your head. It's as though your at a crossroads in many areas of your life and this uncertainty is almost nagging at you. I think you're a little uncertain even about this whole procedure tonight. I think that if you sent your wife and stayed at home and listened to the tape you probably would have been delighted. The thought of having to sit up here with people listening and then what might they say. And there are things in your heart you're afraid that God would say in public. I want to tell you that God says that as far as the east is from the west He's removed anything and everything from your past. And that God is not here to embarrass you, He is not here to make you feel uncomfortable, but God is here to give you a sense of His love for you. I believe God wants you to know that the word son is a good word for you to have because He wants you to know that He's your dad. And that there is a dad space in your life. A space where you lack affirmation. Where for a long time nobody ever said good job, well done. Nobody ever patted you on the back but everybody always made a mark on you to see if you made a passing grade. And you've had a struggle with people's opinions of whether or not you've met the goal or made the grade. And God wants to break that whole thing over your life. He wants to say He is your dearly beloved dad. And He says that you are His dearly beloved son. And that you can rest in that. You got so many questions. You've got questions about the natural, questions about the supernatural. You wondered about this whole thing tonight. Is this really phony do they have it all written on their shirt sleeves or something? You've got a lot of questions that you've asked and it's ok because that's not Sinicism. In your case it's just hunger to know. And God says He saw you even when you were young. And when you felt rejected and dejected. And when you felt that you didn't fit. And somehow you didn't feel like you were like everybody else. God says listen I saw you, knew you, and I had my hand on you and I will not let go of you. It's a treasure in you that God wants to bring out. You're a thinker. You're somebody who likes strategy. You strategy more than you like energy. You're not a terribly energetic person. You don't want to run for 350 miles everyday before breakfast. You would rather devise a way for somebody else to do it. Because you plan things out differently to other people. A lot of the time you've been a spectator. You've been a spectator in church. You've been a spectator in other places. Even in the work place. You've been a spectator, you've watched other people succeed. You've watched other people do things. I believe God says to you tonight come out from the shadows. Stop hiding and trying to disqualify yourself. When God says He's qualified you. You've got some good Bible roots. You've got some good foundation in you. Some of that foundation made you have a struggle with the supernatural. Because it ruled out the present supernatural power of God. But God says He wants to work in you with the supernatural. And through you for the supernatural. God says you are not an eternal spectator. He's called you to be a participator in the grace of God.

Sister you're a fighter. You'll fight anything or anybody. You don't care how big they are you will fight them. You're a Divida. A female David. You're one of those people who chooses their battles but you have lots. You've been fighting since you can ever remember. From the time you were a little kid you've had to fight. And you don't mind taking on anybody. It's kind of hard for your husband because he's not much of a fighter. So, it's no contest for you. It's no fun fighting with him because he doesn't fight back. You have this fighter in you. You are looking for a Jericho for the walls to fall down. You are always looking to see to take advantage. You have a great ability to sell things. You could sell people things they didn't want. You could get a lot of money from them from doing it. There is just a persuasiveness about you. You persuade people to do things and to go places. In some sense I think that you persuaded this guy to come to church. This guy sitting here next to you. He probably would never have come here without you persuading him. This persuasiveness that you have god wants to use it. There is an evangelistic call on you. You have a real ability to bring people who don't want to come and hear what they need to hear. There is a spiritual warrior in you. God says that he sees a gift of faith when you came up here. The bible says fight the good fight of faith. You've got the fight bit but now you also have the faith bit. Both bits together. God's going to give you projects to fight for and people to fight for and people to believe god for. You have a very unique group of friends. The friends that you have people in this church don't even know. But you got friends that are really different. There not like River City people. God says that you are going to see a domino effect taking place amongst these friends. It's as though your going to knock them down one at a time. And then there is going to be a whole group of them coming into the kingdom of god. There's been a passion in you because when you found Jesus something went bang in your life. Some people find Jesus and smile and nod, you exploded. You are an explosion on the spiritual scene. And god says he is going to call you to gather people. There is a gathering ability in you. Your husband is going to do what he likes to do. Which is to sit and watch. But only for a season. Because suddenly your going to have so many spiritual babies around your going to pass him the diapers and say here you do some. Brother, your going to get activated whether you like it or not. So you may as well cooperate. Sister, god says to you he wants you to know that even the people who criticize you, and you've had criticism. Criticism has even come at you from members of your family. Even people who said they were Christians. And they criticized you. They criticized you for marrying this guy, criticized for coming to this church. I want you to know that it's alright Jesus was criticized too. And he says that there is an identification that you can have. God wants to heal you of the wounds that you received. Inwardly in the house of your friends. God comes to you today and he says he heals you and he sets you up for a new sense of usefulness and value. Never ever listen to the lying voices. Always listen to the voice of the holy spirit. Fight the good fight of faith.

BEN GOODMAN

There is this man Ananias who was sent by god to this guy Sol who became Paul. Scripture says that Ananias prophesied and said that you are going to be used by god. He even ministered supernaturally. With all that vision that was imparted to Sol if he didn't receive the power to experience that vision all he would have had was vision. What Ananias did was he not only brought healing but he also brought the infilling of the holy spirit to a man who had just gotten saved. What god wants to do for you is to give you power now to start walking out what he has talked to you about. Scripture says be filled with the holy spirit be increasingly filled with the holy spirit. God is here right now to fill you up again. Are you ready for it. Stand up and we will lay hands on you so you can get filled or you can sit and get filled but it's more fun. There is more of you to fill. In Luke chapter 11 Jesus said you who are evil know how to give good gifts to your children. If they ask for something good you will not give them something bad. How much more will the holy spirit give to those who ask. Ask god to fill you with the holy spirit. Just ask him then he will fill you.

Where the spirit of the lord is there is freedom. Lord we ask you to fill there tank with your spirit.

You are looking at builders. The name god gave me was Niamiah. Niamiah was an encourager of the body to build. Scott and Melany love to build. Lord we thank you for this couple and the encouragement that they have been to so many of us. Thank you god for what lies ahead. We pray that the word that has been spoken would be good seed that would go into their hearts and produce good fruit in the days ahead. Thank you for new feeling, new confidence, new boldness to accomplish those things that you have placed in their hearts to do. We rejoice for the building that we will see in the days ahead.
